RYAN TO EQUALIZE.

Will Sell His Stock to Equitable.

New Directors Accept Office on Understanding That This be Done.

New Policies for Agents. Executive Committee Meets. Jerome's Plans.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] From a director of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, it was learned this afternoon that Thomas F. Ryan, who recently purchased the stock holdings of James H. Hyde, has made an agreement with three trustees of the Ryan holdings and the newly-elected directors to sell the stock he purchased back to the Equitable society.

As soon as possible, it is stated, Ryan has agreed to turn it in to the society, thus thoroughly mutualizing it, for the same sum he paid for it, $2,500,000, plus 4 per cent. interest between the dates of his purchase and the sale. A number of newly chosen directors, those selected by Trustees Cleveland, Judge Morgan, J. O'Brien and George Westinghouse, accepted posts in the directorate only after they had been assured most emphatically that such arrangement was in view, and that such agreement existed between Ryan and the three trustees.

Through this agreement, Ryan must return to the Equitable society all of the Hyde holdings, a majority of the stock of the concern, which he purchased, and permit the title to the same to pass into the corporation and through that to the policy holders. this, it was pointed out, will more thoroughly and more speedily mutualize the society than any other procedure.

At a meeting of the agents of the Equitable this afternoon, it was learned that the new policies intended for the agents to handle are being drawn up. Under these new policies, the percentage to agents is to be increased above 50 per cent. of the first year's premium and 5 per cent. for the fourteen renewals which they now receive.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—There was a meeting of the Executive Committee of the society today, but at its conclusion Chairman Morton said there was no business of moment transacted.

JEROME GETS TESTIMONY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—An official copy of the testimony taken by Superintendent of Insurance Hendricks in his inquiry into the affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, which District-Attorney Jerome made several unsuccessful attempts to procure last week, was received at the District-Attorney's office today. Jerome has announced that he will make a careful examination of the testimony and, if conditions seem to warrant it, criminal action will be begun.

ALEXANDER'S SECRECY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—James W. Alexander, former president of the Equitable Life Assurance Company, is in a critical condition at Unkawy Sanitarium, within three miles of the Oaks, the summer home of James Hyde. The patient is rarely conscious of his surroundings, and requires constant attention. Secrecy of an extraordinary nature has been observed by his immediate family. So strict has been the observance of this secrecy, that even James H. Hyde was unaware of the close proximity of his former associate and chief.

THE PRESIDENT'S DAY.

OYSTER BAY (L. I.) July 17.—The President devoted himself practically exclusively today to the transaction of the executive business forwarded to him from Washington, and to recreation.

ELEVATOR DROPS, THREE HURT.

PHILADELPHIA, July 17.—Dist.-Atty. John C. Bell, Assistant City Solicitor Harry T. Kingston and William T. Born of Collingswood, N. J., were seriously injured today by the fall of an elevator in the Land Title building, the highest building in the city. Bell sustained a compound fracture of a leg. Kingston suffered both legs fractured and Born was injured about the body and received lacerations of the scalp. The elevator operator, the only other occupant of the car, escaped with slight injuries. The elevator dropped from the sixth floor to the basement. The cause of the accident is unknown.

CORTELYOU AFTER FAKERS.

Gives Inspectors Most Drastic and Sweeping Authority to Root Out Fraudulent Concerns.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, July 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As a result of the Mexican Ubero rubber swindles, recently exposed, Postmaster-Gen. Cortelyou has sent to postoffice inspectors all over the country, a secret order, the most drastic and sweeping ever issued by the United States or any other government regarding the use of the mails.

On complaint of any stockholder or on their own initiative, where suspicion is aroused, inspectors are to require from any company paying dividends a statement showing that the dividends are actually earned and are not paid out of the capital. On failure to make a satisfactory showing, the company thus questioned is to be reported for the issuance of a fraud order excluding it from the use of the mails. Particular attention will be given concerns paying dividends and at the same time selling stock.

This order will add a large crop to the 2270 fraud orders already issued by the department since the law authorizing them was passed. It will also apply to publications carrying advertisements of these concerns.

BLACKS JEERED THE POLICE.

RACE RIOT RESUMED AT NEW YORK AFTER MIDNIGHT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, July 18.—Rioting between whites and blacks was resumed after midnight, this morning, in the San Juan Hill district on Sixty-first and Sixty-second streets, between Amsterdam and West End avenues. Many shots were fired, and twenty negroes and one white woman were arrested. Policeman David Roche suffered a fractured skull. Police reserves were called out.

The trouble started when four policemen, passing a saloon in West Sixty-second street, were jeered by a crowd of negroes, who were on the stoop. The policemen turned, and just then one of the men threw a brick which struck Roche on the head, knocking him senseless. The other three charged with their night sticks, and were met by a fusillade of bricks. Other policemen arrived, and a dash was made into the saloon, in which more than twenty negroes were found. The negroes opened fire with revolvers, and their fire was returned by the policemen. The crowd fled, and were pursued to various houses in the block.

The police captured Arthur Moody, who is said to have thrown the brick at Roche; George Foster, proprietor of the saloon, and eleven other colored men.

The riot spread to Sixty-first street, where a fight started among the negroes in a saloon, and when the police entered, shots were fired at them. After a long struggle, the police succeeded in arresting four men and three women. By that time, Capt. Cooney had arrived with all of the reserves, and after the last colored man was driven to the street, the riot seemed to be at an end for the time being.

Three of the prisoners were found to have been shot, but none fatally so.

Japan Also Wants Vladivostok Before the Negotiations Begin.

Witte Says that Russia Will Not Make Peace at Any Price and Doubts that Mikado's Terms Will be Moderate, in Which Event Czar Will Elect to Continue the Struggle—Europe May Help Out the Muscovites.

BERLIN, July 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The landing of Japanese troops on Sakhalin is considered a hindrance to peace. It is declared here that Japan also desires to cut off Vladivostok before opening the peace meeting.

ORGANIZING GOVERNMENT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, July 18.—The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Hakodate, Japan, says that the Japanese have practically completed the occupation of the Island of Sakhalin and are organizing a government.

The Shanghai correspondent of the Standard says that the Japanese have landed on Sakhalin 3000 coolies.

BOMBARDING ON SOUTHEAST.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 17.—Gen. Linevitch, under date of July 16, reports that the Japanese were bombarding Naimbuchi, on the southeast coast of the Island of Sakhalin.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 17.—Count Witte, the senior Russian peace plenipotentiary, received the correspondent of the Associated Press at his villa on Ylagin Island today.

In according the interview he said he expressly desired it stated that he had declined all previous requests of journalists for interviews and would decline all future requests of the character. He authorized the statement that he made an exception in the case of the Associated Pess, as it was the representative of the press of the United States, and he was about to become the temporary guest of the United States, and as a mark of the sympathy he felt toward that great country. Count Witte spoke in French. After greetings, which were cordial, the conversation graviated quickly to the high mission with which the Russan statesman is charged and the disposition of the foreign press to interpet his appointment as an indication that Russia had decided to make peace at any price.

"No, no," said he straightening up in his chair and speaking slowly and distinctly, as if weighing the value of each word. "In the first place, I have been designated by the Emperor as his ambassador extraordinary for pourparlers with the Japanese plenipotentiaries to ascertain whether it is possible to conclude a treaty of peace. My personal vews are of secondary importance, but my ideas are in entire accord with those of my friend, Count Lamsdorff.

"I have received express instructions from His Majesty and shall follow them. The ultimate decision remains in the hands of the Emperor, and it is for him to decide the destinies of Russia.

FEARS HARSH TERMS.

"The Emperor is the friend of peace and desires peace, but I very much fear that the Japanese terms will be such that we will be unable to reach an accord.

"Secondly, the world should disabuse its mind of the idea that Russia wants peace at any price. There are two parties in Russia. One of them favors the continuance of the war a outrance—this is a large and influential party. The other, to which I belong, favors peace. I avow it frankly, because telling the truth has always been my rule in politics. It was before the war began.

"Even though there are those two parties, both would be united if the Japanese demands wounded the amour propre of the Russian people or jeopardized our future as a nation.

"I am sure if I report that the conditions of Japan cannot be accepted, Russia will accept the verdict and the Russian people will be ready to continue the war for years, if necessary.

"Thirdly, Russia is not crushed, as the foreign press has led the world to believe. The interior situation is very serious, I do not deny, but in Europe and America, the true significance of what is happening is not understood. Correspondents come here and talk with a few people in St. Petersburg and Moscow, misinterpret what is happening and fill the world with false impressions as to Russia's future.

RUSSIA'S TRUE SITUATION.

"Russia has little resemblance to Western countries. To know Russia, to understand the soul of the Russian people, it is necessary that one should have been born here or lived many years in Russia. The customs and history of the people are entirely different from those of western nations and Russia cannot be judged by west-

WHEN THE HERO'S BONES COME HOME.

Arrangements for the Obsequies of Admiral John Paul Jones—Funeral Fleet Will be Met by a Squadron and Visiting French Cruiser.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The arrangements for the obsequies of Admiral John Paul Jones, when the body shall be brought to Annapolis from France, were made by the officials of the Naval Academy today. The exact date for the funeral service is not fixed. It is thought, however, that Admiral Sigsbee's squadron of warships, which was detailed to convey the remains to this country, will arrive at the Roads the latter part of the week, probably Saturday. The date of the funeral will depend upon the day the squadron reaches the capes of Chesapeake Bay. Annapolis harbor will then present an unusual spectacle, for the fleet will be the most formidable ever assembled in the upper Chesapeake.

When the funeral fleet arrives at the Capes, it will be met by a squadron of eight battleships and four of the largest armored cruisers of the navy, in addition to the French cruiser Jurien de la Garvierex, now visiting Baltimore. The battleship squadron will be that of Rear-Admiral Evans of the North Atlantic fleet, the Maine, Missouri, Iowa, Illinois, Massachusetts, Kearsarge, Alabama and Kentucky. The armored cruisers will be in command of Rear-Admiral Willard H. Brownson. The battleships and cruisers and French cruiser will assemble at the Capes, and upon the arrival of Admiral Sigsbee's fleet, proceed up the bay to Annapolis as an escort.

The fleets will anchor, and the body of the Admiral will be transported from the Brooklyn to the academy and placed in the vault. As the body is brought to the shore, the batteries will fire the vice-admiral's salute of seventeen guns. The ceremony of placing the body in the vault will be marked by the firing of three volleys by a squad of marines, and "taps." The vault will then be hermetically sealed and will remain so until the large crypt in the basement of the new chapel, which will be the final resting-place of the bones of the great naval hero, is completed.

SIGSBEE SIGNALS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PLYMOUTH, July 17.—The North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm II from New York arrived here today and reported passing in lat. 44 degs. 27 min. north and long. 37 degs. 12 min. west the American squadron commanded by Rear-Admiral Sigsbee, which is conveying the body of Admiral Paul Jones from France to the United States. Admiral Sigsbee reported all well on board the American warships, adding, "Will be off Chesapeake Cape July 22."

Boston Physician Arrested at Kingston, Jamaica, and is Held in Two Thousand Dollars Bail.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

KINGSTON (Jamaica) July 17—[By West Indian Cable.] Dr. Franklin Clark was arrested here today for breach of the official secret service act. Some days ago Dr. Clark was discovered taking photographs of the forts protecting Port Royal and Kingston. The police found the pictures on him. The prisoner, who is a graduate of Harvard, has been a resident here four months. Before the court a local lawyer, on the prisoner's behalf, pointed out that Dr. Clark's action was without significance. He was held in $2000 bail.

RODE LIKE WIND TO SAVE MINERS.

Explosion in Wyoming Gold Mine Injures Four Workmen and Kills Three and Those Hurt Would Have Died but for Timely Arrival of Medical Skill.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MEETEETSE, (Wyo.) July 17.—In order to render all aid in his power to save the lives of four men injured in an explosion at the Kirwin gold mine, near here, in which three other men were killed, Dr. Richards of Thermopolis, ode 100 miles over the mountains at breakneck speed, arriving in time today to accomplish the purpose for which the furious ride was made. The explosion was caused by miners drilling into a missed shot. The three men killed are:

M. A. CHUBB, shift boss.
WILLIAM GROSS.
JAMES MILLER, miners.

Four others were seriously injured.

When the explosion came, there was no doctor within call nearer than Thermopolis, 100 miles to the southeast, but Dr. Richards at that place responded over the telephone that he would ride to the best of his ability. He made the mountainous distance in a little less than eleven hours. Four relays were used by him in making the trip, ranchmen along the route supplying him with horses.

MADE FISHES DRUNK.

Devout Quaker Purchases Property of an Insolent Winery and Pours Out Rare Vintages.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MORRISTOWN (Pa.) July 17.—Over one hundred barrels of wine were emptied into the Schuylkill River here today, and already fish stories of the wildest description are being told by anglers from down the river.

The cause of the costly flooding of the river was the sale of the real estate of the Florida Wine Company here to Ellwood Roberts, a devout Quaker. The wine company had failed, and when Roberts bought its property, he found in its warehouse treasures of rare vintage. True to his creed, he declared this liquor must at once be poured out, and his order was obeyed. Connection was made with the sewer near the warehouse, and the wine from over one hundred barrels was dumped in.

VENEZUELANS SURPRISED.

Appointment of Judge Calhoun to Investigate American Claims Causes Much Talk in Caracas.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CARACAS, July 17.—[By South American Cable.] Venezuelans were very much surprised on receiving the news that President Roosevelt had appointed Judge Calhoun a special commissioner to Venezuela to investigate the claims of America.

The Constitutional, the government organ, says: "If the claims of Americans or others existed they would have been already heard before competent authorities. It may be that the President requires information regarding the case of the New York and Bermudez Asphalt Company, which is still pending. All other cases have been decided by mixed commissions, in conformity with the Washington protocols."

MAYOR ON WARPATH

Root Tells Weaver to Prosecute.

Persons Prominent in Philadelphia's Municipal Affairs Defendants.

Councilman Caven Accused of Violating Oath, Ex-Chief Hill of Falsifying.

District Attorney Refused to Take Initiative About Bringing Action.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PHILADELPHIA, July 17.—As a result of advices received from Elihu Root, special counsel for Mayor Weaver, it is probable that the Mayor will initiate criminal prosecution against certain persons who are prominent in municipal affairs. Mr. Root advises the Mayor that, in face of the refusal of the District-Attorney, J. C. Bell, to take the initiative in bringing further prosecutions, the Mayor should exercise his right to go before a magistrate and carry the prosecutions as far as the law will permit him.

This opinion was sent to the Mayor today, and was the result of a conference held in New York last Friday. Those who participated in the conference were former United States Attorney-Gen. Wayne MacVeagh, who is special counsel for the Committee of Nine of this city; former Judge Gordon, private counsel for Mayor Weaver; Julian T. Davies and Joseph S. Auerbach of counsel for the Committee of Seventy.

The purpose of the conference was to decide whether the Mayor should take the initiative in further prosecutions, the District-Attorney having refused to do so. Mayor Weaver and Judge Gordon last week requested that the District-Attorney, in drawing up indictments against Councilmen Caven and Hill, should bring the charge of conspiracy with certain other persons to defraud the city. Caven is under bail for violating his Councilmanic oath in being interested in city contracts, and former Chief Hill is under bonds to answer charges of forgery and falsification of records in connection with the construction of the city's filtration plants.

At the hearing given both men before the magistrate, the name of the contracting firm of D. J. Nichol & Co., which is constructing the greater part of the filtration system, was frequently brought in by witnesses. The members of the firm are former Insurance Commissioner Israel W. Durham, the leader of the local Republican organization; State Senator J. P. McNichol, and his brother, Daniel J. McNichol.

The District-Attorney, in refusing to add the charge of conspiracy to the indictment drawn up against Caven and Hill and to initiate criminal proceedings against "certain other persons," said that such charges based on the evidence taken at the Caven and Hill hearings could not under the law be made. He suggested that the Mayor take the initiative. Mayor Weaver and Judge Gordon insisted that it was the District-Attorney's duty to begin prosecutions. Bell persisted in his refusal, and the New York conference followed.

Mr. Root's opinion of the question was sent in a letter to Mayor Weaver today. It is as follows:

NEW YORK, July 15, 1905.—My Dear Mr. Mayor: I have discussed very fully with Mr. MacVeagh, Judge Gordon, Mr. Davis and Mr. Auerbach the facts bearing upon the determination of your present duty in regard to further criminal prosecution of the frauds against the city of Philadelphia, clearly indicated by the testimony already taken and by the further evidence which your counsel have collected.

It appears by the correspondence between Judge Gordon and District Attorney Bell that you have caused the evidence of grade crimes by a number of powerful and important persons in the city of Philadelphia to be laid before the District Attorney, and that he has been requested to proceed with proper prosecutions for such crimes either before the grand jury, or before a committing magistrate, and that he has practically declined to do either, suggesting that you should proceed before a magistrate as a private prosecutor.

The reasons which led the prosecuting officer to take this course I shall not discuss. The resulting fact alone is important for political consideration.

It is your duty as Mayor to firmly see that the laws are enforced, and when you find that they are being set at naught by criminal combinations, it is your duty to bring the facts to the knowledge of the officer who is elected by the people to prosecute the crime. It then becomes his duty to prosecute and notice yours.

I think you have done what the law requires of you in this instance, and that if the prosecutions so clearly indicated by the evidence in your publication and in the possession of the prosecuting officer fail for want of a further action, no one can justly say that is through any failure of duty on your part. I do not think, however, that this settles the question as to your future action. Although the law does not require you to prosecute, it permits you to do so, up to the point where the return of the committing magistrate goes into the hands of the District Attorney.

I think, in default of the action which ought to be taken by the public prosecutor, that you should nevertheless exercise your right to go before a magistrate and carry these prosecutions as far as the law permits you to.

In doing this, you should, I think, invite the aid and coöperation of the District Attorney, giving him every possible opportunity to take the prosecutions and to perform the duty for which he was elected.

Crimes committed by men who have political power are often sheltered behind official indifference and inactivity, and when someone has to do more than his duty to secure justice and you will not be the first public officer who has done a great public service against the resistance of those from whom the service ought to come. There is more at stake here than the mere punishment of isolated offenses. There is the question whether your city shall continue to be governed by criminals, or shall take its place on the list of American cities capable of honest self-government. To secure the right solution of this question you cannot omit any proper and lawful effort. When you have carried the prosecutions through the hands of the committing magistrate, you will have done everything within your power, and if the prosecutions then fall after coming within the exclusive power of the District Attorney and the Augean stables remain uncleaned, the people of this city cannot doubt who is responsible for failure.

It is with very great regret that I find myself unable to proceed futher with you in these cases. The assumption of other official duties of which you are aware, will prevent me. I have taken very great interest in the cases because I have acquired absolute fidence in the cincerity of your purpose and in your pluck, and I have a strong desire that the city of Philadelphia, whose history and good name are so dear to every American, shall be relieved from the stain which a corrupt and criminal combination masquerading under the name of Republicans have put upon her.

I wish you godspeed in your further efforts.

Very sincely yours,

[Signed] ELIHU ROOT.

In the midst of the controversy between Dist-Atty. Bell and the Mayor's counsel, Bell today sustained a broken leg through the falling of an elevator in an office building. Whether this accident will delay the trials of Caven and Hill is not known.

HOOKER CASE SENSATION.

ALBANY ASSEMBLY DECIDES ITS PROCEEDINGS EXCESSIVE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ALBANY (N. Y.) July 17.—The Assembly tonight spent nearly the whole evening coming to the conclusions that its proceedings in reference to the allegations in the New York Press of a "big lobby," "hoodle," and improper political influences in the Hooker case, have thus far been in excess of the joint session. The final decision was that the case of Editor Wardman and his assistants on the New York Press must begin all over again, under at least a new form of subpoena.

Interest centered in the report that the legislative leaders would attempt the punishment of Editor Wardman for his refusal to answer questions for the expression of his belief that improper influences were at work in behalf of Justice Hooker. No such attempt was made, for the very jurisdiction of the session was challenged at the outset by Managing Editor John A. Hennessy of the Press in his refusal to obey a subpoena, and the whole matter went over for at least another day.

In defying the Legislature, which he did by letter, Hennessy said he declined to obey the subpoena on the ground that the extraordinary session had no power to inquire into any matter except that designated by the Governor, the Hooker case. Hennessy will now be subpoenaed under the form provided for in the special rules of the special session, which subpoena will definitely require him to give testimony relative to the Hooker case.

"OPEN DOOR" FOR BOYS.

Secretary of Treasury Shaw Pleads for Future Rulers of Nation at Y.M.C.A. Dedication.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, July 17.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Lake Geneva, Wis., says: "Leslie M. Shaw, Secretary of the Treasury, Sunday delivered the dedicatory address at the new $50,000 Y. M. C. A. building here. Mr. Shaw's remarks were directed to and for the benefit of the American boy. He said that there were few in which places the boy was wanted. He was always in the way.

"Boys are shoved out and there are few open doors for them," said Mr. Shaw. "It was to provide an open door for the boys, where they would be surrounded by good influences and be directed in paths of rectitude and virtue, that this building had been provided. So, by means of right teaching and uplifting environment, the boy will be able to become a good, upright, honest and influential citizen of the country.

"I am often asked what a boy should do and my answer is to do anything but be sure and do that thing better than it is now being done. That is the one great secret of success in this life."

Maximum Figures Equaled, Scorching Unrivaled.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 17.—The Weather Bureau tonight announce that there was no prospect, for several days at least, for a let-up of the extreme heat which has extended over the country for the last few days. The entire country from the Mississippi Valley eastward to Southern New England and the Florida coast is in the midst of a well-marked midsummer hot spell. The maximum temperatures today were as follows: Philadelphia, 96; Chicago, 94; Cincinnati, 94; New York, 94; Detroit, 94; Washington, 93; St. Louis, 97; Pittsburgh, 92, and Boston, 90.

NEW YORK, July 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Never, in all the weather records that New York has kept, extending back thirty-three years, was there such a stifling, scorching day as yesterday. In point of duration, the heat was the worst the city has ever known. Its maximum official mark, 95 deg., was equaled only once, in 1896. The temperature in the shade at Broadway and Thirty-fourth street at 2 o'clock in the afternoon reached the amazing figure of 104 deg.

The night was suffocating. With it came no breeze that gave relief; it brought scarcely a perceptible fall of the mercury. Down on the street level at Forty-second street and Fifth avenue, which might be called the heart of the city, it was 91 deg. at 9:30 o'clock last night.

Naturally the torrid weather of yesterday killed, but the death list was not so large as it will be today. It was in the long roster of people stricken down in the street, but to whom life clung, that the sun got in its most disastrous work.

No relief is promised today; it is even feared that it may be hotter. If so, the casualty record will roll up heavily.

It was an awful night in the East Side tenements. Little babies gasped for breath; thousands upon thousands of dwellers went to the roofs to try to sleep under the dead sky, but found little relief even there.

In the gruelling, blistering heat, a number of people died, several were driven insane and scores were prostrated. Unlike the previous hot days this summer, there were no showers during the day or after nightfall to cool the pavements or walls of the buildings in the great tenement districts, consequently there was probably more suffering from the heat than ever before in the history of Greater New York.

At every hospital in Manhattan and Brooklyn, two crews were kept constantly on duty with each ambulance. Only the lack of humidity kept the deaths down to eight and the prostrations to thirty-three. Horses dropped by the scores. Millions look forward to today with dread.

DRIVERS' HELPERS STRIKE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK July 17.—A number of drivers' helpers employed by the American Ice Company went on a strike tonight, and it is expected that the entire force of nearly 1000 men will decline to go out with the wagons tomorrow morning. They are paid $1.50 a day, and claim that during the heated spell they are compelled to work from 2 a.m. until 8 or 9 o'clock p.m.

Demonstrations were made in many places this evening by the men who had quit, and at several places there were indications of a riot. The police, however, kept the crowd in order.

DYING AT CHICAGO.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, July 17.—Four deaths and fourteen prostrations were the result of the heat today. A low humidity was responsible for the few fatalities. The mercury reached 94 deg. at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon and remained there until 7:30 o'clock, when it commenced to drop. A breeze that blew off the lake between 6 and 7 o'clock sent the thermometer in that hour from 91 to 75, and the evening was comparatively pleasant.

AFFECTING ST. LOUIS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. LOUIS, July 17.—A steady hot blast is affecting St. Louis and the government weather bureau can promise no relief. A number of prostrations from the heat were taken care of today. The maximum temperature today was 92 deg. and the maximum degree of humidity 76.

PHILADELPHIA HOTTEST.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PHILADELPHIA, July 17.—This city experienced the hottest weather of the year today, the temperature reaching a maximum of 96 deg. shortly after 4 o'clock. At 9 o'clock p.m., the government thermometer registered 87 deg. One death and a dozen prostrations due to the heat were reported to the police.

SIX PITTSBURGH DEATHS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PITTSBURGH, July 17.—Six deaths and six serious prostrations is the record of one of the hottest days in Pittsburgh for years. For nine hours, the temperature was above 88 degs., and for five hours 90 degs. or over was recorded. The maximum, according to the government thermometer, was 92 degs., but on the street thermometers showed from 94 to 110 degs. Mill workers handling white hot iron and steel collapsed from sheer exhaustion, and business was almost at a standstill.

ern standards. It is such an immense country, composed of divers elements and interests, yet the Russian people are like a great family. At present, they are torn by internal dissensions, but these divisions would disappear should the people really feel that the integrity of the country and its future destiny were at stake.

"Russia is not on the verge of dissolution as a great power and is not obliged to accept any conditions offered, in spite of the military reverses she has sustained.

"We are passing through an internal crisis which has been marked by many grave events, and which may have others still in store, but the crisis will pass, and in a few years Russia will again take her place as a preponderant power in the European courts."

CHANCES FOR PEACE LESS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, July 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The correspondent of the New York Times and well-informed diplomats say that in St. Petersburg the chances of peace are regarded as lessenng because the Japanese envoys received only restricted authority for the negotiations in Washington. Much will depend, it is declared, on the answer of the Czar to an important message intrusted to Count Cassini by President Roosevelt.

WITTE SAILS JULY 26.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Ambassador Meyer has cabled the State Department that M. Witte, the Russian chief plenipotentiary to the peace conference, will sail from Cherbourg July 26.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 17.—The report that Shipoff, director of the treasury department, would not accompany the Russian peace commission to Washington is incorrect.

KOREAN LOAN OVERSUBSCRIBED.

TOKIO, July 17.—The Korean loan of $1,000,000 was oversubscribed four times. It was the first Korean loan ever floated in Japan.

WANT TO RENT SAKHALIN.

AMERICANS MAKE PROPOSAL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, July 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] From a well-informed Russian source, the correspondent of the New York Times learns that a large American company has proposed to Japan to lease the Island of Sakhalin, after that territory has come into possession of the Mikado. The Americans offer an annual rental of $10,000,000 for the privilege of developing the rich mineral resources of the island.

As a matter of fact, it is declared that Russia is behind the American proposal, as by this method it wishes to avoid direct transfer of sovereignty over the island to Japan.

LABOR.

LABOR LEADERS FEAR ASSASSIN.

VICTIMS OF SLUGGERS DARE NOT TALK OF ASSAULTS.

Donnelly and Dold, Lights of Chicago Unionism, Have Bruises and Seal of Silence Upon Them. Mayor Dunne Removes Police from Wagons — Glassworkers' Troubles.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, July 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fear of banded assassins placed the seal of silence upon labor leaders in Chicago, today, in connection with the mysterious attack yesterday on Michael Donnelly and the storming of the election place of the Chicago Federation of Labor by eight armed men.

While Donnelly, for the second time the victim of labor sluggers, lay suffering from the assault, the men who were held up in Bricklayers Hall under threats of death during the beating of the stockyards leader and the destruction of ballot boxes of the Federation election, admitted today that they dare not talk about the "affair."

"My life would not be worth a snap, if I should talk," said Charles Dold, president of the Federation and candidate for reelection against O'Neil, the machine candidate. Dold's life was threatened about six months ago.

POLICEMEN OFF WAGONS.

DUNNE CARRIES OUT HIS PLAN.

CHICAGO, July 17.—The frequently-deferred plan of Mayor Dunne to take policemen off the wagons of firms affected by the teamsters' strike went into effect today in the business district. About five hundred policemen were returned to ordinary duties. For a time the business streets and crossings will be guarded by additional policemen. Specially guarded routes to all freight stations will be taken by wagons of the strike-affected firms. As a preliminary to the change today the police on wagons in the business district have for a week been in plain clothes instead of uniforms.

The department-store drivers decided by an almost unanimous vote to continue the strike after they were informed that the railway express drivers had taken similar action. The railway express drivers' vote was 163 in favor of war and 121 for peace. There are more than 700 members in the organization and nearly half of them have obtained employment in other lines. Others, indifferent, remained away from the polls.

Glass Workers' Troubles Unsettled.

CLEVELAND, July 17.—The troubles of the glass workers and the Knights of Labor failed of settlement today. A delegation of the glass workers now in convention here called upon Simon Burns of the Knights of Labor to formulate a proposition upon which the Knights would consent to amalgamate. Burns replied that he had not come to Cleveland to make, but to listen, to a proposition. All efforts looking to an agreement were then abandoned.

GOING WELL WITH CLARK.

Senator's Condition Satisfactory to His Relatives.

Most Critical Period Safely Passed Yesterday.

Patient Sleeps Intermittently and is Cheerful.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Clark is on the road to recovery. At midnight, he was reported to be doing well. During the day he asked for newspapers. After the forty-eight-hour period following the operation he was permitted to sit up partially, and immediately sent a cablegram to Mrs. Clark in Paris, that he could sail to meet her there within ten days.

Friends left cards all day, and all were told that his condition called for congratulation, rather than alarm. It will be some days before he is permitted to see visitors, however. His improvement continuing, physicians say, he will be in a condition to take an ocean voyage to Europe at the end of a fortnight. Throughout the day he was cheerful, his temperature was scarcely above normal, and his pulse was good and strong. He slept at intervals, and showed strength that had to be checked, for fear he would overdo himself.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Senator W. A. Clark, who is recovering from an operation upon an abscess in the ear, passed a comfortable night, and the indications this morning were apparently very favorable. Dr. McKiernon visited the patient at 6:45 o'clock, remaining only half an hour.

Senator Clark's secretary said this afternoon that the patient had continued to improve throughout the day, and that his condition was so satisfactory that his son-in-law, Dr. Louis R. Morris, who had been at his bedside since the operation, had left the city for his country home assured of his father-in-law's recovery.

With the most critical period, the forty-eight hours immediately following the operation, safely passed this afternoon, the illness of Senator W. A. Clark promises to have a happy termination. At that time no complications had developed, and the progress of recovery was uninterrupted. The Senator was strong, bright and cheerful, as has been the case since the operation. His temperature continued slightly below the 100 deg. mark and his pulse remained normal. Throughout the day, Senator Clark slept intermittently, and during his waking intervals appeared in excellent spirits and manifested a lively interest in the treatment received.

Dr. James B. McKiernon, who performed the operation, said the Senator was very comfortable, had a good night, followed by a good day, and that all the indications were most favorable to the patient. A reassuring cablegram was sent to Mrs. Clark at Paris, today, and similar messages were sent to other members of the family.

STILL MORE FAVORABLE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—Though scarcely perceptible, what change was noted tonight in the condition of Senator Clark was in favor of the patient. Since the radical operation of Saturday, the Senator has exhibited remarkable recuperative powers and has rallied steadily. Should tomorrow and Wednesday be as peaceful as the preceding days, the attending physicians say that they will have little anxiety as to the ultimate result.

The Senator rested quietly today, securing considerable refreshing sleep, and awoke from each nap strong and bright. Dr. McKernon, who has charge of the case, called but twice during the day, once early this morning and again late in the afternoon.

UNIQUE SIGHT IN NEW YORK.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—More than 100,000 Italians today congregated in "Little Italy" of Harlem to celebrate the Feast of Our Lady of Mount Carmel. They came from as far east as Boston and as far west as Pittsburgh. From thirty miles around New York Italians came on foot, many of them barefoot, as a still greater penance.

All day was spent in semi-religious festivities. About the colony were scattered altars of wood and tinsel before which Italians knelt in the streets and on which many of them laid wax reproductions of fingers, limbs or other parts of the body which the prayer to the saint would heal.

At a street parade the rear end was made up of barefooted women and children carrying candles, melting under the combined heat of their own light and the sun.

Candles, many of which were expensive importations from Italy, were an important part of the festival and it is estimated that more than seven tons of them were used today.

Hundreds of pilgrims from out of town were forced to live in the streets and 200 patrolmen were detailed to preserve order.

HIS FATHER'S ESTATE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSBURGH, July 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Samuel S. Reymer, who, some months ago married Nellie Paris, a dancing girl, and whose father has since died, after practically disinheriting him, need not look for aid to his mother and sister, who have been left an immense fortune.

When shown a telegram from Denver, in which young Reymer is said to have announced that his mother and sister had decided to share the estate with him, disregarded his father's will, Attorney Leander Trautman, executor of the Reymer estate, said: "The estate will stand just as divided by Reymer, Mrs. Reymer and her daughter will adhere religiously to its provisions."

RETRIBUTION FOR BROOKS.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Prompt retribution was meted out tonight to Samuel Brooks, a bather at Audubon Beach whose foolhardy mischievousness imperiled the lives of three young women. Brooks was rescued by the police after having received a terrible beating at the hands of hundreds of people, who had seen him rock a boat until it was capsized and its occupants thrown in the water.

NO SENSATIONAL EXPOSE.

Those who expected a sensational exposé in the filing of a suit for separate maintenance against Vernon J. Barlow are to be disappointed, for Mrs. Perdita Barlow has dismissed her bill. The order of dismissal was given to Judge Tuley on a showing that the Barlows have come to an agreement. Mrs. Barlow's action against her husband was begun ten days ago. She accused him of habitual drunkenness, and told a story in which another woman figured during a trip from Los Angeles to Chicago last March.

Findings of Important Portland Conference.

Chairman Williamson on Stand for Himself.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PORTLAND (Or.) July 17.—Trains that today brought delegates to the National Conference of Corrections and Charities by the hundreds for the conference, both in the opening and the several sections to business preliminary to next week's work. The general topic today considered State control and administration, the ground broached by the report of the Committee on State Supervision and Correction, read by Miss Jane Addams, Hull House, Chicago.

Miss Addams, in part, that the principals of State supervision and correction, as they appear, are:

"Absolute independence, not existing such as we know as 'political influence' in the one hand; and, on the other hand, strict accountability to the State authorities.

"The appointment of the finest men in the public service.

"The enlightened intelligent public opinion."

Miss Addams followed the reading of her report by a paper on the subject of the subject was presented by Thomas N. Strong of Portland. Mr. Strong of the general convention was followed by Ernest Bicknell of Chicago.

Other sections the following topics were discussed: "What right have we to know about the public institutions charitied, and how shall we learn about them?" The topic was introduced by Miss Frances Greely Wilson, member of the State Board of Charities of Massachusetts, and by Graham, member of the Board of Charities of Illinois.

Juvenile Courts in the Small Town," and "The Girl Offender." Probation and Cause of Delinquency" were topics for discussion in the afternoon section. The discussion was participated in by probation officers and several of the larger cities of the country.

Miss Addams in charge of the Committee on Needy Families and their Treatment discussed "The Charities Investigation Committee and Investigation." The first of these subjects was introduced by Miss Katherine C. Fleischer, secretary of the Associated Charities of San Francisco, and the latter by Mrs. W. Guthrie, superintendent of the Associated Charities of St. Paul.

Before we was the attendance at the session today, the audience was packed tonight to listen to the discussion of the subject "Needy Children Their Homes" for exceeded the report of the committee was read by Miss Jane F. Jackson, the chairman of Cleveland, O.

A general discussion of this report and the interesting paper was read by Mrs. P. Bourland of Peoria, Ill., on the Relation Between Women's Clubs and Organized Charities." Louis Brownlow, the predecessor, was followed by a general discussion.

WILLIAMSON ON THE STAND.

CONGRESSMAN A WITNESS FOR HIMSELF.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PORTLAND (Or.) July 17.—Congressman Binger Williamson, was on the stand in the United States court in his own behalf today.

It has contended that Williamson was at Princeville only for a few days in May, 1902, and when the fact was confirmed on the stand he was confronted by United States Attorney Heney with the register of the Poindexter Hotel, which bears date of June 15, 1902, and the signature "John N. Williamson." Congressman said the signature was not his own, but he admitted the word "Prineville," following, appeared to be in his handwriting. He was not present, however, he was not in Princeville at that time. These points form the theory of the government. Williamson was in Prineville before the filings were made. There was a perfect understanding between the defendants, that Williamson with his wife to file and then return back to The Dalles and obtain a loan to make payments and caused his return shortly after his departure. It appeared in evidence, a letter from Williamson to the then commissioner of the General Office, in which he requested the commissioner to withdraw Blue Mountain forest reserve to furnish lands for a number of their sheep range against the cattlemen, grazing upon. The defence objected and the court ruled out.

GENERAL DENIAL.

In his own behalf, the witness the Second District entered a general denial of the charges of government. On two cross-examination questions by Heney declared that he had no knowledge of any conspiracy and perjury and that he was not guilty of the law. He identified two of the entrymen who appeared against him in the case, and at no time

Heney introduced the testimony of witnesses to show the good character of defendants and had rested his case, when Judge Dehaven asked Heney if the government had any evidence to offer in rebuttal. The United States Attorney said that no more witnesses would be called on the question of fact. The defense protested, but could not yield. Judge DeHaven said that, inasmuch as the government was not going to try to prove a bad reputation, he would instruct the jury that a good reputation for the defendants had been established.

The defense was not satisfied and offered to show that they would call about twenty witnesses, among them Senator Fulton, Circuit Judges Ellis and Bradshaw and a number of prominent Portland people to testify to their good reputation. The court gave them leave to make the record show as they wished.

The government will have but little testimony to offer in rebuttal.

MISS PERKINS'S HEROISM.

DIRECTS FIRE FIGHTERS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OAKLAND, July 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Mae Perkins, daughter of United States Senator Perkins, played a prominent role this afternoon at a fire which practically destroyed the fine residence of Capt. Robert Greig, the capitalist. Painters were burning off the paint on the Greig residence when the flame got beyond their control and shot through the open window, igniting the curtains and furniture.

Miss Perkins, who lives just opposite the Greig home, herself turned in the alarm, and then, summoning the employés about her father's home, rushed across the street and directed them in saving some of the costly furnishings of the Greig home.

Girl Starving to Death Found.

SAN JOSE, July 17.—Helen Cotter, a young woman residing in San Francisco, was taken in charge by a deputy sheriff last night on one of the county roads and conveyed to a hospital. She was nearly starved to death, having had only one meal in four days. She had resided with an aunt at No. 1608 Geary street, until recently, and she started out a week ago Friday to get work in the country. She slept out nights and lived on fruit. Her aunt will be notified.

Keels of Mammoth Freighters Laid.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—The keels have been laid for the two mammoth freighters of the American-Hawaiian steamship line that are to be built by the Union Iron Works to go into service between this port, Honolulu and New York. These two big vessels are to be named the Columbian and the Mexican. They will both be equal in size to the Texan, the biggest of that fleet of steamships. It will be at least a year before the two new ships are ready to go into commission.

FEDERAL AUTHORITIES LENIENT TOWARD PEARY.

Fact that Explorer's Ship, the Roosevelt, Left Portland, Maine, Without Proper Papers Overlooked. Delicate Scientific Instruments Placed Aboard.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—The $500 fine levied against Robert Peary's "new ship, the Roosevelt, which sailed yesterday on h.r North Pole voyage, will not have to be paid, according to an order received today from Assistant Secretary Garfield of the Department of Commerce and Labor.

The Roosevelt was fined for leaving Portland, Me., recently, without proper papers, and a bond to secure this payment was given before the vessel could leave New York.

Mr. Garfield directs the local collector to refrain from prosecuting the enforcement of the law.

DELICATE INSTRUMENTS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—Delicate parts of scientific instruments to be used by the Peary expedition in search of the North Pole were placed on board the steamer Roosevelt before it sailed Sunday from this port. Triple sets of nautical instruments also were taken.

Dr. Louis J. Wolff of Silverton, Or., was chosen surgeon of the expedition. He is 30 years old and a graduate of the College of Surgery in San Francisco, of the class of 1902. Until recently, he was connected with the out-door department of Bellevue Hospital.

PEARY IN BOSTON.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW BRITISH RED CROSS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, July 17.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Queen Alexandra presided over a meeting at Buckingham Palace today at which a new Red Cross society was organized, under the name "British Red Cross Society." The society will include all organizations in the empire having similar acts.

Her Majesty delivered a speech, outlining the objects of the organization and appealing to the women of the empire to take up the work. In time of peace, she said, the society would act separately from the War Office and the Admiralty, but would be under the control of these departments in time of war.

Lord Rothschilds moved a resolution authorizing the appointment of an executive committee, of which it is expected Sir Frederick Tevis, Surgeon in Ordinary to King Edward, will be chairman.

FATHER FUNSTON'S TRIAL.

Police Made no Effort to Arrest Jointkeepers, but Threw His Son Into Jail, he Said.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

IOLA (Kan.) July 17.—The trial of E. H. Funsion, former Congressman from this district, and father of Gen. Funston, on a charge of disturbing the peace and using inflammatory language, recently, following the wrecking by dynamite of three saloons by a temperance fanatic, was resumed today. The courtroom was again crowded to its capacity.

B. F. Garrett, a bricklayer, testified concerning the conversation between Funston and Cannon, that if the officers had done their duty the dynamite outrage would not have taken place. Funston, he said, told the officer that policemen "had thrown his boy into jail for doing things for which the 'joints' were responsible, but that they had made no efforts to arrest the joint or saloonkeepers."

Funston's attorneys filed a demurrer to the city's evidence, on the ground that it was not sufficient to show that the law had been violated. A lengthy argument ensued. The demurrer was overruled and evidence in rebuttal will be introduced.

TRIAL ENDED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

IOLA (Kan.) July 17.—The trial of ex-Congressman H. E. Funston, charged with inflammatory utterances and carrying concealed weapons as the result of the dynamiting of three saloons here last week, ended tonight, and Judge Adair announced that he would reserve his decision until next Wednesday.

EMILE ARTON A SUICIDE.

One of the Founders of the Old Panama Canal Found Dead in His Apartments.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PARIS, July 17.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Emile Arton, one of the principal founders of the old Panama Canal, was found dead in his apartments this morning under circumstances indicating suicide.

Arton was sentenced in 1896 to eight years' imprisonment for complicity with Baron De Reinach and Dr. Cornelius Herz in the frauds of the Panama Canal Company. He was the intermediary between Baron De Reinach and the incriminated French Deputies, that is, between the briber and the bribed. He wrote the checks and had the check books on whose stubs was recorded the guilt of about one hundred and forty politicians. He alone possessed the secrets of the bribery. When the crash came in 1892, Arton disappeared and with him went about $750,000 of the funds of the French Dynamite Society, with which he was associated. In his absence he was sentenced on the charge of trying to bribe a Deputy, to five years' imprisonment, and to twenty years' imprisonment for his connection with the French Dynamite Society. He was finally captured in London, taken to France, but was pardoned in 1899. De Reinach committed suicide, and Dr. Herz, after seeking refuge in England, died there in 1898.

KING HOPES SWEDEN WILL DROP NORWAY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BERLIN, July 17.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Dr. Hugo Gans, correspondent of the Frankfort Zeitung, has had an interview with King Oscar of Sweden at Stockholm, during which His Majesty said he admired the way in which the Norwegians won to their side all the European publicists.

"The wrong remains wrong," said the King, adding that the Norwegians had surprised him by the suddenness of their acts. King Oscar denied that he had precipitated the crisis by declining to accept the resignation of the Norwegian Cabinet, for the Norwegians themselves had declared that whoever accepted a portfolio would cease to be a Norwegian.

The correspondent remarked that he had heard only words of respect for the King in Norway, to which His Majesty replied: "For my part, I have forgiven the Norwegians, and hope to God that the Swedish people will also remain calm, for it would only be hanging a millstone about our necks to restore the union forcibly."

The King also said that appointing a Swedish Prince to the Norwegian throne would certainly be the simplest solution of the difficulty, but the result would be distrust in Sweden or in Norway. Every time public opinion in Sweden or Norway was displeased with the sovereign's acts, the cry would be raised that "The son does this to please the father," or "the father does this to please the son."

TWO AMERICANS SWIM RAPIDS OF NIAGARA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NIAGARA FALLS, July 17.—Carlisle D. Graham of this city, and William J. Glover, Jr., of Baltimore, successfully swam the lower rapids of Niagara from the American side of the whirlpool to Lewiston, this afternoon. The distance of four miles was covered in 26m. by Glover.

The start was made at 4:02 o'clock p.m., from Flat Rock, which is on the American side. The swimmers did not venture in the upper rapids, where Capt. Webb lost his life. Both men wore life belts and inflated rubber rings around their necks. From the start Glover took the lead. He entered the rapids a minute ahead of Graham. Until the Devil's Hole was reached, the swift current and roaring rapids had the swimmers in their grasp. At that point, a swirling eddy caught Glover, and he was down nearly two minutes. His life belt saved him.

Graham by this time had gained on Glover, and when the two men reached the end of the rapids, just above the suspension bridge at Lewiston, there was but a little distance between them. Swimming in the swift, smooth current was hard for Graham, but evidently easy for Glover.

At 4:28 o'clock Glover was pulled out on the dock at Lewiston. He was dressed, and about fifteen minutes later was telling his story. Graham was taken to a hotel in a wagon, and did not leave bed until late in the afternoon. Neither of the men were injured.

Graham had swam the lower rapids twice before. He is about 55 years of age, while Glover is 25 years old.

CHINESE TO STUDY POLITICAL METHODS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PEKING, July 17.—[By Asiatic Cable.] An edict was issued yesterday ordering the dispatch abroad of four missions to study foreign political methods. The missions will be headed respectively by Prince Tsai Tche, who is of royal blood; Tai Hung Chie, second Minister of Finance, Shu Shie Chang, chief assistant to Yuan Shai Kai, Viceroy of Chi Li province, and Touan Fang, Governor of Hunan province.

The edict, which is vaguely worded, orders the envoys to visit all countries in the East and West and study foreign methods generally. None of the men named speak any foreign language. The four missions will depart separately on dates yet undecided. The idea is generally regarded as a step in the right direction, though it may prove futile.

STUDYING EXCLUSION QUESTION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) July 17.—Victor M. Metcalf, Secretary of Commerce and Labor, passed through Seattle today on his way to California. He came to the Coast for the purpose of investigating the Chinese exclusion question. He stated while here that he believed the most friendly relations should exist between the United States and China, as the latter country is just awakening, and that it would be to the advantage of any country to receive the bulk of her trade if possible. He says if the better class of Chinese wish to educate their sons in America, they should be allowed to do so.

"MOBE" PARTY ALL SMASHED UP.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Two young men were probably fatally hurt and their two female companions had a remarkable escape from injury today when the automobile of Frederick E. Marshall of St. Louis, which had been borrowed by Marshall's chauffeur, was caught between an elevated railroad pillar and a street car at Seventy-ninth street and Third avenue. The automobile was reduced almost to scrap iron. The forty-horse-power machine attempted to race in front of a surface car bound down hill. The rear half of the automobile, in which were seated Cora Michaelis and Helen Donnschauser, two of the chauffeur's friends, was demolished and the girls were so tangled in the wreckage of the car and automobile that it took half an hour to extricate them. A male companion of the chauffeur was thrown out, but the chauffeur was uninjured. Nearly all of the occupants of the street-car were thrown to the floor and the conductor was severely injured.

WILD ANIMALS HOLD TRAINS.

COLORADO SPRINGS (Colo.) July 17.—More than 2000 people and four passenger trains on the Colorado Midland were held at Tunnel No. 6, two miles west of Manitou, Sunday by a fierce South American jaguar. Before he was captured the animal clawed Joseph Bennett of this city, cutting a severe gash across the right leg. Miss Delmore, a passenger, became frightened and in endeavoring to scale a high cliff fell a distance of twenty feet, breaking her left leg. The jaguar and a polar bear occupied two compartments in a large cage loaded upon a flatcar of the train belonging to a circus. The cage was too high to enter the mouth of the tunnel and as it struck the roof of the tunnel it was torn off. After efforts during which the above-mentioned injuries were done, the animals were recaptured.

BEGGARS' TRUST SMASHED.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Detectives employed by the Charity Organization Society have caused six beggars, all alleged property owners, to be arraigned in a Harlem court. It was asserted by the officers that the six prisoners had formed themselves into a sort of beggars' trust, to do the Italian feast of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, which is being celebrated in Harlem's "Little Italy." All the prisoners were declared to have bank accounts and are landlords. When searched by the police, one beggar had $538 in bills and a quantity of small coin. Another had a bank book showing deposits of $1400. It is alleged the gang made elaborate plans for their operations in the neighborhood of the leading Italian church near which they were caught. They found the Italians quite liberal during the festival and were reaping a harvest.

THE REVOLT IN RUSSIA.

COUP D'ETAT IS IMMINENT.

Startling Developments at Moscow Hinted at.

LONDON, July 18.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Standard's correspondent at Odessa telegraphs the following statement which was made to him by a friend of Prince Trubetskoi:

"Russians have peculiar respect for a strong albeit cruel autocrat. A pusillanimous autocrat is to them an inconceivable phenamenon. This is why the Czar's prestige is suffering.

"Startling developments in Moscow are not only possible, but imminent. A coup d'etat in St. Petersburg would be almost impossible. It is in Moscow that the heart of the empire most strongly pulsates. That pulsation has now turned to a violent and significant one. It is our sacred mother, Moscow, who will establish and direct the new order of things.

"If the present régime in reformed shape is to be conserved, then the Czar must, before it is too late, show himself to Muscovites, within the ancient sanctuary of the Kremlin."

ZEMSTVOISTS WILL MEET.

THE GOVERNMENT BACKS DOWN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

MOSCOW, July 17.—It is probable that the All-Russian Zemstvo Congress will be allowed to meet without police interference. A deputation of the Executive Committee of the zemstvoists called on Gov.-Gen. Gosloff today and reported to him that in summoning the congress they were obeying the imperial will. It was called, they said, so that the report of the deputation of the congress received by the Emperor might be communicated to the zemstvoists throughout the empire.

The Governor-General said he had already sent to St. Petersburg their demand that permission to hold the congress had been given and explained that when a detail of police endeavored to disperse the meeting of the Executive Committee yesterday the action was taken without his authority.

The congress is called for Wednesday.

POISONING ATTEMPTED.

REVOLUTIONARY INTRIGUES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HATES TO GIVE UP ISLAND.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 18.—The Sviet bitterly objects to the cession of the Island of Sakhalin, declaring that, as it commands the mouth of the Amur River, its possession by the Japanese constitutes a threat to Russia in the Far East and forges shackles from which the empire could never rid herself.

RESCUES "WHITE SLAVES."

BERLIN, July 17.—The Reichsanzeiger publishes the details of the treaty entered into between twelve European countries, which has been duly ratified and goes into effect today. The contracting States obligate themselves to establish each a bureau for the collection of information regarding the solicitation of women and girls for immoral purposes abroad. These bureaus are to exchange information among themselves, and a strict watch is to be kept, particularly at large railway stations and seaports, to detect persons engaged in the "white slave" trade. Efforts are to be set on foot among fallen women for the purpose of obtaining information about those engaged in the traffic.

BOILER'S END WATER LACK.

CAUSE OF LOCOMOTIVE'S BLOW-UP NEAR HANCOCK.

Santa Fe Getting Engines to Take Overland up the Hills Sixty Miles an Hour—Salt Lake's Terminal and Yardage Trouble Believed to be Near Finish.

Mechanical Superintendent Bean of the Santa Fé yesterday received the report of W. W. Webster, engineer of tests of the Coast lines, covering the explosion of the boiler of locomotive No. 962, near Hancock early Saturday morning.

Webster's report shows that the boiler was in thoroughly first-class condition, which made the explosion more disastrous in its disruptive effects. The cause is given as low water. The train was heavy, and the engineer, E. H. Copeland, was carrying his water dangerously low in order to work all steam at as full a throttle and long a cut off as possible up the steep grade. As he tipped over the summit the water in the boiler rushed to the front, laying the crown sheet bare to the fierce blast of the oil flame. The crown sheet was heated almost to the fusing point in an instant, and gave way, but the stay bolts held true. Those which went out were pulled through the firebox and water leg sheets, heads and all.

The boiler was thrown sixty yards in advance of the train, and alighted right side up. The engine frame remained on the track, and the running gear was but little damaged.

Bean is looking forward with interest to the arrival of the first of the recent order of balanced compound passenger engines for service on passenger trains out of Los Angeles. "They are good for ninety miles an hour, easily," he says. "They are of the same type, but of slightly lower driver, as the engine that made 106 miles an hour with the Scott special, and are just what we need to carry the overland up the hills through Pasadena, Upland and out of San Bernardino at sixty miles an hour."

The giant freight engines will begin arriving about the same time, and will be broken in as soon as possible. These engines will weigh 443,740 pounds over all. The balanced compounds will be the first used on any road west of the Rockies.

AGREEMENT NEAR.

General Freight and Passenger Agent Gillett of the Salt Lake, who has just returned from a conference at New York between Senator Clark and officials of the Salt Lake with E. H. Harriman relative to the settlement of the terminal and yardage dispute of that road at Los Angeles with the Southern Pacific and the Santa Fé, says that while nothing has as yet been decided, he expects daily to hear that Senator Clark and Harriman have reached an agreement. He has no doubt, he says, that the matter will be definitely settled in a manner satisfactory to all parties, and in a way which will relieve the Salt Lake from the virtual lockout maintained against it in yardage and trackage privileges by the two established lines. That much is settled beyond dispute, but the final details and terms have not yet been agreed upon.

Mr. Gillett says that he will not make an appointment to fill the vacancy in the office of assistant general freight agent for some days to come.

EXPRESSLY FOR FISH.

The Pacific Electric Express Company has developed an astonishing business in fresh fish carrying from the port of San Pedro to Los Angeles, and outlying towns and San Francisco.

On an average from eight to ten tons of fish are shipped out of San Pedro daily by way of the Pacific Electric Express. Of these fish shipments from two to three tons daily are shipped to San Francisco, and the fish in greatest demand is the luscious sand dab, which for commercial purposes is indigenous to these southern waters.

The fish are packed in barrels and boxes of special construction, and are well iced, and then shot through to Los Angeles and San Francisco at the greatest possible speed. The Pacific Electric Express takes the fish at San Pedro and rushes them in special cars to the steam lines, making close connections, so that the consumer in San Francisco gets his fish fresh on the table but a few hours after it is taken from the water at San Pedro.

In this connection it is curious to note through the business of the express company, that the clams and cockles consumed in such quantities at Santa Monica are all shipped in from Wilmington.

AUTO LINES DELAYED.

Both the Santa Fé and the Salt Lake, the latter through the Nevada Rapid Transit Company, are delaying the inauguration of their proposed automobile services into the Goldfield district pending the completion of roadways which they are constructing.

The Nevada Rapid Transit has finished over thirty miles of private roadway between Ivanpah and Bullfrog, and will put on its regular service about August 15.

The Santa Fé has ordered three big steam cars to be ready for service before September 1, when the roadway will be complete and ready for use.

SALTON STOPS RISING.

Yesterday's daily report of the flood water in the Salta sink, received by Southern Pacific, announced that the rise of waters in the inland sea has ceased, and the flood level is now stationary.

WELLS INSPECTING WASHOUTS.

General Manager Wells of the Salt Lake is out along the line making a tour of inspection of the sections west of Las Vegas washed out by the cloudburst last week. All of the damage has been repaired, and trains are now running without interruption.

The Cuthbert party of eastern excursionists, arriving over the Salt Lake, and the Yerax party, over the Santa Fé, have both united here and will proceed for the remainder of their tour in one party of 208 persons, in a special train of seven sleepers, two diners, two baggage cars and a buffet combination car. They were all switched down to San Pedro last night and will visit Catalina today, and will leave on the 19th over the Southern Pacific for San Francisco and Portland.

IS IT HIS RESPONSIBILITY?

HARRIMAN GOING TO EUROPE ON PROTRACTED TRIP.

Question of Increasing Semi-annual Dividend on Union Pacific Common Stock Will Not be Settled by Him. Company's Management Going Slow in the Matter.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The approaching departure of Edward H. Harriman on a protracted trip abroad makes it probable that the Union Pacific directors' meeting will be held this week for the purpose of settling the dividend question.

There has lately been less confident talk in the Union Pacific party about an increase in the next semi-annual dividend on common stock. When the price of Union Pacific stock was soaring up near 150, the men in the stock exchange who made a specialty of this stock were cocksure that common was to be put on a 6 per cent. basis this summer. So far as can be learned, neither President Harriman nor the Kuhn-Loeb people have encouraged this idea.

While the earnings of Union Pacific have steadily increased the expenses for improvements are still enormous, and the company's management is inclined to go slow in the matter of distributing surplus in the form of increased dividends. Harriman has practically left the matter to the directors. He, it is asserted, will not urge any particular course.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) July 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The back taxes against the Southern Pacific Railway Company on a valuation of $230,675,792.31, and involving back taxes amounting to $12,000,000 comes up in the County Court tomorrow, on a motion of Judge A. P. Humphrey, general counsel for the Southern Pacific, to have State Revenue Agent A. J. Bizot make the complaints more specific and to consolidate the three cases against the company.

A. J. Bizot, as revenue agent for Jefferson county, brought three suits against the Southern Pacific, alleging that the company failed to make returns on personal property for five years. The alleged taxes are claimed to be due on bonds, stocks, locomotives, ships, rolling stock, etc., of twenty-two railroad corporations in various States, from Louisiana to California.

It is claimed that the Southern Pacific has an office at Beechmont, Jefferson county; that the agent of the company in this State is John B. Weaver, and that he has never made any return of the personalty as required by law.

RAILWAY AGENTS.

CONVENTION AT PORTLAND.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PORTLAND (Or.) July 17.—The convention of the National Association of Railway Agents assembled at the Lewis and Clark Fair today. The convention was called to order by President W. H. Mills of Norwalk, O. After the usual welcoming speeches, brief addresses were delivered by Col. C. W. Mott, general immigration agent of the Northern Pacific; C. C. Goss, agent of the Iron Mountain road at Little Rock, Ark.; D. B. Gardner, division passenger agent of the Northern Pacific; W. C. McBride of the Denver and Rio Grande; William A. Cox of the Chicago and Northwestern, and J. Evan Dusen of New York.

All the former officers were re-elected.

HEAVY MAY TRAFFIC.

GAINS IN GROSS EARNINGS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, July 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] May showed better results in railroad earnings than any other month so far this year. Traffic was heavier than in either of the two years immediately preceding. The increase pretty evenly distributed. The total gross earnings of all leading systems in the United States were $124,668,512, a gain of 10.7 per cent., compared with last year. The increase was largely on the eastern roads, the Grangers, Southwestern and Pacific systems. The Southern roads report good gain.

Considering the movement of some important commodities the results are rather surprising. On eastern systems the larger earnings are undoubtedly due to the heavier anthracite coal tonnage, as reflected in the larger earnings of the anthracite coal roads. The large granger roads report a large increase in earnings. Heavy export trade to the Orient accounts for the increased earnings of the Pacific systems.

ESPEE POWER PLANT.

TRUCKEE RIVER SITE WANTED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—A statement has been published that the Southern Pacific Company has an engineering force at work investigating sites along the Truckee River between Truckee and Verdi for the purpose of installing a monster electric power plant. The plant, it was said, would furnish power for boring a five-mile tunnel through the Sierra Nevada Mountains. General Manager Calvin said today:

"Nothing is being done on the tunnel project at present, and the company is not looking for any site for a power plant on the Truckee River, or elsewhere. I understand that other interests are at work on a power project up there, planning to supply electrical power to some of the big Nevada mines. The Southern Pacific has no interest in it whatever."

JUGGLING OF GRAIN RATES

Sensational Evidence at Louisville Hearing.

Sixty-seven "Expense Bills" Had Been Doctored.

Espee Power Plant for a Truckee River Site.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LOUISVILLE (Ky.) July 17.—Evidence of a sensational nature was offered today at the hearing which is being conducted by the Interstate Commerce Commission to investigate charges of irregularities in the freight rates on grain originating west of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio rivers and shipped to southeastern points. The evidence presented today consisted of sixty-seven "expense bills" taken from the local offices of the Southeastern Mississippi Valley Association, some of which had been altered and the rest duplicated and even tribliated, with the result that the Louisville shipper was given an alleged advantage of 3 cents per hundred pounds over competitors selling grain in southeastern territory.

The hearing was instituted on complaint of shippers of grain from St. Louis and other Mississippi and Ohio river points, who charged that Louisville shippers, by manipulating expense bills, either with or without knowledge on the part of the railroads, were securing lower rates to southeastern territory than other points in this territory.

CALIFORNIA NORTHWESTERN.

EXTENSION IN NAPA VALLEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NAPA, July 17.—The announcement was made today that the California Northwestern Railway will in a short time extend its present line from Napa up the valley to St. Helena and Calistoga. As a result of a trip of President A. W. Foster and Engineer Zook to Napa, Saturday, the company will, in a few days, start laying off the road from Napa to Union Station.

It is understood that from Union Station on to Calistoga, the California Northwestern will use the tracks of the Southern Pacific Company. Through trains will be run from Calistoga to Napa and to San Francisco, cutting the present rates, and making the time of trains less than at present.

DOLLAR SHOE SALE CONTINUED TODAY

SHOT HIM DEAD AT HIS DOOR.

Woman Answers an Insult With Revolver Bullet.

Landlady Protects Her Honor by Taking Life.

Resenting the repeated insults offered her by one of her lodgers, Richard P. Saunders, Miss M. H. Williamson, landlady of the Piedmont lodging-house, No. 117½ East First street, shot Saunders down on the threshold of his room yesterday afternoon at 5:50 o'clock, immediately after he had made an insulting proposal.

Miss Williamson's aim was true, and she sent a bullet into the center of the man's forehead. Saunders died in the Receiving Hospital two hours later.

There were no eyewitnesses to the homicide, but several lodgers in the house, which is one of those cheap affairs numerous on East First street, heard angry words in the corridor preceding the shooting. Carl Schultz, an ironworker employed at the Union Iron Works, and Guy Roberts, a newsboy, were on the same floor at the time, but they did not reach the scene until Miss Williamson had departed after firing the fatal shot and Saunders was lying in death agony on the floor.

Miss Williamson telephoned to the Police Station immediately afterward and waited downstairs until Detectives Steele, Craig and Quinn arrived and placed her under arrest.

"No man can insult me and live," said the woman as she accompanied the officers; "I may have to go to hell for this, but I could not stand the insults that man heaped upon me, and I shot him."

Miss Williamson is a hard-working woman, apparently 52 years old, and acquaintances say she has always borne a good reputation.

According to her version of the affair, Saunders secured a room at the house four days ago and almost immediately began to annoy her. Yesterday afternoon, Miss Williamson says, the man called her to his room and made insulting proposals. She told him he would be forced to leave the house if he repeated his offense, and then roundly scored him. Later Saunders again called for her, and arming herself with a revolver, she went to the door.

Saunders' insults were even more flagrant this time, and the woman shot him as he stood in his doorway.

When the man was removed to the Receiving Hospital the surgeons started to probe for the bullet, which had entered his forehead just above the bridge of the nose, but they saw that probing would not be necessary, as the man was even then dying. He expired without regaining consciousness. Miss Williamson was locked in the City Jail and a charge of murder was entered against her on the blotter.

Little is known of Saunders. He had few effects in his room and only a few cents in his pockets. A receipt for a lease contract on lot 74 in the Watts tract issued by the Golden State Realty Company, and a receipt from an employment agency were found. The body was sent to Bresee Bros.' morgue, where an inquest will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

ACCUSED BY HIS OWN SON.

CHICAGO MAN ARRESTED HERE ON FELONY CHARGE.

Morris Kompel, an Attorney, Secures Warrant in Illinois Against His Father Whom He Charges With Having Impersonated Him. Thinks Parent is of Unsound Mind.

Morris Kompel, an attorney of Chicago, caused the arrest of his father, Herman Kompel, in this city last night on the queer charge of impersonating the younger Kompel, by which means he obtained $783 which the son had deposited in a Chicago building and loan association.

Kompel was located on Maple avenue by Detectives Davis and Roberds. He had $522 in his possession and readily admitted his identity.

The younger Kompel secured a warrant in Chicago for the arrest of his own father and as soon as an officer can arrive from the "Windy City" the accused will be sent back to face the charges preferred against him by his son.

Kompel disappeared from his home June 19. He drew the money belonging to his son and $1000 of his own. Nothing had been heard of him by his relatives until his arrest. The son believes his father is deranged.

TO ABDUCT ESQUIMO GIRLS.

VILLAINOUS CAPTAIN'S PLAN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SEATTLE, July 17.—A Nome special to the Times says:

"Capt. Newth of the whaler Jeanette is charged with a bold attempt to abduct two Esquimo girls, aged 9 and 13, respectively. The father of the girls, named Apoweh, went aboard the whaler with his family to transact some business. Both he and his wife were plied with liquor, and the girls were enticed into the captain's cabin and locked up. Their cries for help aroused the mother, and she rescued them after a hard fight. The Esquimo told their story to Dist.-Atty. Hoyt at Nome, but Capt. Newth was warned, and his vessel was well on its way from Nome when arresting officers sought him.

THIEF WAS THE TUTOR.

LIGHT ON DIAMOND ROBBERY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—Edward Park, who has been arrested at Christianin, Norway, in connection with the theft of $15,000 worth of jewels from the home of Banker J. J. Higginson, is learned to have been a tutor in the household. One of the banker's sons was recently placed in Harvard by Park, and the second boy has been studying at a private school in Massachusetts under his coaching. Park was held in esteem by the family, and was implicitly trusted.

When the robbery was reported some days ago, the police at once suspected Park, and assert that his photograph was identified by a pawnbroker who held some of the stolen jewels as pledges for loans. Leave of absence from his duties was granted the tutor only the day before the police suspicion fell on him, and he took passage by steamer for Norway under his own name.

COLLINS MAY NOT BE HAD.

SAN FRANCISCO MUST SEND WITNESSES TO VICTORIA.

Fugitive Lawyer Spending His Time Arranging His Case and Threatening Action Against Paper for Criminal Libel — Murderer Schikofska in Custody.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

VICTORIA (B. C.) July 17.—Unless the necessary witnesses are sent from San Francisco to prove the charge of perjury upon which a warrant was issued for George D. Collins in the extradition case now pending, the San Francisco lawyer may not be returned to the Golden Gate.

Frank Higgins, the attorney representing the San Francisco authorities, has requested that at least two competent witnesses to prove perjury be sent, but other than sending Detective Gibson with extradition papers and depositions the San Francisco authorities have not acceded to his request. If witnesses are not forthcoming the police say their chances of securing the return of Collins will be prejudiced.

Collins is still at large during the day, in company with a special officer, and remains much of his time in the law library, arranging his case, in readiness for the resumption of the trial, Wednesday. He has threatened an action for criminal libel against the Victoria Colonist for having reprinted an extract from an article in the San Francisco Chronicle, which alleged he was married to Charlotte Newman.

WITNESSES ARE READY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—Dist.-Atty. Byington has notified Attorney Thomas E. Currant, Notary Public Henry and Assistant District-Attorney Whiting to prepare themselves to be in readiness to start immediately for Victoria should it be decided that their presence is necessary to secure the extradition of Lawyer George D. Collins.

Detective Gibson, who has the extradition papers, is expected to arrive in Victoria tomorrow morning, when he will consult with the authorities there regarding the evidence deemed necessary by the Victoria court. He will advise Byington by telegraph and if his message so indicates the three witnesses will at once start for the north.

ARIZONA CLEWS FAIL.

SCOUTS MUST START AFRESH.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

GLOBE (Ariz.) July 17.—Stimulated by the reward, a large number of scouts, deputies and volunteers are scouring the country between Livingstone and Bowie for trace of the murderers of Plunkett and Kennedy. Six suspects have been examined at the County Jail. As not one could be identified, the original clew has proved faulty, and the scouts and trailers have been started back at the point of beginning, and the work must be all done over.

Only one man, Eugene Shute, brother-in-law of Plunkett, is really able to identify the two men who worked on the ranch. The Indian trailer who landed Blevins in the famous bullion robbery of some years ago, has taken the trail, and he has never yet failed to land his man.

If the murderers are apprehended and their identity is reasonably certain, it is morally certain that the Territory will not be at any expense for their trial.

SCHIKLOFSKA CAPTURED.

ARRESTED AT LA JUNTA, COLO.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BOSTON, July 17.—Chief Shaw of the Massachusetts District Police received a telegram from Sheriff Barr, La Junta, Colo., early today, informing him officially that John Schiklofska, the alleged Belmont, Mass., wife-murderer was arrested by the Sheriff late yesterday. Chief Shaw said he would send State officers to La Junta to bring the man back to this State.

Gen. W. H. Whitney of the State Police left this city tonight for La Junta, Colo., to bring Schiklofska to Boston. It is understood the prisoner will return without requisition papers, but should he refuse, these will be forwarded at once.

Education Developed Murder Instinct.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—Lizzie Sierbu, a fourteen-year-old Russian girl, is accused of attempting to kill her parents, seven brothers and herself Saturday night by turning on the gas in a room where they were all sleeping. The father is a fruit peddler, and her home became repulsive to the daughter after she had come in contact with Americans of education and had learned of the ignorance in her home, so neighbors say. She was arrested yesterday at the request of her father, who wants her sent to a public institution.

Jerome's Alleged Relative Kills Man.

CHICAGO, July 17.—Welcome Jerome, a book-keeper, who claims to be a relative of Dist.-Atty. Jerome of New York, Sunday struck Charles Faure, a Frenchman, in the face, knocking him down a flight or stairs, and causing injuries from which he died later at a hospital. The reason Jerome gave for his act was that Faure caused a separation between himself and his wife. Mrs. Jerome was with Faure at the time of the assault. Jerome is under arrest, and Mrs. Jerome, who for the last four weeks has been known as Mrs. Faure, is held as a witness.

Must Stand Trial for Killing Brute.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Bertha Claiche, on trial by a coroner's jury for killing Emil Gerdron, July 9, was today held responsible for his death and was committed to the Tombs prison without bail. She was later indicted by the grand jury. After enticing her to America from France, under false promises of marriage, Gerdron forced the girl to go on the streets and earn a living for him at the sacrifice of her own good name. His excessive cruelty caused the girl to have Gerdron arrested July 9, and then, frightened by his threatening attitude, she shot him while the police were in the act of making the arrest.

George Freeman Captured.

STOCKTON, July 17.—George Freeman, the man who ran amuck with a revolver at a railroad camp near Lone last week, shooting a man named Ryder in the side, and taking shots at Foreman King and Joe Dolley, was captured yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Kelly of Amador county, near Galt. Freeman was afoot, and though armed with two revolvers, made no resistence. He was taken to Jackson and placed in jail, to await the result of Ryder's injuries. Ryder, however, is expected to recover. An old grudge led to the shooting.

FIERCE STRUGGLE WITH A KERN COUNTY MADMAN.

Latter, Who is Over Six Feet Tall, Makes Desperate Resistance and Officer is Exhausted in Subduing Him—Workmen's Grewsome Find Under Old Hospital Site.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BAKERSFIELD, July 17.—While making an arrest for insanity this afternoon Sheriff Kelley of this city was savagely attacked by a demented man and before the officer had accomplished his purpose he had been severely bruised on the head and arms with a club.

The madman is of a powerful build, standing over six feet two inches and the sheriff was nearly exhausted as a result of his desperate encounter when he brought his captive in irons to the County Jail. Previous to his arrest, the insane man, whose name has not been ascertained, had threatened bodily injury to several residents in the eastern part of the city.

WORKMEN'S GREWSOME FIND.

While making some excavations on grounds of the county High School in this city this morning, for the purpose of determining the cause of the sinking of one of the walls on the building, a workman unearthed a large quantity of human bones which had evidently been buried there for many years. An investigation showed them to be for the most part bones of human arms and legs and it is supposed that they are the remains of amputated limbs that were buried when the County Hospital stood on the lot where the High School is now located.

Theatrical Mechanics in Session.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—The grand lodge of the Theatrical Mechanics' Association of America convened today in Odd Fellows Hall. The meeting was called to order by Grand President Butler. After the appointment of a committee on credentials the delegates were welcomed to the city by Mayor Schmitz, and a loving cup was presented to the San Francisco lodge by the grand lodge. The afternoon session was devoted to reading reports.

BURBANK.

LOCAL TALENT IN DRAMA.

BURBANK, July 17.—At the I.O.F. Hall on Saturday evening was rendered the comedy drama in three acts entitled "Colorado," under the auspices of the Burbank Athletic Club, under the direction of W. M. McDowell. The cast of characters included Jake Swall, Fletcher Pomroy, Earl Dufur, Jim Hurst, Victor Lamere, W. McDowell, Ray Sence, Albert Thedeker, William Burlingame, George McGahn, S. Mackerly, Ollie Fairburn, Clara Crane, Mary Hoskins, Carrie Hale, Edna Crane, Lizzie Hurst, Buhla Pomroy, Fay Sense and Cora Meyers.

The Classification of Our Banks.

There are four kinds of Banks: The Commercial, making call loans on Commercial paper; the Savings Society, making loans on lands and bonds; the Building and Loan Society, making loans on lands and buildings; and the Pawn Shop, making loans on jewelry and other personal property, each making a specialty of certain kinds of security, each different in character from the other and every one filling its niche in the world's finance and all making money.

But, surprising as it may seem, the Building and Loan Society is the only form of banking that distributes all the profits of the bank to the public that does business with and through it.

The money deposited by investors is loaned out to borrowers able to furnish first mortgages on real estate as security. The interest received from the borrowers for the use of the money, pays the running expenses of the Association and leaves a balance of 6 per cent. to be divided proportionately among the depositors. It is on this basis that the Continental Building & Loan Association of San Francisco is being run. Their financial standing is of the highest and it behooves any person desiring to deposit their savings in an absolutely sound institution, to investigate the merits of the Continental Building and Loan Association.

STEAK DIDN'T SUIT BUTCHER.

Leaves His Family Destitute After Breakfast Spat.

Mrs. Hammond "Wakes up" in San Francisco.

Lady Wife Had Planned to Support Herself.

Edgar T. Hammond

Mrs. Hammond and her family

The family disrupted by a tough beefsteak.

Hammond came to himself Sunday in San Francisco, wrote his wife a letter of contrition, sent her $10 and said he would return on the next boat.

"I just woke up," he wrote. "Don't know how I got here except that I was put by water. Coming home on the next boat."

Just before receiving the letter from her husband, Mrs. Hammond had prepared to pack her little family into a prairie wagon and drive with them to Ventura, where she has friends and could get work.

Instead of mourning over the strange disappearance of the head of the family the plucky woman had made all ready for the long, hard drive up the coast, even to holding the reins and caring for the children, the youngest of whom is two years and the eldest seven.

She dropped completely from sight after his quarrel at the breakfast table Thursday morning. Search was made at all the hospitals, his wife walked the streets and watched the police stations carefully, and the police made every effort to aid in finding him—all without success.

Well known throughout the city and county, the meat cutter, apparently had been swallowed up by the sea and returned to some barren island.

Members of the Eagles, of which order he is a member, joined in the search without avail.

"I can't believe he has left me for good with these little children to care for," said Mrs. Hammond yesterday. "He always was good to me and I can't understand how he came to go away.

"I am satisfied that he lost his mind temporarily and that he will come back." (This was before the letter had arrived from Hammond, telling of his plight.)

Even as she had satisfied herself that her husband was not in the city, Hammond wrote to one of his friends in Ventura, who immediately loaned her money to tide over her immediate needs and the woman got ready the prairie wagon and wagon, preparatory to making the northern trip.

"I must get these children to care for," she said, "and I cannot wait any longer. Aside from what I received from my sister-in-law this morning, I haven't a cent of money. But I don't think it will be long and we shall be all right."

Hammond formerly was proprietor of a meat market at Pico and Georgia streets and had been employed at good wages at various markets in the city. Recently he had worked at Robinson's market. Allso and Anderson were appearing there for work before last Thursday.

Upon leaving the market to go to his noonday meal, he told his employer that he was not feeling well. "I believe I'll go down and get a drink," he said, and his associates say he seldom returned.

About an hour later the man had left home, after playing with his five-year-old boy, who was celebrating his birthday, and kissing the sleeping baby. He took every cent of money that was in the house.

When Hammond did not return Thursday night, his wife became alarmed and on Friday she notified the police.

On the following day his bicycle was found at a neighboring feed store.

"I suppose he thought the horse might need some feed," said Mrs. Hammond, "and left the wheel as security."

In telling of the disappearance of her husband, Mrs. Hammond spoke of him only in the kindest terms, and declared constantly her belief that he had "lost his head" temporarily, although he never before had been subject to such aberration.

Whatever may have been the cause of his strange departure, Hammond failed to explain in his letter, which was received late yesterday afternoon. "I will explain when I get home," he wrote.

"I suppose he went down to San Pedro or Port Los Angeles," said his wife, "and boarded a boat there. Maybe he was drugged. Anyway, I shall know all about it in a day or two, when he gets home. I was sure he would come back as soon as he came to his right mind."

OCEAN PARK.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

OCEAN PARK, July 17.—Twenty carloads of 8-inch iron water pipe have arrived from the East, to be used in doubling the ability of the local water company to supply the beach. The 4-inch mains are to be taken up and the new pipe will replace it. The job is a large one, and means the outlay of many thousands of dollars.

RANCH TO BE LOTS.

The fifty-five-acre tract of John Metcalf, east of and adjoining Venice, has been purchased by a syndicate, and is being platted. It is being cut into 384 lots, and will be put on the market as Venice Gateway. The electric line runs through it. The streets are being graded and oiled, set to palms, and shade trees, and improved with cement curbs and sidewalks.

GILE MEETS OBSTRUCTIONISTS.

Rex R. Gile of Long Beach has been on a voyage of discovery and he has found several people who don't like The Times.

One business man who has a store in a town not far from Long Beach got mad the minute that Gile's form darkened his doorway.

"Wouldn't have the paper in my place. No use to talk to me. Wasting your time. Damn the newspapers, anyway! You can't depend on them."

Gile managed to get on the good side of the press hater. He learned that the merchant once got into a scrape and was dragged into court. He tried to get The Times to suppress the news of the affair and, on failing to do so, blamed and still censures the paper for his disgrace.

Now he says the newspapers can't be depended upon. A good many other people have learned that there are some newspapers that won't suppress legitimate news.

Nothing daunted by his reputation for linguistic savagery, Gile braces the walking delegate of unionism in his old home town, San Pedro. The man was never known to buy a daily newspaper, bumming his reading at restaurants and other public places. But he surveyed Gile with admiration and said:

"Young man, I admire your gall. Go on with that scholarship stunt all summer and then you'll do for an agitator. You can 'spiel' like one already. The only trouble is you're running on the wrong track. Make a switch and get on the union track."

"Yes," protested Gile. "I might do that, but does the union track run me through a college?"

"No. In this graft you don't need any education. What good is education if you can make money without it?"

And that is all the encouragement Gile received from the so-called leader of bread winners.

At another time Gile wasted effort upon a lawyer who makes such poor use of the English language as to speak of his calling as a "trade." He replied to Gile's opening statement as follows:

Lawyer: I am a lawyer by trade and, young man, you can't talk me into taking anything.

Gile: I know. But can't you help me by giving me your subscription? You get your money's worth of newspaper and I get an education.

Lawyer: My boy, this is nothing but a money-making scheme carried on by The Times and colleges. They have combined to ensnare you young boys and girls into walking advertisements for them. It is simply a tincture of charity.

Gile: I will answer you by quoting from an editorial that was published in The Times at the beginning of the contest. You will see from this that neither the contestants nor the public are deceived.

Gile reads: "Of course, this is a business undertaking. The Times has never pretended that it was aught else, so far as its own relations to the project is concerned. The Times openly and without reserve seeks to win a large number of subscribers through the efforts of the young people who enter upon the contest, and whom The Times rewards liberally for their labors, both with scholarships and with cash premiums."

Gile: Now, Mr. ——, don't you think it honorable for a young man to take up this work? It is the quickest and surest way we can get our education. Last year more than 90 per cent. of the boys and girls engaged in the contest received scholarships. And the highest fifteen of them took cash prizes besides.

But still the "lawyer by trade" was obdurate. He wanted to argue the case, probably being the only prospect of a case or an argument that he had in sight. But Gile was becoming restless for better use of his time.

Lawyer: No, I don't believe in your getting your education in this manner. You come in here and bother me and beg for help. When I was a strong young man like yourself I worked for $10 a week and earned my education, as you ought to yours.

Gile: Well, Mr. ——, as you are a lawyer, I ought to pay you for helping me with this advice. But I have not been working for $10 a week and I can't.

Lawyer: I am obliged to you, young man, for trying to advise me.

Gile: You are entirely welcome. When you want further advice or consultation, call on me. I will leave you my card.

And then Gile went out and met people who were friendly to his ambitions. It is only now and then that the boys and girls in the Scholarship Contest encounter such obstinate cases as those reported by the beach-town candidate. Gile is making such a vigorous, active canvass that he meets all sorts of curious human obstructionists.

BRAWLEY FOR MYRTLE VARNEY.

The Great Imperial Valley sends a budget of coupons and a number of subscriptions in favor of Myrtle Varney of Toltica. The letter is an expression from all those at Brawley, who contribute the coupons and subscriptions and it closes with this assurance:

"The valley people here loyally came to the front in behalf of The Times and their determination to help Miss Myrtle win a scholarship. You will hear from us later."

SENTER IS PLEASED.

Forrest E. Senter, small, manly, earnest and energetic, was made happy today by receiving a voluntary letter from Mrs. Annie L. Todd, 528 Ruth avenue. Among other things this kindly-disposed lady said to the brave and modest little contestant:

"I have never met you, but I like your picture so much that I took it from The Times and mounted it on my mantel in my dining-room. I am sending you what coupons I have. I will save and get you all I can."

Never in his whole lifetime will Forrest Senter receive a letter for which he will be more grateful than the one here mentioned. Impressions made upon children are more lasting than impressions made upon the minds and hearts of the grown-ups. The cheer and assurance of Mrs. Todd's letter sends this boy on his way as an optimist. When he passed the letter to the Scholarship Manager he proudly declared:

"I will let you see a letter that came to me, today. But I want it back. I want to keep that letter always!"

PRIZES AT STAKE.

The contestant having the highest score at the close of the contest will have first choice of the following scholarships. The second highest will have second choice and so on to the bottom of the list. From time to time the list of scholarships will be enlarged as the number of contestants multiply. THE CITY IN BRIEF.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Bankrupt Brakeman.

Frank W. Bacon, a Southern Pacific brakeman resident here, filed a bankruptcy petition yesterday with United States Judge Wellborn. Bacon states that he owes $110.10, and has assets amounting to $269.

Reception to Musicians.

The committee headed by Dr. H. W. Brodbeck, under whose auspices the recent music institutes were held, will tender a reception to the conductors, Grant Colfax Tullar and I. H. Meredith, at the First Methodist Church this evening. The two gentlemen will go to Pomona on Thursday and hold their closing concerts at that place.

In Memory of John Hay.

The members of several of the Jewish congregations of the city will unite Thursday evening in a special memorial service for the late Hon. John Hay, Secretary of State, at the synagogue of the congregation of Beth Israel on North Olive street, near Temple. Several rabbis will take part, and addresses will be delivered by several well-known orators. The service will be open to the public.

Hundreds Going North.

"Every berth on north-bound steamers is taken up to July 26," said a Pacific Coast steamship agent, "and nearly everything is booked up to August 15. This tells the story of over three hundred passengers per week going north, for two steamers, each accommodating 160 passengers go up the coast every week. Honolulu is getting its share of patronage too, several parties having engaged passage for that point, among the latest being W. H. Kelso and family of Inglewood who sail on the 20th.

Death of Mrs. Ainsworth.

Mrs. J. C. Ainsworth, wife of Capt. Ainsworth, formerly half owner of the Redondo properties and electric railway, died early Sunday morning at Portland. H. B. Ainsworth, secretary of the Redondo electric lines left last night for Portland to attend the funeral of his mother and to accompany the remains to Oakland, where they will be buried by the side of the husband and father. At the time of her death Mrs. Ainsworth was living with another son, J. C. Ainsworth, president of the United States National Bank of Portland.

James Bliss Ill.

James A. Bliss, who for the past winter has been a well-known character actor at Belasco's, has been forced to leave the stage, temporarily, at least, on account of nervous trouble. Mr. Bliss's mental affliction came upon him last week, and in the vernacular he "went up in his lines" at almost the last rehearsal of "Dorothy Vernon," so that Louis Bishop Hall was perforce substituted just twenty-four hours before the production. Mr. Bliss is yet a young man, on the threshold of a promising theatrical career, and his friends are confident in the hope that the present trouble is not of serious or lasting nature.

Cartridge in Fire.

When two little girls were taken into the Receiving Hospital yesterday, bleeding from slight wounds in the hands and one of them from a bird-shot wound on the temple, the report flew around that it was another case of playing with a gun. Jessie Lipper and Thelma Teschner, both aged about 9 years, had been watching a bonfire from the steps of the Teschner residence at No. 1120 Echo Park road, when a shot cartridge that had been swept into the fire with other rubbish by Mrs. Teschner, exploded and caused the accident. The wounds were not serious, and after being dressed the children were sent home.

Distinguished Guest.

Mrs. Anna Botsford Comstock of the chair of nature study at Cornell University has been the guest of her cousin Mrs. Silas Sprowls of this city en route to Berkeley where she is engaged as one of the instructors in the summer school. Mrs. Comstock is the wife of John Henry Comstock, professor of entomology at Cornell, who is the author of several books on insect life which are profusely illustrated by his wife who understands to perfection the art of wood engraving, having learned it for this purpose. Mrs. Comstock has been for years a regular lecturer on nature study in the summer university at Chautauqua, N. Y. No woman in this country is more thoroughly en rapport with the life and habits of birds and insects. She has written several books on this subject.

Suit Against Espee.

The United States, through Atty.-Gen. William H. Moody, United States Attorney L. H. Valentine and Special Assistant United States Attorney Joseph H. Call, has commenced another land suit against the Southern Pacific Railroad in the United States Circuit Court of the Southern District of California. In the complaint the Southern Pacific Company and D. O. Mills and Homer S. King of California, with the Central Trust Company of New York, as trustees, are named as defendants. The suit involves the title to more than 100,000 acres of land in the West, and is an echo of the days when under old Atlantic and Pacific grants the zealous forerunners of civilization laid claim to everything in sight. According to the present complaint, title was not made good, but nevertheless the railroad claims to have sold considerable of the land. The complainants ask that the disputed land revert back to the United States, save in cases where it has been purchased by private individuals in good faith. Here $1.25 per acre from the railroad will be the settlement.

THE COUNTESS POURTALES TO BE BORNE TO GERMANY.

And There Comes Out the Story of Scions of a Princely Prussian House Transplanted to Los Angeles. In Emperor's Household.

COUNT JAMES POURTALES, nobleman of Prussia, member of the Emperor William's household, officer of the Emperor's Guard, is about to start from Pasadena on a heart-broken journey, back to Germany, to lay the body of his wife among her ancestors.

Her death in a Pasadena hospital was told of yesterday in The Times.

Germany will wait the cortege with bared heads. It is the daughter of one of the proudest households in Europe coming home. Her epitaph will add a line to a story that is almost as old as the history of Europe.

To her friends in America, the death of this woman means the pain of a personal loss; she was a gentle-hearted, brilliant woman. To the little homes, the little households of the peasantry of the old Pourtales estates in Silicia, it will be an event of vast and melancholy significance, like tolling the knell of a passing generation.

To them, it is the passing of another mistress of the great house.

"James Pourtales: president," on the door of a mining office in the Hellman Building, passed and repassed daily by hundreds of American business men, is all that this community has known of that great story.

Only with the death of his beloved wife, has the place of Count Pourtales in European aristocracy become known to his plain business friends here.

His family and that of the woman who died are hardly second to any in the pride of lineage. Whatever virtue there is in "family" they had drunk it to the dregs.

Countess Pourtales had only lived a short time in California, her fatal illness being contracted on the journey here. She and her husband had rented the Story place in Altadena when she was suddenly stricken.

She had however lived many years in America; was once a reigning belle in Washington and leaves thousands of friends in this country bewailing her death.

She came to this country with her father Francois Pourtales—for she too was a Pourtales. He was a pupil of Agassiz, and accompanied him to this country in 1847, becoming connected with the government coast survey whence his daughter graced Washington society with her presence.

He became the great author of his time on deep sea sounding and was known for his scientific researches rather than for his lineage—as the present Count Pourtales, now of this city, has been known for his business acumen.

He and the wife, now dead, were cousins, descendants of the same great name.

The Pourtales were originally a Huguenot family of noble birth, from the south of France or Spain, driven north into the fastnesses of the Swiss mountains by bitter persecution.

In time some of the family drifted back to Paris, one branch into Prussia and one branch still remains Swiss, to which last pertains the great tragedy of the family.

HEADED REVOLUTION.

The grandfather of the dead Countess was Louis de Pourtales of Neufchatel. For 200 years, up to 1848, Neufchatel had belonged to Prussia; it became a canton of Switzerland.

Louis de Pourtales, a fiery patriot, and a Prussian to the blood of his heart, cherished an ambition to take the province back to the Prussian flag. He organized and led the revolution of 1856 to wrench Neufchatel from Switzerland.

It was supposed that the revolution had the tacit approval and sanction of the King of Prussia; but some inner political event happened behind the scenes. The King of Prussia was made to see the light.

In American dialect, Louis de Pourtales got a cold "thrown down."

His revolution petered out; he was put in prison to be set at liberty only through the intervention of Napoleon III.

His son, Francois, the father of the Countess, did not inherit his father's ambition to change geographical boundaries. He was educated as an engineer, but from boyhood showed a predilection for natural history. He was one of the favorite students of Prof. Agassiz.

This government recognized his worth as a man of remarkable attainments and entrusted to him work that required original research. His papers on the physical geography of the Caribbean Sea and Gulf Stream made anew the reputation of his name in Europe as well as America.

He published a number of scientific works which have become accepted as the standard.

HE OWNS TOWNS.

The great estates of the present Court are in Glumbowitz, Silicia; he owns seeveral towns there.

While her father was adding a new luster to the old name in America by his scientific researches, the daughter had learned to love America. After her marriage to her cousin, the Count, they came to this country to live. Although a man of great wealth already, he was fascinated with the American game of speculation.

He staked out his claim in Cripple Creek, so to speak. It is said that his early operations there, until he learned the game, cost him close to half a million dollars. When he got into the stride he became a splendid player in Count are in Glumbowitz, Silicia; he with some of the biggest operations in Colirado, and constituted the brains of most that he went into.

Their residence was at Colorado Springs, where Countess Pourtales was a great social leader. Every one used to speak of her as "that dear Countess."

"She was one of the loveliest and sweetest women I have ever known," said one yesterday, who had known her well in that city.

While they lived there, one of their neighbors tells of the summons of the Count to go back to Germany on duties connected with the Emperor's household.

It made a great impression on Colorado Springs.

SUCCESSFUL IN AMERICA.

As an American business man, the Count has proved to be a great success.

He was the Nestor of Broadmoor, Colo., the fashionable suburb of Colorado Springs. It was originally a casino; the social position of the Pourtales made it a resort of swelldom. The suburb grew up around it. At that time, as now, Colorado Springs was a city of rich people. The Pourtales were the inner circle of the more conservative society there.

It was Count Pourtales who planned the original Casino building, since burned to the ground and rebuilt.

Through Count Pourtales, members of the European nobility sent over investments that were the means of developing some of the greatest mines in Colorado today.

But after all, the story of his life was his devotion to this beautiful woman, who was his cousin and his wife.

When he goes back to the old home with her body, he will be accompanied by two old servants, who followed them through all their wanderings.

One is a maid who has been the personal attendant of the Countess for thirty-years, since her young womanhood.

The other is a cook, who has been with the family for many years. Both these women are heartbroken, as though it had been one of their own family.

BABY SCOTTY GOLD LINED.

Juvenile Mystery Sets Them Guessing With Coin in Ocean Park.

OCEAN PARK, July 17.—A juvenile Walter Scott, fully as mysterious as his Death Valley prototype and also lousy with shining shekels, was an enigma operating on this beach today. His pockets were lined with gold eagles.

Baby Scotty bought everything his youthful fancy craved, from milk shakes to cameras. In every instance he tendered a gold coin in payment. The lad is 9 years young.

To all inquiries he stated that the gold was a birthday present. Aside from saying that his home is on Second street, the youthful Croesus continued to travel sub rosa, and vanished as mysteriously as had been his appearance.

SKIPPER SAYS 'TWAS HEARTLESS.

CAPT. DISLER MAKES CHARGES AGAINST FALCON.

Claims His Launch "O. K." While Disabled on High Seas, and Under Signals of Distress, Was Passed by Catalina Steamer—Picked up by Government Boat.

John H. Disler of this city, owner of the launch O. K. of San Pedro, had a thrilling experience Saturday morning in mid-channel off Catalina.

Disler was returning, after taking Joe Singer and half a dozen other sportsmen to San Clemente Island for a goat hunt, and was exhausted with the run over.

When about nine miles out of Avalon homeward bound, the O. K.'s crank shaft broke, and thrashed around until it started some of her planking. The boat was hopelessly crippled, and making water fast. There was little wind, it being very early in the morning, and the engine could not be run to pump ship. Disler and the engineer made such sail on her as they could, and set about bailing, as there was a heavy swell racking the boat, and they realized it would be hours before they were likely to be sighted by one of the Catalina steamers. There was only a quart of drinking water aboard and no provisions other than some goat hams. The ocean is a big place, and the walking isn't good. Disler was in trouble, and he knew it. He made signals of distress, hoisting the ensign union down, and blowing the fog horn.

Finally Disler got out in the skiff, and, taking a line, set about towing the O. K. toward Avalon, but made little progress, as she is a big boat, over forty feet long and twelve feet beam.

Soon after noon, Capt. Disler states, the steamer Falcon came up with a load of passengers, and passed within half a mile. Additional signals of distress were made, but Mr. Disler states that the Falcon passed them up apparently unnoticed, though he avers the crew and passengers were looking his way.

The United States revenue cutter Rush, upward bound from San Diego, was at this time about five miles off, but must have seen the signals made by Disler, as she stood by and picked up the disabled launch, towing her into Avalon.

Capt. Disler stated yesterday that the Falcon might have picked him up without losing more than fifteen minutes or going half a mile out of her course.

HAVE NO HOPE OF SAVING HIM.

PATIENT OF CHIROPRACTIC IS SURE TO DIE.

Jacob Rechsteiner Completely Paralyzed by Reason of Alleged Strenuous "Treatment" Given Him by Man Whom He Thought Could Cure Him.

Jacob Rechsteiner, the paralytic at the County Hospital, who claims that he was strung up and beaten by Dr. Story, a local chipopractic, who was treating him, is slowly dying.

Police Surgeon Quint, who treated Rechsteiner several months ago for partial paralysis, visited the patient yesterday morning and both he and Dr. Norton at the hospital gave it as their opinion that the man could not possibly survive. Late last night his condition was critical.

Should Rechsteiner die a charge of murder may be preferred against the chiropractic. As stated in The Times Sunday, Rechsteineh attributes his present lamentable condition to the treatment accorded him by Story, who he says tied him up with straps and struck him a fearful blow across the back in an effort, as the chiropractic claimed, to mend the broken vertebrae. Complete paralysis of the lower limbs resulted.

PET PLAN OF HUNTINGTON.

Nearest His Heart When He Bade City Good-by.

Great Steam Lines Propose Union Ticket Office.

That the time is not far distant when the principal general railroad headquarters, the city ticket offices, and the local offices of the leading foreign lines will be sheltered all beneath the one roof of the Pacific Electric building, is the belief of local railroad officials in general.

Mr. Huntington, as well as the general public, having to do with the railroads, would like to see this end brought about. In fact, it is said to be one of the ambitions of Mr. Huntington to see the Pacific Electric building become a great railroad headquarters.

Today it is a railroad center of considerable importance. The Pacific Electric and the Los Angeles Railway companies occupy the entire seventh floor. The Salt Lake system occupies a large part of the fifth floor, and the offices of the general superintendent of the Southern Pacific and the district engineer of the same road have been installed on the fourth floor, the change having been made from the temporary quarters occupied by these offices to the permanent quarters fixed up especially for them, yesterday. It is possible that the offices of the motive-power department of the Southern Pacific may be moved from the new shops to the Pacific Electric building in the near future.

GREAT STEAM LINES.

Both the Southern Pacific and the Salt Lake have under advisement the offer of commodious quarters on the ground floor of this building, to be fitted for their city ticket offices, as well as for the district freight and passenger offices of the Southern Pacific. And the Santa Fé has under consideration the proffer of quarters on one of the floors of the building for its general headquarters.

Should these roads decide to center their offices in the Pacific Electric building, there is no doubt that the foreign lines having freight and passenger offices in the city, would move their quarters as soon as possible to the same block.

The immense advantage which this arrangement would hold forth to the public and to railroad employés in general can readily be appreciated. Through the establishment of a great center in one building, local shippers as well as visitors and tourists, would find their dealings with the railroads greatly facilitated, and the work of the representatives of the various lines would be facilitated and considerably lightened through being able to visit all of the other railroad offices without leaving the building.

The Pacific Electric building, with its 700 offices, would furnish ample accommodations for all of the railroad interests centering in Los Angeles. Mr. Huntington has given instructions that all needed alterations be made of offices destined for use of railway companies, and the agents of the building are ready to remodel the whole unoccupied lower floor if necessary to suit the needs of railway offices.

UNION TICKET OFFICE.

At the same time there is a movement on foot among representatives of the Santa Fé, Southern Pacific and Salt Lake railroads to establish in the Huntington building a general union city ticket office, which shall be maintained by all three roads on a pro rata basis, for the purpose of selling tickets over any of the lines impartially.

It is pointed out that such an arrangement would be of advantage and convenience to the traveling public, as well as an economy for each of the lines interested.

From the Pacific Electric building, the city car lines give rapid and frequent service to all of the railway stations, as well as to the beach resorts.

While the consummation of this idea is a matter in which Mr. Huntington is much interested, it is not a thing to command his own attention. His personal activities on his return from New York, according to his closest business associates, will be directed as usual along creative lines of general development.

It is not denied that one of the principal objects of Mr. Huntington's eastern trip, is to further extensive plans already laid for the improvement and development of the port of San Pedro, working in conjunction with the Harriman interests in the Southern Pacific and the Salt Lake, and in connection with a well-known Japanese line of steamers, through which it is proposed to divert a large portion of the oriental carrying trade through this western gateway.

The development of Redondo, is another of his interests in which Mr. Huntington will concern himself personally.

TROLLEY ON BLUFF.

In this connection, one of Mr. Huntington's pet plans is the construction of an electric railway, of especially striking scenic features, from Redondo to San Pedro, winding about the brow of the towering bluff, known as Point Vincent, and thence by way of Point Firmin. The proposed route for this road would carry it along the ocean front all of the distance, but at a considerable height above the surf breaking at the foot of the cliffs.

The double tracking of the Redondo electric road will be one of the first works pushed to completion on his return, and although a number of reconnoitering parties of engineers are in the field, it is definitely given out that no more new lines will be built this year, other than those now under construction and contract. Next year, however, according to a prominent official of the company, the Pacific Electric will be found at the head of the procession as at all times, extending new lines into new territories, which are in need of rapid electric traction.

And, although Mr. Huntington is absent, his well-organized forces are perfecting in detail a number of plans which he has entrusted to t.. m, all of which are destined to be of great and far-reaching importance to Los ..ngeles and outlying towns and to the public in general.

PUBLIC SERVICE—OFFICIAL DOINGS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Department estimates, presented to the Council yesterday, contemplate an expenditure of $750,000 more than these departments spent last year.

A union labor "bug" in a petition for an amendment to the electrical ordinance was last night killed by the Legislation Committee.

Spook Howton was yesterday denounced by his fellow-Councilmen for making false statements relating to official business.

Following a Sunday afternoon inspection of dairies on the northern and eastern outskirts of the city, the Health Board yesterday ordered four dairymen to appear at the meeting Thursday night and show cause why they should not lose their milk permits.

There was an exciting scene for a few moments yesterday in Justice Young's court, when P. Doyle made his escape. Jumping into a waiting buggy, he distanced the pursuing officers and got away.

The suit of Police Officer L. W. Folsom of Long Beach to oust from office City Marshal J. J. Conklin was tried before Judge Bordwell yesterday and taken under advisement.

AT THE CITY HALL.

FIERCE DEMANDS OF DEPARTMENTS.

ESTIMATES READ LIKE PAGE FROM FRENZIED FINANCE.

Three-quarters of a Million Increase Asked in the First Bunch. Many More Coming—Water Department Leads all the Rest. Mayor and Council Halt.

Judged by the department estimates filed yesterday with the City Clerk, the cost of municipal living is increasing in about the same ratio as the recent boom of sand lots at Redondo.

Almost $750,000 increase is represented in the first twenty-two departments heard from; estimates of sixty funds have not yet been presented.

That prospective increase of $400,000 in revenue made possible by City Assessor's Lewis' $157,000,000 tax roll now looks about as valuable as the hole in a doughnut.

The blow was too much for Chairman Smith of the Finance Committee. Mr. Smith has been warning the department heads for the last three months to cut their estimates to the bone as the tax rate must come down.

One look at the totals as hastily compiled for him by a deputy in the Clerk's office was enough. "Mr. Chairman" he called, "I desire to ask for a thirty day's leave of absence. I expect to take a trip to Bullfrog."

Mr. Smith owns half a dozen mines at Bullfrog and in its vicinity. The other Councilmen took this request for a leave of absence as his last hope of raising enough money to meet the demands of the departments heads and they promptly voted a vociferous approval.

In aggregate expense as well as in prospective increase of the expense of the municipal year which closed July 1, the water department leads all the rest.

The police department is a good second with an estimate of a $140,000 prospective increase. The fire department and school department ask for about $100,000 extra each.

The Mayor and the Council have set a good example to the other department by each presenting an estimate lower than the expenditure of the last fiscal year; but it was as pearls—er, not exactly that, say as wheat that fell in barren soil.

Councilman Kern looked over the figures and at once suggested that the supply committee make out a requisition for a few axes and a grindstone.

Other Councilmen agree that, while a liberal advance is imperative on account of the rapid growth of the department work, it is not necessary to rebuild all the streets, or to enlarge all the parks, or to build all the new fire houses and police sub-stations in one year. They say that a 25 per cent. reduction on the estimates will leave a pretty good average increase.

The following table shows the estimates of the leading departments for the present fiscal year, the expense of management during the last fiscal year, and the estimates made by the same departments a year ago.

MORE FILTHY DAIRIES.

PURE MILK FIGHT ON.

Another chapter in the pure milk crusade now being waged by the Board of Health was written Sunday afternoon when the commissioners made a personal inspection of ten dairies lying to the north and to the east of the city, and summoned four of the owners to appear before the board Thursday night and show cause why they should not lose their permits to deliver milk inside the city limits.

This chapter is a repitition of those that have gone before, with a few minor variations of especially revolting details. Most of the dairies visited are hidden away in the folds of the foothills, but they were easily located; all that was necessary was to get a few miles to the leeward and follow the smell.

Of the ten dairies visited but one is reported to be in good condition. Three were so bad that the board sent the milk inspector to keep guard until the board can meet to act on the permits.

Mayor McAleer, Health Commissioners Pallette and Kurtz and Milk Inspector Hood composed the party. They started shortly after noon, and the dairies first inspected were those in the Eagle Rock country.

At the second dairy visited over 100 cows were found penned up in a corral reeking with filth. Some of the animals were lying in mire in which not even a self-respecting pig would wallow. The owner was inclined to resent the intrusion of the Health Commissioners, yet he delivers the entire output of his dairy to a local restaurant.

A little farther along thirty-five cows, half a hundred pigs, and a tatterdemalion flock of chickens were found penned up in a corral little larger than a city lot. At this dairy the commissioners found work for the meat inspector. A number of the cows showed symptoms of tuberculosis.

At another dairy the house in which the milking utensils were kept also served as a chicken roost.

Thursday night the owners of these dairies will be given an opportunity to explain. It is probable that a few more milk permits will be revoked.

Warned by the fate of the country dairymen, the proprietors of dairies located inside the city limits are said to be making strenuous efforts to place their corrals and milkhouses in at least semi-sanitary condition. They know that the relentless Health Commissioners will visit them all before the crusade is over.

This is the first milk crusade in which the commissioners themselves have taken to the field; the dairymen realize that excuses will no longer avail them, and most of them are reported to be getting exceedingly busy, cleaning up.

CALLED TO ACCOUNT.

HOWTON GETS DESERTS.

For a few minutes yesterday afternoon forbearance ceased to be a virtue with a few long-suffering officials about the City Hall and Spook Howton got his deserts.

Most exasperating of all the delays which Howton has caused by his obstructionist tactics has been that occasioned in procuring instruments for the use of the new gas and meter inspector. Mr. Jordan won his position in a civil service examination. He is drawing a salary of $125 a month, but cannot go to work until the city furnishes him with instruments for testing the quality of gas and gauging the speed limit of gas meters.

A week ago requisitions for these instruments were prepared and a local wholesale house agreed to telegraph to New York for them in order that they might be delivered at the earliest possible moment. Until they are received the ordinance providing for the inspection of gas and gas meters is a dead letter.

It so happened that the Supply Committee in making out these requisitions did not consider it advisable to place the order with a friend of Spook Howton's who wanted to make a commission on the instruments and who, in order to do so would have sent to England for them, occasioning a delay of at least two months.

Howton was so indignant at this miscarriage of his plans that, according to a statement made to the Council yesterday by Mr. Healy, the representative from the Eighth Ward, he actually hid the requisitions.

Howton further distinguished himself by refusing to put a motion made in the Supply Committee of which he is chairman, authorizing the purchase of the supplies. This motion was made by Healy and seconded by Ford. These two members of the committee have now resolved that the Council shall give them another president or they will resign from the committee.

In attempting before the Council yesterday to justify his action, Howton asserted that "The City Attorney ruled that those requisitions are illegal because they call for an expenditure of more than $500."

"Mr. Chairman, I ask that the City Attorney be called," was the rejoinder from Councilman Healy.

Mr. Mathews came in and said that he told Howton that those requisitions are legal for the reason that neither provides for the expenditure of as much as $500.

Attempting to cover his confusion at thus being branded a falsifier in the presence of his colleagues, Howton started on a wild harangue about what he has done for the Supply Committee.

"When I came in here as President of the Supply Committee," he called, "97 per cent. of the requisitions were marked emergency."

"You are mistaken in your facts," indignantly replied Council Committee Clerk Goodwin, "the percentage is not half that large; the requisition books are on file to show for themselves."

Stung again, Howton made one more trial. "Well, I have saved the city over $1200 a week while I have been on that committee. The other two members are figureheads; the clerk affixes their signatures with a rubber stamp. I am there and I attend to business."

Healy was after him again. "I protest, Mr. Chairman," he indignantly exclaimed. "Mr. Howton is making statements here that are not true. Those requisitions are all on file. They will show that I have signed more requisitions than has the president of the committee (Howton.) The clerk of the committee will bear me out in this statement. I protest against being charged falsely, especially by a member of this body."

Howton commenced an inane apology, saying that he thought he had signed more than anyone else. His apology was received in frigid silence, but the spook legislator finally succeeded in blocking the purchase of the instruments for the gas inspector. Only five other Councilmen were present and it requires six votes to authorize an expenditure of money.

The Council had already arranged to adjourn for two weeks. Rather than to permit so long a delay in the purchase of these supplies the Council adjourned to meet again this morning.

There Are no Flies on Milkman's Baby.

MISS MOORE.

Editor Times: I know your management loves justice and fair play. I desire to correct some wrong impressions that may arise from a criticism that was published in Sat. Times upon my Dairy in which it was reported that the milk cans on my ranch contained flies. I am willing to admit that flies are a nuisance and every effort should be made to exclude them from the dairy. My dairy house is screened and should be free from flies and I have now in process of construction a separate dairy house removed 300 feet from the barns and corralls into which all my milk will be taken as soon as milked and there aerated and cooled. They should have mentioned that my stanchions corral water and cows were commended. I have letters from the health office praising the sanitary condition of my Dairies.

But laying these criticisms aside the effects of a diet should prove its purity. I herewith present to your readers the features of my youngest baby girl whose exclusive diet for two years has been the milk produced by my Dairy. No one will deny that she is healthy and happy. I am the father of 3 such girls and 3 boys. They have cost me nothing for Doctor's fees except when born and a healthier, sturdier, brainier lot of young Americans is not to be found anywhere. And I have seen quite a number of flies on that baby face. She will take her little tin cup and toddle out to the stable and have it filled to the brim then with the expression of a true gourmand spread all over her lovely features drink the health giving fluid—that is if she don't spill some in the process. Need I deny that the flies then court her? And is she any the worse if a little dirt sometimes is found on her sweet face?

Very truly,
E. E. MOORE.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

WILD RIDE FOR LIBERTY.

DOYLE MADE MOST OF A MISTAKE AND SLIPPED OFFICERS.

Complaint Dismissed Before Another Ready to be Filed, and Though Pursued by a Deputy Constable the Horse Dealer Left the Law in the Rear.

P. Doyle, the Broadway horse dealer, who was charged with cheating Edward A. Gerity out of $60 on a deal, showed a clean pair of heels to the bench, bar and officers of Justice Young's court yesterday.

The defendant was before the court for examination, but Doyle's attorney, Fred Thompson, pointed out that the complaint was faulty inasmuch as by a clerical error the year had been omitted. It was clear that the complaint was not good, and Justice Young ordered it dismissed. In such cases the District Attorney's office generally has time to file another complaint, but in this instance there was not rapid enough action.

The attorney's rig was standing at the door of the courtroom, and when the court dismissed the complaint Doyle made rapid strides for the door. With one leap he was in the buggy and next instant the rig was flying down the street. In a strictly legal sense no one had authority to stop him, for no warrant was out for his arrest; but Deputy Constable Jack Adams thought he would take chances on it. When he saw Doyle spring into the buggy he jumped into the first rig he saw standing by the curb and madly chased Doyle. The horse trader had the better rig, and the deputy constable had to return empty handed after a short but hard run.

A new complaint was filed against Doyle last evening and Attorney Thompson said that he would have his client return voluntarily and surrender himself. But the prosecution have their doubts about it, for Doyle is slippery as an eel.

After selling a team of horses to Gerity for $150 he got $60 on account and then turned round with a laugh and told Gerity that though he thought he was a good judge of horseflesh he (Gerity) had been buncoed out of his money. Gerity thought Doyle was joshing him, but the latter soon convinced him that both horses were useless old plugs.

"I told you so," remarked Doyle, and you thought you knew it all after examining the horses, pulling open their jaws and making a peep show of their throats."

Gerity demanded his money back, and threatened Doyle with the law. But the wily horseman told Gerity that if he tried to make a complaint against him the law officers of both city anod county would take a club to him; that they were tired of trying to get the best of him.

"You professed to be a horseman yourself," said Doyle. "You examined both horses and agreed to pay the price; what are you spealing about now?" and he jingled Gerity's money in his pocket.

The latter wants his revenge and another effort will be made to bring Doyle to trial.

MRS. HACKER'S TROUBLES.

HER COSTUMES RUINED.

Mrs. Sadie Hacker and her husband, Morris Hacker, are, according to their own story, suffering great anguish of mind and have been made sick by the treatment suffered at the hands of George L. Loudan, from whom they are now claiming $2290 as damages.

Mrs. Hacker rented the house at No. 156½ North Beaudry avenue from Loudan on an oral lease, and having paid the first month's rent went into possession on July 1 last. On the tenth of the month while absent from their home, it is claimed, Loudan and his agents forced an entrance and removed all the furniture, pictures, crockery, trunks and miscellaneous effects onto the sidewalk. Just why Loudan did this is not told.

In the evening when Mrs. Hacker returned home the spectacle that met her vision made her ill, she says. All that night her property decorated the sidewalk and what with the sun and the dew the furniture was warped and blistered so that it will take $50 to make all straight.

And the packing was a sight to behold! Loudan had broken open trunks so as to make a shipshape job of things from a mans' standpoint. All Mrs. Hacker's costumes, her delicate wraps that had to be handled "this side up, with care," had been dumped into the trunks and then jammed down so as to make room for other odds and ends just as they came to hand. Morris Hacker's clothes were thrown into the trunks and, mixed up with more delicate fabrics, and everything was so tumbled and damaged that Mrs. Hacker thinks $100 will be needed to take out the kinks and creases.

As for the crockery and glassware, it was wrapped hastily in dish towels and thrown into the garbage box until the sides of the box bulged out, and contents were broken and destroyed to the extent of $25.

To cap the climax of Mrs. Hacker's sorrow, some pictures, certain articles of bric-a-brac, a gold watch, four gold rings, and a gold watch fob had disappeared altogether, and as they were highly prized on account of having been received as gifts, $500 is estimated as having been their value.

So shocked and outraged were the Hackers, according to their statement, at finding their things thrown out of the house in the manner indicated, that they became ill. They were compelled to seek shelter from friends, and as their friends are quite numerous, they aver they have also suffered socially in their reputation $1500 worth. The grand total damages amounts to $2290, for which amount judgment is asked.

LONG BEACH SQUABLE.

SUIT TO OUST MARSHAL.

Residents of Long Beach filled Judge Bordwell's courtroom yesterday, and a great number of those present are holding some kind of official position at the seaside town. The suit brought by L. W. Folsom, a police officer, against Marshal J. J. Conklin charging him with malfeasance in office and asking that he be ousted, was on trial.

A large part of the morning session was taken up with efforts on the part of Folsom's counsel to show that the marshal had illegally collected 25 cents from each person whose bicycle was picked up and carried to the police station. Later on in the day the matter was definitely settled when Conklin was on the stand, and when he said that he did collect 25 cents for the care of such bicycles and from the miniature fund so formed kept the officers supplied with soap, etc.

Folsom charged that Conklin had also appropriated certain license money, and furthermore—and this is the gist of the whole matter—he had refused to recognize Folsom as a regularly appointed officer, and had restrained him from using the jail. When he brought in a prisoner Conklin would refuse to permit him to put the man in jail, and on occasions turned the prisoner loose.

As an offset to these charges the City Marshal denied all the charges and claimed that the suit was part of a political scheme to get him out of office.

J. Sylvanus, an accountant and expert who has gone through the accounts of the marshal's office, testified that there was a shortage in his accounts of $634.37, and off this amount about $300 was for licenses. That was a bad showing until under cross-examination it developed that there was some offset. The matter was taken under submission by the court.

VOLUNTEERED ADVICE.

HUSBAND MAKES PLAINT.

The County Board of Equalization have received numbers of communications during the time they have been sitting, asking, begging, imploring that just a little chunk be knocked from off property assessments. But one letter was received yesterday containing advice how much money may be raised for the needs of the county.

Elmer Stearns sold his property on the East Side several months ago and moved to the San Joaquin Valley. The tax papers reached him all right, and they reached County Assessor Ben Ward all right by return and with them the letter referred to. First of all courteously saying that he was not liable under the circumstances—he condoled with the County Assessor in the plight where much money is needed and nobody wants to pay.

"Why not rent some land down at Imperial," he writes, "and make some money that way. I see it reported that a man down there raised better onions than ever were known and sold his entire crop at 3 cents per pound. Now it would cost about $5 per acre rent for the land; $2 to $3 for seed; about $20 to $25 for growing them. You should raise about 1500 bushels per acre on that rich soil. Then at $1 per bushel your land would net you $1450 an acre and 10,000 acres would make you a clear gain of $14,500,000, and that would help you over the summer till the tourists begin to arrive next fall. I don't know of any other method of getting the money except you owned some private refrigerator car lines, or could get land tips like Sen. Mitchell of Oregon.

"I know how it feels to be broke for I have been 'on the hog' myself at times. Thanking you in anticipation, and feeling sorry for your need of money," then follows the signature as "husband-in-fact" for the wife to whom the property was assessed.

SETTLE THE AMOUNT.

ESTIMATING VALUE OF A LIFE.

The suit of Alfred Stern, as administrator of the estate of the late Charles Stern, against the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad Company and the Pacific Electric Railway Company, to recover $75,000 for the killing of Mr. Stern in the collision on December 30, at the end of the Aliso street bridge, went to trial yesterday before Judge Monroe and a jury.

The Pacific Electric Railway Company in making answer had conceded negligence on the part of the motorman in charge of the car upon which Mr. Stern was a passenger, and only the amount to be paid in damages, and the extent of the complicity of the Salt Lake road have to be determined by the jury.

In making his opening statement to the jury former Judge Works, of the firm of Works, Lee & Works representing the plaintiff, intimated that the deceased was in receipt of a salary of $6000 a year, from the corporation he represented, and though he received no salary from other corporations that he managed he derived large profits from them through his superior skill and knowledge. For these reasons, counsel sought to impress the jury with the idea of the actual financial value of Mr. Stern as a money-maker.

Attorney Trask, for the Pacific Electric Railway Company, drew the attention of the jury to the fact that Mr. Stern held almost all of the stock in the company from which he received a handsome salary. Save in so far as a man may draw from one vest pocket and deposit it in another vest pocket, he said he was not prepared to concede the salary as a criterion of the value of the services of Mr. Stern when alive.

Late in the afternoon the court adjourned for the purpose of permitting the jury to be escorted by the court officials to the scene of the collision on the east end of the bridge, where the Salt Lake line crosses the electric road tracks. This morning the further hearing of the case will be continued.

BALKS AT AUTOMOBILE.

RETURNS DEMAND UNSIGNED.

Mayor McAleer yesterday sent a message to the Council explaining his reasons for declining to sign a demand for an automobile for the police department. The price named in the contract is $3150. The Mayor avers that just as good a machine can be purchased for $1000 less.

The message and demand were referred to the Finance Committee.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

AUSTIN DIVORCE. Mrs. Lily Austin was granted a divorce from F. C. Austin by Judge Gibbs yesterday, on the ground of failure to provide.

DEAF AND DUMB. Alice Guenther, daughter of the late "Billy" Guenther, who was well known when running the saloon under the old Orpheum, was yesterday committed to the State asylum at Patton. She was picked up by an officer while wandering on the street, and a particularly sad feature of her case is that she is both deaf and mute. Her mother has remarried and lives on Georgia street, from where the girl wandered away.

REFUSED TO WORK. Sarah E. Barlow, a woman about 69 years of age, was yesterday granted a divorce from George H. Barlow, aged 65, for failure to provide. The case was heard by Judge Conrey and it appeared that the husband is an old soldier, but given to such erratic and lazy ways that the wife could not get along with him. They were married in 1896 and have lived at Santa Monica.

O'NEIL DIVORCE. Judge Smith yesterday denied the application of Mrs. O'Neil for a divorce, but intimated that some allowance on the basis of $100 a month for her support and $1000 for her immediate needs ought to be agreed to. Counsel for the husband said that they would not object if this hearing was to be the last of the matter, but if the fight was to be continued by Mrs. O'Neil then they would object to any such sum as the $1000. This is the Santa Ana case wherein the wife made many extravagant allegations against her husband, and was contradicted by her children and friends.

SENT TO PATTON. T. W. Dalton was yesterday committed to the asylum at Patton by Judge York.

PLAIN DESERTION. Eugene Puissegur was yesterday granted a divorce from Rose Puissegur by Judge Wilbur on the ground of desertion.

FASH GETS DOUBLE DOSE.

I. H. Fash, who amused himself when drunk by throwing a rock through the window of an interurban car, was yesterday given a sentence of sixty days for malicious mischief. Fash lives at El Monte and just completed a sentence on the chain gang as a drunk, in connection with the same offense.

Laura Scott, the colored woman who robbed a fellow named Carlson, from Globe, Ariz., after she had taken him to her room in a cheap lodging-house, was held for trial in the Superior Court, bail being asked in $1500.

O. K. Parker paid a cash fine of $50 yesterday for his attack upon F. B. Roner, of which offense he was convicted before Justice Rose.

W. H. Pauling, a driver for George Rhineschild, was fined $20 for abusing a team already undt for work, and his employer put up the cash.

Union Trick Exposed.

The Legislation Committee last night put a quietus on the walking delegates' proposed amendment to the electrical ordinance by recommending that their petition be "filed."

Recently the union workmen evolved a scheme by which they hoped to rehabilitate the badly dilapidated local union. It was a proposal that a board of examiners be appointed and all electric workmen compelled to take examinations before going to work. In case of a strike these examinations would be a bar to getting men from outside to replace the strikers. But the Legislation Committee discovered the walking delegates' scheme and blocked it by declining to act on their petition.

The Old Time Quaintness of the Colonial
The quaint Colonial style of interior treatment and furniture exerts an irresistible appeal to those who desire simplicity—and who does not? There is no faddishness about it, because it is so thoroughly practical, so restful to the eye, so thoroughly "honest" and comfortable looking.
Modern Colonial Room
On the second floor as you leave the Drapery department you will find on either side an alcove room in Colonial treatment. The alcove itself, you know, suggests the Colonial, and it seemed preferable to treat them in this way rather than inclose them entirely, as we did those in Model Rooms.
These alcove rooms are finished in old ivory with leaded windows in art glass of Colonial patterns, and various pictures of Colonial style are shown in the treatment of the walters, wall decorations, window hangings, etc.
Just allow us to place a few selected pieces of Colonial furniture in one of these alcoves and see how complete the effect is carried out. Certainly you will enjoy the impression and we will be very pleased to make such a display for you.

Niagara Rapids. Bert's Condition.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS—P. M.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The victories of Wright and Ward in the first two matches of the play for the Davis international lawn tennis cup came as agreeable surprises to the local players today. The form shown by the Americans in which they won everything in the Queen Club tournament for the Ashley of London, was not duplicated in the English championships at Wimbledon, and the visitors showed better form than they did last week.

Unless the final tie, the winners are to meet the British team in the Davis cup Friday, Saturday and Monday next. The Americans will have to lose all three of the singles matches in this series to have a chance of regaining the famous trophy, "lifted" over three years ago by the Dohert brothers, two years in succession.

Ward and Wright will play Brookes and Dunlop in the doubles and Wednesday there will be two matches in the singles, to complete the final series. Wright playing Ward and Larned meeting Brookes.

"MAC" BREAKS BUSY RECORD.

ARRANGES PRELIMINARIES FOR MITT REOPENING.

Warren Zurbrick to Show Class in Conceding Ex-San Francisco "Amateur" Ten Pounds — Redhot Milling in Prospect—May be a New Class for Boxers.

T. Jefferson McCarey has been busier than a ground squirrel in rain time all this week.

As a result of the managerial efforts, T. Jeff yesterday issued to a long-expectant public a bulletin of his preliminaries for the fatal night of July 28 when that clever holder of the middleweight title by proxy, Hugo Kelly, will take on Tommy Burns in an endeavor to demonstrate that Tommy Ryan made no mistake when he wrapped up one of his training belts, and passed the package over to the game Italian with the Hibernian name—whether with that tonsilitis prescription which has enabled Bryan to sidestep so many tough nuts during the last few years, or without, unstated.

Both the principals have gone to work for the bout, and are doing as well as could be expected. Even at this date, the prediction is ventured that somebody will get thumped pretty hard that night, and that the genaleman with the Irish name will win if it isn't a draw.

McCarey did not have far to go for his preliminaries. They are quite largely made up of attachés of the two camps, one at Santa Monica and the other at San Pedro.

Warren Zurbrick, who came out with Burns, will concede ten pounds to Bonner Wilts, the crack San Francisco "amateur" middleweight, who recently admitted his professionalism. Bonner must weigh in at 154 at 6 o'clock the night of the bout. Zurbrick is a legitimate welterweight, and a tough nut. He will have a good chance to show his class, and maye hope for something better later on if he does the right thing. The same dope goes for Wilts.

Terry Davis, a local amateur who made a good showing in some of Bro. Crane's "amateur" goes recently, will also break into the professional ranks. He will probably have to use a jimmy or some other burglarious tool to make his opponent, Tommy Jacobs, fight; but if Thomas cuts loose from his monkey-shines, and trains for a few days on something less barbaric than sauer kraut and fricadellen—which is Dutch for chopped cabbage pickled in sulphuric acid with pork sassidges on the side like mother didn't use to make on the farm—the dope will undoubtedly point to Jerusalem.

These boys are featherweights and will box at about 124 pounds, if Jacobs can get a leg sawed off without bleeding to death so as to make the weight.

"Spider" Kelly will come down from San Francisco to occlude the observation of the referee and earn a decision for his man, the victim being Burns. Tommy wanted the spider and wouldn't have it otherwise. As long as the public doesn't get the Kellys mixed, all will be well.

Spider has promised to uncork a few carboys of special hot air borrowed from Col. Martin Brady specially for the occasion, and will show Los Angeles what a real live 'Frisco sporting man looks like.

Jack Root, whose most recent claim to fame is the colossal dent in his porch from which Marvin Hart's fist was recently extricated by aid of a derrick at Reno, Nev., has consented to second Hugo Kelly for the bout.

McCarey has envolved a great and unique scheme of manufacturing a special class between the middle and light heavies, and of offering a thousand dollar belt for it, pulling off a sort of tournament to pick the national 160 pound champion.

Bad Weather Stops 'Mobes.

BRETTONWOODS (N. Y.) July 17.—Bad weather interfered with the plans of the automobilists who were scheduled to make endurance tests in climbing Mount Washington today.

FISH SWARM AT BEACHES.

SPORTSMEN MAKE BIG CATCHES AT ALL RESORTS.

Some Phenomenal Luck Fills Baskets of Those Who Fished at Huntington Beach—Surf Playing no Favorites — Good Catches Ruled Outside.

"Bronco" Joe Spear broke all known records for getting hold of big surf fish and losing them at Hermosa Sunday.

Between wrestling with adult corbina of undeniable vigor and sidestepping pretty school girls who were trying to shove off sand lots on the unwary with that same sweet smile that so signally succeeds in the church sociable game, anglers indeed had a strenuous time of it. Added to the rest, Prof. R. Campbell had a considerable row with a pair of citizens who are interested in the company at Hermosa and objected to the fishermen taking a few four-bit benches out of the pavilion for their wives to sit upon while fishing from the wharf, there being no benches built in against the rail as is the case at most resorts where the anglers are encouraged as a desirable element. The old genileman remonstrated at being summarily requested to bring back his bench upon penalty of arrest and called the bluff in language less poetic than forceful. It made the fish quit biting for fifteen whole minutes, and stopped the scramble for sand lots nearly fifteen full seconds. Bloodshed was averted, however, and Campbell took it out on the fish.

At all the resorts, Sunday was a banner day. The surf fishing was never better. Good messes were the rule rather than the exception. Catches of fifteen to twenty were too common for comment. Big fish, never plenty, were not scarce. Every wharf showed several. Crowds of rodsters elbowed each other at each resort, and many were driven onto the beach. Casting into the surf was productive of good results, and the traditional ill-effect of full moon on the fishing was dosed with the same medicine as that meted out to most piscatorial theories when the cold light of practical experience is thrown upon them.

Huntington Beach, as usual, was the best ground. A hundred fished there during the day and a number of fish scaling over three pounds were landed. H. Slotterbeck and wife had forty-seven. Three and a half pounds was the best. F. Wilding and wife got half a dozen each. Sherman Baker, Smith Warren, Chas. Luckenbach, Jerry Mullen, Billy Warden and others who fished from Bolsa Chica to Huntington Beach, all made killings. The sport everywhere ruled best on the outgoing tide, which upset another time-honored theory, though such indeed has been the rule at Huntington Beach.

At Manhattan, Maj. Fairbanks, P. Lazarus and others got small bags of unusually large fish, the nippers having evidently moved upon Hermosa in full force, as Messrs. Bottler, Campbell, the Nordkngers, W. H. Conrad and wife, Joe Spear, and many others caught big messes. Ed Germain caught eight, all large, one weighing over three pounds. Broncho Spear had hold of not less than thirty-five during the day and lost two-thirds of them through having too many rods in action.

The game outside was of the best. Parties slaughtered the barracuda and had a smell of big game in the form of yellowtail and bonita which struck on splendidly. Guy Loveiace, Bob Brady, Lee Slocum, Louis Breer, and others of the Tufts-Lyon force who went outside San Pedro got about fifty fish, half barracuda, about a third rock bass, the rest yellowtail and bonita. At Huntington Beach a killing was made also by the trollers.

NOT SATISFIED WITH RECORD.

NARES CAN LOWER HIS OWN TIME, HE BELIEVES.

Made Run to San Francisco in Twenty-four Hours, Fifty Minutes and Says He Can do it in Twenty and One-half Hours—Will Try Again.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The mark fort the elapsed-time automobile run from Los Angeles to San Francisco faded away into fog when Tony Nichols, driving L. A. Nares' 30-horsepower Pope-Toledo car, sighted the lights of San Francisco, early this morning. With Nares beside him and Burr Frayer and R. W. Fowler in the tonneau behind, Nichols came down Market street in a cannonball finish and held up his hand to the timers just as the hands of the Chronicle clock pointed at 4:50 a.m. The party had left Los Angeles at 4 o'clock the previous morning and were within fifty minutes of making the trip in an even day.

In their remarkable feat of chasing the hour hand of the clock around the dial, they were held up for two hours by a broken spring, had experienced fire in the car on account of an exploded torpedo, and had been delayed forty minutes to draw the poor quality of oil taken on en route from the gear case, not to mention a couple of punctures. They had lowered all previous marks 4hrs. 41mins.

And yet Nares, who is president of the Fresno Canal and Irrigation Company, is not satisfied. He says he can turn the second trick in 20½ hours, and agrees to prove the assertion by actual performance, later in the season.

There are now three records for automobiles for the elapsed-time run from Los Angeles to San Francisco, the fastest time mark for all types of cars, which might be termed the "open record," held by Nares and the 30-horsepower Pope-Toledo touring car at 24rs. 50mins.; the two-passenger record held by Whitman and his Franklin 15-horsepower, four-cylinder runabout, at 29hrs. 31 mins.; and the four-passenger record for medium-priced cars, held by the two-cylinder Rambler, at 21hrs. 35mins.

JACK WELCH REFEREE.

BRITT GIVES HIS ASSENT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Jack Welch will referee the contest between Britt and "Kid" Sullivann ext Friday night. This was decided at a meeting held tonight between the managers of the boxers. There was no wrangling over the matter at all.

Al. Herford made the statement that it had been ascertained that Eddie Graney's services could not be obtained, and he was perfectly willing that Jack Welch should act. Willie Britt immediately said that Welch suited him, and there being no opposition from the club, the thing was settled at once.

HERRERA HOME READY TO BOX.

BAKERSFIELD MEXICAN LIKELY TO APPEAR HERE.

Has Returned from Extended and Successful Tour of the East in Which He Defeated a Number of Good Men, and Accumulated a Lot of Coin of the Realm.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

BAKERSFIELD, (Cal.) July 17.—Aurelio Herrera, the lightweight pugilist arrived home today, after an absence of two years. The Bakersfield Mexican has been before the public all that time and was successful in frequent ring encounters on the Atlantic Coast. Herrera comes home looking well and feeling quite independent. He wears a torchlight on one of his fingers and a jeweled bonfire illuminates his necktie. To his select friends a bulging pocket book was exhibited. Herrera will rest quietly in this city for one month, during which time he will exercise moderately and strengthen up his right hand which was damaged in his Grand Rapids match with Charles Neary.

The Bakersfield fighter said that while away from home he contested with some of the best men in the business and more than held his own. He saw Abe Attell box Nelson and says the Hebrew easily won, but that Kid Sullivan had only a slight margin if any over Nelson at Baltimore.

"I signed articles and can show a receipt for my deposit that I made with Hereford to fight Kid Sullivan. Hereford wanted me to take on Tom Daly in the meantime and after I decisively beat him, the manager refused me a chance. Daly had previously secured a victory over the Washington boy," says Herrera.

"In meeting Harry Lewis at Baltimore and young Erne in Philadelphia I think I fought two of the best lightweights the East has. Then I went to Boston and took on Kid Goodman. It was a fifteen-round affair and came off at Chelsea, before a great crowd. I won and the Hub sports treated me better than I ever fared before. My next good engagement was with Charles Neary at Grand Rapids, Mich., last month. Neary is a German and is the hardest game I ever met. We have already had three engagements. We were matched to fight on 'Miners' Day in Butte, Mont., this month," continued Herrera, "but the sheriff stopped the mill. Jere Clifford, the fight promoter, has a grievance against me and he did the business. I have had thirteen battles in Montana and have quite a following in that State with the people who patronize boxing matches. Louis Long won a decision from me in Butte and we were rematched. On this occasion Clifford sent for me. He informed me he knew that I could beat Long, but offered me $5000 to lay down. I refused to sell out and went in and won from Long."

Herrera made this statement before a number of people today and offered to affix his signature to it.

The Mexican displayed telegrams from the Colma Club and one from Tom McCarey of Los Angeles. McCarey wants Herrera to fight Eddie Hanlon in Los Angeles next month. The Bakersfield boy replied that he would take on Hanlon and give the latter a reasonable weight advantage and a side bet, but he is afraid that Hanlon does not want any of him. Herrera says he nearly made Nelson quit in Butte when they met and does not think he can get a match with him.

"I would like to get a match in my native State," said the Mexican in concluding, "and I will wager $500 that I can defeat the winner of the Britt-Sullivan mill."

LOOLOOS HOME.

PLAY SEATTLE NEXT WEEK.

The Looloos returned yesterday from the north in fairly good shape after a trip that hardly, without mental apology, could be considered successful.

The team has felt the need of a seasoned pitcher very badly. True, Wright and Tozer, the new twirlers, are a good pair of youngsters and have done some clever work, but after all, the chief difference between a Chesbro or a Joss, and a rank rasher is the "noodle," and that which begets it—the experience. This, a youngster cannot have. Young ball players are what the game needs, but an old pitcher or two on a team to coach the youngsters and go in for a headliner when a game has to be won is what counts.

Dillon's men have had considerable hard luck in the north—perhaps a little more than their share. Hall's split hand put him hors du combat for a long time, and Flood's misfortune of course kept him out of the game. These two were indeed a bad pair to lose, and particularly so at such a critical period of the pennant race as that in which the team went north.

The locals will take on Seattle next, but the series will not begin until Wednesday, as the Siwashes cannot arrive in time to play today. The usual six-game series is scheduled, the final game occurring next Monday.

Hall will probably be in shape to do himself justice henceforth, though his injury was very painful and obstinate.

"RAILROADED" BASEBALL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) July 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] They are dead game sports in Everett. By chartering a special train at Everett, the team was taken to Bellingham, yesterday morning, to play off the postponed game, and was then rushed back to Everett to play the regular game that afternoon. Everett won both games, and is now tied up with Vancouver for first place. McCloskey is an old campaigner, but he was caught napping that time, and now his remarks are not fit to print.

The finish in the Northwest League was one of the hottest ever seen on the coast. Bellingham, the leader, almost from the beginning of the season, was overhauled by McCloskey's heavy hitters about two weeks ago, and it seemed all over but the shouting. While Bellingham and Vancouver were fighting each other's heads off, no one paid much attention to Billy Hulen and his Everett bunch. Billy had been quietly at work plugging up a hole here and bracing up a weak position there, until he entered the stretch, and then he came on in a tremendous burst of speed and collared the two leaders.

INTERNATIONAL CHESS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A. M.]

OSTEND, July 17.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Play in the international chess masters' tournament was resumed today. Two games had been concluded prior to adjournment for luncheon.

By defeating Tschigorin, Maroczy was able to tie Janowski's score, and for the time being these are on a level for first place. Schlechter drew his game with Marco, Wolf won from Blackburn and Alapin defeated Taubenhaus.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, July 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The bookmakers at Del Mar have become defiant and fearlessly ignore law making pool-selling a felony. Up to this week, half a dozen handbook operators took care of all business at Delmar, but today twelve penciliers openly engaged in the business of registering wagers on ponies.

A raid by Sheriff Korpel, a few weeks ago, put a temporary damper on the game, but with a reduction in the price of admission from $1.50 to $1.00 and consequent large attendance. Six bookmakers were found inadequate to transact business. Nearly 200 women were out today. Persistent followers of racing game, who had been crowded out by an extra charge of 50 cents for admission, who wagered their household allowances with old-time vim.

It was current talk, today, that the Western Jockey Club has put up a fund of $100,000 to tide the Delmare race track through its present troubles, but the report cannot be verified here.

Maybe it was "Scotty" and the language he used which heated up the New York weather that way?

It's just as hard for a poor man to crawl through the eye of a needle as it is for a rich man or a camel.

Gen. Trepoff's chance of being neither a policeman nor a politician is so good that he's figuring on it, himself.

New York is really becoming so rotten now, that the lid cannot be kept off any longer. People would die of the smell.

The brand of weather that was in New York when he set sail for the Pole must have made Peary glad he was headed that way.

Joe Folk would make a good President of the United States, and he might be elected to that office if it weren't for one reason. He's a Democrat.

If the exposure of one's private life is the penalty of wealth, how many men are there in the world who wouldn't prefer to remain poor?

The grand dukes of Russia are apparently of the same moral caliber as Sir Jack Falstaff, only they have more money than poor, old wicked Jack had.

The war dispatches state that Linevitch is "pushing out both wings," which, to a raw recruit, looks somewhat as though the general has an idea of soon becoming an angel.

If those Russian grand dukes who are now drinking champagne from the slippers of vaudeville actresses find the wine turning to blood, some day, it will be themselves they will have to blame for it.

People in Chicago are still dying from the effects of the Fourth of July. And it wasn't at all necessary that they should do so. Patriotism doesn't demand that any man shall commit suicide.

Of course, when one doesn't know any better, or never has had a taste of the real thing, one might live in that Eastern climate for some time. But wouldn't it be worse than a jail sentence for a Californian to be sent back there to live?

Those New York blackmailers were simply hurrying matters up a little, that's all. The same testimony will be produced when the goats are separated from the sheep, as we all gather together in the last great assemblage on the other side of Jordan.

We note the presence in Russia of an organization called the Boulgan Guards, but whether or not it is an exact copy of the once famous Mulligan Guards of New York, it is impossible to tell, at this distance.

Possibly it is true that the Russian Dowager Empress is ambitious to play the role of Catherine. If she can do so, and plays it as Catherine played it, you all may look to see some mighty upsetting moves made in Muscovy about the third day after the Catherine business starts up.

We should think the Czar wouldn't hesitate a minute about turning his job over to the Dowager or anybody else who might be willing to take it. There's only one other job that we know of which could be called worse than the job of being Czar of Russia at the present writing, and that's filling the lion's teeth in a circus.

If a man is poor nobody cares whether he's got skeletons in his closet, wheels in his head or microbes in his mind. Consequently the blackmailer overlooks him, highwaymen don't stop to bother him, the assessor and the tax collector don't know what his name is, and, unless he's a growler he lives happily till he dies.

Owing to the stories going around concerning the mineral wealth of the Funeral Mountains, there is likely to be a stampede to them, and, as a consequence, a great many funerals without pallbearers, mourners, or benefit of clergy. It's a hot and a deadly trail, and it's a long ways between water holes on that blistered road of misery.

England's proposition to reduce Ireland's Parliamentary representation is not without precedent. On several occasions that representation was wiped out altogether. But, maybe Ireland will have a Parliament of her own, some day, again, just as Canada and Australia now have. Why not? It would mean better government for Ireland, and more peace for England.

BUSINESS.

A firm undertone prevailed in the New York stock market. Moderate strength was shown in a few cases. The market at Chicago for wheat yielded to selling pressure, and the close was extremely weak with September at 82 7-8.

THE BLACK MAN'S BURDEN.

We hear a great deal, now and then, about "the white man's burden," but the black man has his burdens, too, though never a word is said about them by anybody. The negro, the world over, has had a lot of heavy loads on his back since time began, not to speak of the lashes and the blows that same poor back has had to bear. But patiently has he borne his burdens—our brother of the dark skin—patiently and bravely has he borne them, indeed.

Among the present burdens the negro has to bear is the senseless enmity of certain envenomed white men who are known as, and who pride themselves upon being "nigger haters." The prince of these is Gov. Vardaman of Mississippi, of whom it was set forth in yesterday's telegraph columns of The Times that he is about to make a campaign for his election to the United States Senate on the platform of the repeal of the Fifteenth Amendment. Furthermore, Vardaman has the audacity to say that, if elected, he would devote his energies to educating the North up to his ideas of the "justice" of disfranchising the negro, leaving him without a vote in his native country, a voice in a government of which he is a living part, and eliminating him wholly from the political life of the nation.

Of course, there is not the slightest possibility that Vardaman's ambitions will ever be realized as far as disfranchising the negro is concerned. The long-haired and narrow-souled Governor of Mississippi may work his way into the Senate—for there's no telling what may happen down there in the Bayou State—but he would prove perfectly harmless. There is to be no disfranchisement of American citizens, just now, or at any other time, whether they be black or white.

This latest Vardaman outbreak, if it serves any purpose, serves but to again bring to mind the fact that the negro question is no longer a question, at all. And that this is so, we have to thank the negro, himself. It is he who has solved the problem by his own courage, industry, patience and virtue. There are bad negroes, but not more of them, pro rata, than there are bad white men. It is, indeed, inspiring to look back upon the splendid achievements of our negro fellow citizens since they came "up from slavery." Look where you will in all the busy walks of life and you will find the black man there, holding his own and often even outstripping his white brother in the race for success. Law, medicine, science, art and literature must all reckon now with him. And in the humbler vocations, as husbandman, laborer or mechanic, he is fulfilling his destiny and doing his work, steadily, industriously, honestly and well.

We rejoice in the black man's success, yea, in his triumphs. In the face of fearful odds he has won his victories. There is peace and plenty today in his home. Happiness sits with him at his hearthstone. His children are growing up strong and bright and good, to cheer and bless and reward him. His day has come. God speed him to even better days in the years that are yet to be.

An Industrious Artist.

Bacon: Is that possible?

Egbert: It is. He was a month painting it, and four years trying to sell it. —[Yonkers Statesman

DIRTY MILKMEN.

If municipal ownership were a feasible proposition we should advocate its extension to the cud-chewing, milk-making, female cow. Not with any idea of demonstrating the truthfulness of a false principle in municipal economics, but to insure a sanitary administration of the dairying industry and put a pack of unclean scamps on the bum. Things being as they are, with municipal ownership per se a dangerous fad, let us talk by day and pray by night for the unlimited success of the warfare now being waged against dirty milkmen.

The dirty milkman as an individual is too low in the social scale to merit editorial notice, but as an institution, the by-product of an effete and somewhat slovenly civilization, he must be reckoned with in the field of white paper and ink. Consider the beast! Dealing exclusively in what is supposed to be the purest, healthfulest, most innocent beverage provided for man to drink, he not only robs us for a few pennies by swelling its bulk with emasculating fluids, but outrages our patronage by "treating" it with embalming solids and slewing it around in filthy places because reasonable sanitation would decrease his immediate profits, or because his own microscopic soul is so envermined that thoughts of physical cleanliness are beyond his scope. How many babes, denied the mother's breast, are yearly slain by the dirty and dishonest milkman, walking abroad in the guise of diseases with learned names! How many children annually sicken and die of causes which, if the truth were known, would point to unclean and unscrupulous milkmen as their murderers! How many adults each twelvemonth take into their defenseless systems the germs of insidious and sometimes fatal disorders because unkempt and conscienceless milkmen sell them germ-infected milk in their kitchens! Diphtheria, scarlet fever, typhoid, smallpox, tuberculosis and a score of other infectious maladies are being continually, and more or less generally, purveyed by the vehicle of polluted milk. Chemists have found that there is no commercial fluid better adapted to the nourishing of disease germs than the milk of cows.

Such diseases as have been mentioned, and many others as dread, find lodgment more naturally, and thrive more vigorously in damp and dirty surroundings than in sanitated atmospheres. For this reason, and because milk is a prime germ-nutrient, it is of serious importance to a community that its milk supplies come from clean places and be kept free from adulterant tamperings. Strict supervision of Los Angeles's dairy stations is imperative to the health of the city. Prompt revocation of the licenses of dirty milkmen is a stroke in defense of the integrity of the bovine udder and a blow for the protection of its commercial counterpart, the sacred human stomach. For the honor of the cow and the sake of her acknowledged master, would there were jail laws to give the dishonest scamps a harder scare!

THE WHOLE WORLD PLAGUED.

In Russia anarchy is straining at a leash whose strands seem to be snapping one by one. In Germany the long-haired dogs of Socialism are snapping at the spurred heels of royalty. The United States is impudently threatened by the blackjack of union labor. South Africa, a few years ago a populous and a prosperous republic, in the lapse of a breath has become a dreary desert. England wakes with a shock to find her boasted backbone crumbling, her pride of rural strength a dissipated asset. And now Australia seems about to be ravished and looted by a preponderating band of so-called citizens who would drag her down into the dust to appease their own brutish desires. "The Socialist Party," these franchised fools call themselves, and their platform includes such savage idiocies as the abolishment of the institution of marriage, because marriage means a home and home incites men to the accumulation of wealth; also they propose to banish all people of color from the island kingdom and make a "white Australia," because they are absurdly ignorant or viciously heedless of the truth that vastly the greater part of that country is totally inadaptable to white labor.

Verily, there appears to be a carnival of plagues in vogue in this big, round world. Save that eight-tenths of us are all still sane, the days of mobs would seem to be perilously near at hand.

A Bacteriological War.

Humanity is now between two fires on the germ proposition. On the one side are the bacteriologists, great and learned, who declare that microbes will eventually cause the extinction of the race. On the other side are other bacteriologists, equally great and learned, who asseverate that without certain microbes the race would speedily cease to exist. How to dispose of the malevolent microbes without also killing off the benevolent microbes is the question that is now presented to our attention. If we fail to settle it perhaps we may console ourselves with the reflection that the human race has demonstrably existed for 10,000 years, from which we may reasonably argue that it will last as much longer—microbes or no microbes. As few of us will be present at the expiration of that period we may safely spare our apprehension.—[Chicago Chronicle.

Army and Navy Cooks.

A bad cook on shore can break up a happy home, while put him afloat or in garrison and he will send a ship's company or a regiment into the "brig" or the guardhouse by squads. The men in Uncle Sam's uniform can no more live without cooks than any other civilized man. The army and navy cook is at last coming into his own, and though the government may still hesitate to recognize him as an artist, it is at least compelled to regard him as a specialist. Like the strategist or the torpedo expert or the farrier, he is now to have special schools in which to develop those natural gifts without which cooks are as impossible as poets.—[Cleveland Plain Dealer.

AMONG MEN OF ACTION.

Lost in the desert, penniless, nearly dead, first from thirst and several times from hunger, J. G. Dudley-Brooks, a young Englishman who was at the Van Nuys Hotel yesterday, has had enough experiences in the West in one year to last him for awhile. If he did not have the signs on his face and frame, and a knowledge of his localities, it would be hard to believe what he relates.

The young man, who is only 24 years old, came out from England a arw tenderfoot, a little over a year ago. He left home under a cloud and was sent out West by some friends. For the last nine months he had not corresponded with his people.

During the time when he was lost on the desert for two days without water, deprived of all his money which he had lost in a Goldfield gambling house, and working at ranches and small mines as a roustabout, his parents were writing and cabling all over four States to find him. A few days ago he communicated with them from Los Angeles and as a result, he is starting for home today.

Green and raw as he was, he was an easy mark and the few hundred pounds he had when he came out were soon gone. He made for Goldfield, which was just beginning to boom. Soon he was stranded without a single friend. The last $100 he lost in a gambling house.

He set out, on foot, for De La Mar, in Lincoln county, Nev., near the southern border of the State. He had heard that Simon Bamberger of Salt Lake City was employing men at the Bamberger De La Mar mine. Without any idea of the undertaking and difficulty of getting there from Goldfield, even with a team and a knowledge of the country, he started out on foot, English fashion, and without a penny. It was a wonder that he got anywhere at all. As it was, he was lost completely, on the wild alkali flats west and north of Pioche, Nev. At one time, he found afterward, he was within two miles of a mountain that had three springs. But he was eventually found by a prospector on the point of exhaustion. What he had heard of De La Mar, he found, was not true. There was no work to be obtained, at least for a greenhorn. He wandered around from ranch to mining camp getting what work he could. He was at Searchlight when an Englishman who knew him, saw him. He talked with him and learned a little of what young Brooks had gone through. When he got to Los Angeles, this Englishman wrote to a mutual friend in Denver, telling him that he had seen young Brooks. The Denver man had been asked for news of Brooks's whereabouts, and he immediately put Brooks's friends in England in possession of what he had heard. They lost no time in communicating with him.

Brooks was not willing to say much about his misfortunes when he found he was talking to a newspaper man. But, he says, it should be a lesson to other Englishmen. "I suppose it has been awfully good for me," he said, "but even the memory is unpleasant. Those two days when I was lost were the longest a man could ever go through. I was aimlessly stumbling around, not knowing where I was going after a time. In fact I got so that I did not care. Old Jake Britten, the prospector who found me, told me 'You don't deserve to be found, nohow, starting out in a damphool way like that.' But it didn't seem much to me. Over in England we are used to walking a good deal, don't you know.

"One thing I have learned," he said, "is that a chap is taught an awful lot of things in England that are of very little use to him, and that unfit him for fighting his way in a hard country like this. Without a trade, it was no wonder that I nearly starved to death several times. I would strike a man for a job and he would ask me, 'Well, what kin yer do?' At first I used to reply that I couldn't do anything, but was willing to learn. But I learned to change that answer. Now when a man asks me what I can do, I say that I can do anything, and I go further to specify that I can do a whole lot of things which I really only hope to be able to do some day. At any rate, it's all over now."

A large and responsive audience listened to the lecture of Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus on "Cromwell and His Times," at the Chautauqua Assembly yesterday afternoon. It was one of his great efforts. It was not biographical, but was rather a succession of historic pictures—brief sketches of those who played a prominent part in English history at the end of the Fifteenth and beginning of the Seventeenth century.

He showed how statesmen and poets, reformers and explorers, courts and parliaments, commerce and arms, European dissensions and American opportunities, had influenced the life of young Cromwell and fitted him for the career which was to make him the greatest of English statesmen. He then, with a few skillful strokes, sketched the parts which Queen Elizabeth, Sir Walter Raleigh, John Pym, John Hampden, Lord Bacon, Cardinal Wolsey, Drake and Frobisher, Shakespeare, Milton and Ben Jonson, Henry VIII and James I, and other contemporaries played in the great drama of English history in the Sixteenth century.

On his return from Long Beach Dr. Gunsaulus was accompanied by a party of old college chums who graduated with him at the Ohio Wesleyan University in 1875. The Doctor recalled how he and Rev. John Shannon preached their first sermons to each other, in their college dormitory, and knocked over and broke the water pitcher in the earnestness of their gesticulations. Another classmate is Judge Neff who adorned the Chicago bench for eight years. The last time he met the Judge he asked him if he had got over saying "I opine" for "I think." The learned Judge acknowledged that he had got out of that habit. The Doctor is troubled with a lameness in one of his joints which is at times very painful. He went to New York and spent $8000 among the specialists without getting relief. He consulted the great Lorenz when he was here, prepared but dreading to make another pecuniary contribution to the cause of medical science. After a thorough examination, Lorenz told him to cheer up, as he could not do him any good. But the Doctor looks the picture of health and vigor, and young for his years, just fifty.

How to Toughen Boys.

If you want to make an all-around good-for-nothing tough out of your boy just butt in and take his side in every question which comes up between him and the teacher, and if you want him to have a good start to the penitentiary be sure and let him know that he can always depend upon your assistance in whatever trouble he may get into in school, right or wrong.—[Harvard, Kans., Courant.

Settling a Strike.

"No, sir! This strike will go on until the cause of the oppressed triumphs. It can't be stopped, it can't be crushed. It is a struggle to the finish."

"How would about $350 for your personal needs strike you?"

"As I said before, this strike can't be crushed—but I didn't say it couldn't be called off. Where's the money?"—[Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Wulfenite, Not Wolframite.

TOPOCK (Ariz.) July 2, 1904.—[To the Editor of The Times.] Under separate cover I send you by express about one pound of crystals of a pinkish color said to be wolframite. Will you please describe the mineral "In the Earth," give me tests for same, and the commercial salts obtained therefrom, and oblige the humble prospector? R. T. Y.

ANSWER: Your crystals are those of Wulfenite and not Wolframite. The heathenish names given to many objects and data which stand for descriptions in the so-called sciences, are as confusing and alike, when pronounced, as the two stated. If common-sense methods are to prevail it would be well for the members of "the three black graces" (law, divinity and medicine,) to demand a more practical glossary of terms, and as soon as conveniently may be, eliminate the monkey language now in vogue. A word can be said in favor of Wulfenite, it being a name, with the usual "ite" of mineralogy added, but as to Wolframite, founded on Wolframium (Latin,) and "tungsten" of the Germans, with its brownish brother, hubnerite (lacking in iron,) and the white, prominent member of the family, scheelite. The three should be known as ores of tungsten, or as tungstates of the respective combined metals.

Wulfenite such as yours is almost pure. It is a valuable ore of molybdenum, and is popularly known as a molybdate of lead, which, as a rule, is in formula molybdenum trioxide, 38.5; lead oxide, 61.5—100. The color of the mineral is often yellow. If vanadium be present it is an orange-red, or bright red. Chromium is occasionally associated. The mineral is of good commercial value, but it occurs sparingly in nature. Its hardness is 3, of a vitreous or admantine lustre, in colors as stated, and rarely gray or white. Crystallization tetragonal, and again hemihedral. Brittle. "In modified square tables and sometimes very thin octahedrons. Cleavage smooth, generally." Fracture granular and subconchoidal. Density, 6½. Decrepitates (niter-like) and fuses at 2 (in the scale of fusibility.) B.B., with borax a colorless glass bead is usually obtained which in the reducing flame becomes black, or different shades of green. With the blow-pipe flame played upon a small chip on charcoal, to which a little sodium carbonate is added, a bead or beads of metallic lead will be obtained. "Decomposed on evaporation with hydrochloride and molybdic oxide; on moistening the residue with water and adding metallic zinc, it gives an intense blue color, which does not fade on dilution of the liquid." At sight, Wulfenite resembles smooth planes, or chips, of spessartite garnet, the latter found near Pala, Cal. Metallic molybdenum can be obtained from Wulfenite, Dr. J. Ohly, late professor of chemistry, University of Pennsylvania, in his good work on "Rare Metals," shows as follows: "Metallic molybdenum is a silver-white metal of atomic weight, 95.9, and specific gravity of 8.6, and may be bought from the New York dealer in quantities of ten grams for $1. In the air it remains unchanged, and only combines with oxygen when heated to low redness. Hydrochloric or dilute sulphuric acid has no action on it, but aqua regia dissolves it readily. . . . In molybdenum we have a metal which forms one of the most remarkable compounds with steel, and this statement holds good still more extensively for an alloy of molybdenum and nickel, when added to the former. The high fusing point of the metal (about 2000 deg. C.) has rendered the manufacture of molybdenum steel rather difficult, while the original procedure of applying it in the form of powder has led to repeated disappointments, since the finely subdivided metal oxides readily when added to the fused steel. In fact, it has been impossible in many cases to show the presence of the metal in the fused alloy, when thus prepared, by chemical analysis, so that the utilization of metallic molybdenum powders has been limited accordingly. On the market we find, nevertheless, powders of this kind containing from 90 to 94 per cent. of the metal and the fused metal itself of 94 to 98 per cent., both being yet used by certain manufacturers. Ferro-molybdenum is, however, largely preferred by the majority, and should be manufactured by adding the required percentage of molten metallic iron to fused and pure metallic molybdenum. Steel makers employ as a rule a ferro-molybdenum carrying 50, 70, 75 or 85 per cent. of the latter metal."

The metal molybdenum and its compounds are prepared not only from Wulfenite (a rare mineral,) but from molybdenite, a disulphide, found in nature in crystals and scales resembling graphite. This mineral, owing to the large deposites known to exist in British Columbia, Washington, Idaho, Colorado, in Southern California (especially near San Diego) and along the line of the Oregon Short Line Railroad, has ceased to be classified as a rare mineral.

Such crystals are finely powdered and placed in a crucible and then heated to redness on a fire of charcoal. The heated powder is stirred during the operation and the sulphur dioxide fumes allowed to escape. When the latter obnoxious element has been driven off, the crucible and contents are withdrawn and allowed to cool. The residue will appear as a yellow powder, molybdic trioxide. "The latter is then placed in a porcelain dish and covered with aqueous ammonia, which removes the trioxide in form of the ammonium salt, and leaves the impurities behind."

This ammonia solution is then evaporated and the valuable salt ammonium molybdate crystallizes out. "Or the liquid is carefully neutralized with hydrochloric or nitric acid, so as to precipitate molybdic acid, which separates out as a white powder, scarcely soluble in water, but readily soluble in large excess of acid."

Metallic molybdenum is usually made from ammonium molybdate by igniting; this produces the dioxide, which, "when intimately mixed in the proportion of ten parts of oxide to one part of carbon, and subjected to the heat of an electric furnace, gives rise to the formation of a very pure metallic molybdenum. The mixture is allowed to be acted upon by the arc, produced by a current of 800 amperes and sixty volts, for only six minutes, so as to prevent the complete fusion of the sintered molybdenum, since, on continued action of the heat, the latter will unite with the carbon of the crucible in which the operation is performed. The metal obtained in this manner has a specific gravity of 9.01, is malleable as iron, can be forged and welded when hot, filed and polished with ease and takes up carbon by cementation." There is no reason why metallic molybdenum should not be manufactured, at a good profit, for $5 per pound to the retail trade.

ENGLISH SHOPLIFTERS.

Shrewd Schemes Contrived by Which the Detectives are Kept Guessing.

[London Answers:] To detect the female shoplifter used to be the easiest thing in the world; nowadays her wiles call out the lynx-eyed vigilance of lady detectives. They are in all our big drapery and furnishing emporiums—and they have a busy time.

The shoplifter, bear in mind, is not, as a rule, the homeless creature in rags; she is a fashionable butterfly, who flutters about the most expensive stalls. She has a condescending smile, a patronizing air, and the majestic grace of a newly presented débutante. And, she sweeps along—chosing crowds—wearing a bag skirt and a belt of fishhooks.

This fishhook device is ingenious. The shoplifter wears them level with the knee, underneath her loose and flowing skirts. They are spaced just far enough apart to keep them from becoming entangled. To the inner side of the underskirt a wide band of oiled silk is sewn. This, with similar bands around the knees, saves both the thief and her skirts from being hooked, and permits the hooks themselves to hang free.

The thief who wears these fishhooks wears also two little spur-like projections at the back of the French heels of her shoes. With these she picks up handkerchiefs, blouses, silk and other materials of a like nature, and raises them beneath her skirts to the other hooks. All this can be done by an expert in the most unsuspicious manner possible, even beneath the eyes of the detective, without giving that individual the slightest intimation of what is being done.

Another thief uses a large hook and heavy sinker, these being suspended beneath the skirts, and capable of being raised or lowered by means of a small reel carried inside the shoplifter's pocket. The thief knocks the article to be stolen off the counter, as if by accident, and stands over it. With one hand she calmly proceeds to lower the hook until it touches the floor, and catches the blouse or piece of silk there. Then up comes the hook with the stolen goods and the shoplifter walks quietly away.

The shoplifter when at work wears a drop skirt. This is a silk or sateen lining detached from the skirt at the hem, but fastened to it at the belt. It is really a bag with a drawstring where there should be a hem, and the ends of the tape that holds it drawn up in a slit in the outer skirt, hidden by folds.

Not long ago a woman was caught slipping lace into what seemed to be a pocket at the side of her skirt. When accosted she slipped her hand into the slit of the skirt and tried to untie the string. Had she succeeded in releasing the drawstring the goods would have fallen to the ground, and, of course, she would have denied all knowledge of the theft.

Some women train their little daughters to help them in their thefts. When examining goods on the counter they will suddenly sweep some article aside, and in a flash the girl has it in her muff, and, under cover of the confusion leaves the premises. The women that do include the woman who accompanies closely against the lady with the hook. Then, again, there are wear capes—the cape being of thieving, and adding the poorer cities it is the

PLAYHOUSES AND PLAYERS

BELASCO: The newest in theatrical air. Prof. Bobrick's scheme of ventilation and pulmonary refrigeration was tried out in the Belasco last night and between two acts 10,000 cubic feet of fresh air, at atmospheric temperature, was discharged in the space from a liquid-air reservoir. Just to show what they were doing, the demonstrators set their machine on the front of the stage, and though the front row got plentiful sprays of the strange cold substance, auditors farthest away had little but the sight. Tonight the stage will be sprayed from the wings, and the coolness will be more widely distributed. As it was, last night's audience was refreshed by the copious supply of oxygen let loose.

The play this week is Charles Klein's "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall." The scene is laid in the time of Mary and Elizabeth. There have been better plays, plays with swifter action and a more consequential plot, but few that would lend themselves more easily to the careful hands of the stage artists. The setting of the piece is traditionally beautiful, almost too perfect for an exhibition of stage resources. In the stage management also, the genius of George Belasco, that past-master of human drama, that speaks in an oratory of detail, is apparent.

The new leading woman, Isabella Evesson, appeared last night in the first part of the piece. There were people out to see her; the auditorium was lined up in front just as it was at the Mason on a big night, and within few seats were not taken. Box parties, with richly-dressed women in evidence, were in abundance.

Evesson is a clever actress, although not of fame, but she lacks something that might make for success in the role. Her impersonation of Dorothy was finished in its consummation, but it lacked force and the dramatic phases of human nature. Her work runs along in an even and unbroken line, going neither higher nor lower in the scale of interpretation, and thereby becoming rather monotonous.

Of any actress in Miss Evesson's position is almost a supreme Belasco Block, who afterwards became an idol's honors in San Francisco, did not stand the pressure. Miss Gardner, who must be considered a remarkable woman, is the only actress who has left an ineffacable record in the hearts of Belasco audiences. Yet, Miss Evesson should be judged by a single performance. Because of any player is not one role, but two or three roles, and until the company has been seen in a line of characters the audience cannot form any very judgment of her abilities. Another interesting characterization is that of Louis Bishop Hall, who comes into Jimmy Bliss's place at the Belasco next Sunday night, when that actor fell suddenly by the wayside with a nervous complication. Hall played all night and all day yesterday, rehearsed his part, took a stimulant to keep him from collapsing under the strain, and went through the performance without a break.

Edith and Vivian are back, and were heartily welcomed last evening.

FRANK. Gordon Kean, in writing "We Are King," has followed copy after pioneer of Zenda" with great success, and though imitations—by the force of copyism—are never as good as the original, Kean has extracted from his own imagination the reflection of Hope's an interesting play.

Miranda, lying in mythical grandeur in the mythical forest, the palaces and the grounds of Kahnburg are as much fiction as Strelsau, Kahnburg another of the tiny states so intimately for the dramatist are essential because of their insignificance.

The play opens on a principality in confusion with a weak and petulant ruler, and his ugly best to pull down an unsettering throne. An American is only an American by adoption, has been a wanderer all his life, has been found loitering without the palace gates, and has been impressed as a spy. His jailers, Count Rupert and Baron Stanbach, the ministers of the realm, notice a likeness and almost unbelievable resemblance to the monarch in his features, and at once begin to plot the king out of the way. Signs are given onward and a quarrel which the king and Stanbach have over a woman, the ruler is knocked senseless, the outraged husband. While he is hustled to a secret cell, he is exchanged for the wandering soldier of fortune, who has the king's countenance through a series of complications and is the center of a pretty love story which finally terminates in a most happy way, and leaves the real king, as a paper is found in possession of an old necromancer who gives him in honest and undisputed possession of the scepter.

It is supposed, the mock-king's career is interestingly watched by the audiences at the opening performance Sunday.

The role of Gustavus Venner in Rector is a much more difficult and proper rendition than that of Rudolph, on account of the rapid changes, and the contrasted mental traits of the two characters. Desmond has a hold but gets away with it in a satisfactory manner.

The most artistic impersonation of Bennett Southard, who is a crass, lunchbacked, decrepit old man. Reality is the note of the creation. It is worth seeing.

All is winsomely sweet and natural in her acting, Jane Kelton acceptable, but Monda Glenn out of harmony with the stage for some reason. Some well-set acts, and the play is long one.

WAREHOUSE. "King of Cards" is that extravagantly sensational farce with which Theodore Kremer opened his own previous season in the bill at the Grand Opera House this week. A balloon, an aeroplane, a moving picture machine and various other of the humorous supply, and the whole thing in its rapidity of action, and the gallery wants, and gallery gets prevail.

Mr. Fowler is displaying considerable judgment in her work as stage director of this company. It is rather unfair to her to say that the piece is "melodramatic" and too much so, for that is what the work calls for, and is what the audiences demands. She is a clever actress, and will be heard of again. Mrs. Buhler is the same charming Lillian Hayward makes of Olga.

The Orpheum has a good bill this week, though none of the numbers put on can be said to be of great originality. Mlle. Dazie and ponies, which are a feature of Gustavus Venner's circus in vaudeville," do some pretty tricks that other trained horses and ponies do, and perform as cleverly as some that have been in the Orpheum. Herr Kratzer's violin playing is Dora's violin playing is acceptable. He has a good technique and some feeling. His rendition of Vieuxtemp's "Fantasie Caprice" received much applause. His own composition, which he calls "American Fantasie," is not a work of genius, and was evidently written to catch the plaudits of a cheap patriotism.

Among the best things of the week is the comedy acrobatic pantomime, "The Elopement," of the Zazell and Vernon Co. It is very funny, in a rough and tumble way, and it keeps the audience in a roar of laughter.

The holdovers, some of which are excellent, are George W. Day (in cork;) Claude Gillingwater and company in Mr. Gillingwater's own comedy, "The Wrong Man;" Eight Bedouin Arabs, the remarkable "whirlwind acrobats;" Wilson Trio, etc. The motion pictures are of the usual merit.

FISCHER'S THEATER. "In Old Seville," the new musical comedy offered at Fischer's last night, caught on from the start and Harry James, the musical director, who produced it, deserves much credit for the smooth manner in which the play was presented. Several pleasing specialties and pretty chorus numbers are introduced during the action, while the comedy situations in the efficient hands of O'Brien and West, keep the audience howling with laughter.

The vaudeville bill has some excellent features, including the Taggert family of acrobats; Frederick McMurry, violinist; Tell and Lazelle, eccentric comedians, and new motion pictures.

MACHINE MADE BOY AND GIRL.

Too Many Institutional Kids in California.

Dr. Lindley to Score Graft at Portland.

Los Angeles Speaker at the National Conference.

One of the speakers at the National Conference of Charities and Corrections in session at Portland, Or., this week, is Dr. Walter Lindley who will address the conference today on "The Evils of Institutionnal Childhood."

Astounding as the statement may seem, it is nevertheless a fact that California leads the union in the number of her dependent children, according to her population.

Last year nearly 8000 children were cared for in public institutions in this State at a cost of more than $450,000. In Minnesota, which has a population of about the same as our own, statistics show that but 760 dependent children were cared for at an expense of less than $30,000, while Michigan provided for 1647 dependent children at a cost of $42,822.

Probably there is no one more competent to deal with this question of our State public charities than Dr. Lindley, who has given much attention to institutional work. Just previous to his departure for the North, a Times representative discussed the matter with him.

"There are three methods of caring for children," said Dr. Lindley. "The first and best is in the child's own home, the State aiding if necessary the parent or parents. The second in efficiency is the placing of the child in a family home, the State paying from $1.50 to $2.50 per week, where the family cannot afford to keep the child free. The third and dernier ressort is the institution. California and New York are the limit on the institution idea, while New Jersey, Massachusetts, Minnesota and Michigan are the noteworthy States in practicing the family home plan. In regard to especially fostering and preserving the home, there is no State that has yet reached the advanced ideas of that Roman Emperor sixty-seven years after the begining of the Christian era, who thought it better to maintain the integrity of a private home than to proclaim the celebrity of a public institution and whose great aim was to aid poor parents to care for their children. The coins of that period represent Nerva sitting on his throne stretching out his right hand to a boy and girl. He was the first to aid the poor child systematically from the public funds.

"Massachusetts, with a population of 3,000,000 has no institution for dependent children supported in any way by public funds. This State believes emphatically in the home family plan and had last year 1300 boys and girls under ten years of age boarded out at $1.50 per week with an allowance of 50 cents per week for clothing. These children are carefully visited by eight paid women visitors, one being called visitor-at-large and the seven others assistants. There were also last year in that State 217 neglected and dependent boys over ten years of age, who were boarded in families, the State paying at the rate of from $1.50 to $2.00 per week. When these children are old enough to make their own way, the State quits paying their board, but still maintains an assiduous care of them. June 1, 1904, there were 2000 of these self-supporting children. They are visited and aided in securing positions by three men who give all of their time, and six men who give part of their time to this work. The self-supporting girls are visited and aided in the same way by a woman visitor-at-large, four paid women assistants and an unpaid auxiliary board of sixty women.

"The system of finding family homes for children was put in operation in Michigan in 1874, and in 1900, child dependence had decreased in ratio to the population 400 per cent. A few years ago it was carefully figured out and it was found that Michigan had one dependent child to 10,000 of her population; Ohio one to every 1000; New York one to each 268, while California had one dependent child for every 250 of her population. The comparative ratio is practically the same today.

"In Michigan last year with a population of 2,500,000 there were 161 children supported by the State in public institutions and 1486 in family homes under State supervision. The cost for the twelve months ending June 1, 1904, approximated $42,822. Minnesota, in 1885, followed the example of Michigan and is having the same success, and these two great States of the northern Middle West are laudable examples for the civilized world.

LOOK AT CALIFORNIA.

"California has a population about the same as Minnesota and about two-thirds that of Michigan. June 1, 1904, California had in orphanages 922 orphans, 3859 half orphans and 201 foundlings, making a total of 5394 dependent children in State institutions at an approximate annual cost of $349,397.90. In addition to this, there are in California under the supervision of the State through the county boards of Supervisors 154 orphans, 2169 half orphans and 84 abandoned children toward whose care the State paid for the year ending June 1, 1904, the sum of $105,475.04. This makes the number of children cared for by the State last year 7801, at a cost of $454,872.94.

"In order to prevent any correction of this lamentable condition, the Legislature creating the California State Board of Charities carefully provided that they should not have the right to inspect the orphanages. While the direct money cost should not be considered, incipient manhood and womanhood should be considered.

"The dependent children of New Jersey are under the care of the State Board of Children's Guardians. This board does not maintain any orphanages, but each dependent child is placed in the care of some family within the State and this family must be of the same religious faith as the child's parents. This probably means Catholic children with Catholic families and Protestant children with Protestant families, as the requirement doubtless does not extend to the numerous fine subdivisions for which we Protestants have become notorious. June 1, 1904, the New Jersey Board of Guardians had in their care 531 children, of whom 350 were with families that were being paid for their board, while 181 were being kept free of charge. Taking the average total number of children thus in the care of the State board and free, the per capita cost per annum of maintenance is $60.15. That is, the State of New Jersey with a population 2,000,000 is paying out per annum for her dependent children about $40,000. The children are visited by an agent at least four times a year; a monthly report is required from the child's school teacher, giving, not only the educational progress of the child, but also its general condition and appearance. A quarterly report is also sent in from the priest or minister of the church which the child attends. There is thus a particular clergyman interested in each individual child

HOME THE PLACE.

"Every child placed in a good home with a good family stands at least five times the chance of proving a valuable, independent citizen that the child reared in the institution has. Everything that I have said in regard to the advantages of the family home over the orphanage applies with equal force against keeping young children in reformatories. There is only rarely a child under twelve in a reformatory but should be and could be placed in a good home. The public conscience of California ought to be aroused and turn toward the solution of this problem that means hope and a happy, useful future for the unfortunate. The best thing the State can do is to foster the home and the home spirit. There should be some systematic, organized effort to assist poor widows who are left with children to preserve the integrity of their homes by aiding them in securing some kind of employment at or near their homes, and by paying if necessary a cash allowance while children are small. The great majority of the children in our orphanages are half orphans.

"I have often seen worthy managers trot out with pride the little tots from two to ten in 'successful' institutions. These boards of managers are as a rule composed of generous and intelligent women who are doing their best for these little ones under existing laws. These unfortunate children have their wholesale evensong, the wholesale prayer, the wholesale bath, the wholesale meal. It is true, there may be love in the management of the institutions, but it is a wholesale love. While the public institution is a necessity, yet it should be utilized as little as possible. Children from a public institution are like plants from a hothouse—unless carefully shielded they will be destroyed by the first adverse wind. It takes the individual home to develop in the child strength and individuality.

"At the session of the Conference of Charities and Corrections in 1899 a report, drawn up by Hon. Thomas L. Mulry of New York, president of the St. Vincent de Paul Society of that city, was presented which took the ground that many children now in institutions might well be placed in good homes, provided the families were of the same religious faith as the child and that the earlier they are placed in such families the better it is for the child, as the motive which induces one to take a child of tender years is apt to be more disinterested than when it is old enough to be utilized as help. There are homes in abundance throughout our cities, our towns and our farming sections for every orphan child if people would but open their hearts and brighten their homes by studying in what way they may best show their love for their less fortunate fellow-beings."

Square dealing is the western man's motto, but in view of the fact that the "Rainier" strikers refused to arbitrate, their boycott lacks the quality of square dealing that appeals to "we of the West."—[Adv.

REAL ESTATE RECORD.

THE IMPORTANCE OF ACCURACY.

HOW INCOMPLETE REPORTS MAY MISLEAD BUYERS.

Sales in the City and Suburbs Including Near-by Acreage and Distant Orange and Lemon Groves. Matters Are Reported Quiet at Redondo as the Week Opens.

The importance of making accurate reports of real estate sales is mighty well illustrated by an incident of recent occurrence. L. R. Garrett purchased fifty-five acres of the old Titus ranch in San Gabriel Valley, paying something like $1000 per acre for it. The transaction was so reported, but by some inadvertence no mention was made of the important fact that a supply of water sufficient for all ordinary purposes goes with the land. The report of the sale was used by others to attempt to put through other sales in the ranch at about the same price, but with no water at all. Fortunately the buyers, who were women and strangers, had the forethought to see Mr. Garrett before closing the deals in contemplation and he explained the difference between water-stocked land and dry mesa, useful only for barley growing. All possible speculative features taken into account, dry land there is dear at $500 per acre, while water-stocked land may be cheap at $1000. And yet the real estate man on a newspaper is judged severely because he tries with all diligence to get at actual facts for the sake of the public.

YESTERDAY'S SALES.

A sale was closed Saturday by which Warren Wilson of the Daily Journal acquired title to a twelve-acre tract near the western limits of the city. The price is not stated, but is probably not far either way from $1000 per acre.

E. W. Palmer has sold a four-apartment flat building on South Grand avenue, near Twenty-fourth street, for Robert F. Jones of Santa Monica to F. A. King and Mrs. C. B. Woodhead of Los Angeles. The reported consideration is $20,000. One of the grantees in this sale conveyed to the grantor fifteen acres of land near Sunset Boulevard, so there may have been some trade in the first transaction reported. Mr. Palmer reports also the sale of an eight-room house, two stories, on Casco street, for Mr. Carter, to Ada B. Teachout, for $4000, and a five-acre orange grove at Ontario for the same consideration.

James Menzies & Co. report the sale of a lot 150 feet on Hoover by 80 on Eighteenth street, running out nearly to a point on the rear end, with a ten-room house and good barn, for $8500. There was, perhaps, $500 worth of furniture in the house. W. C. James was the grantor and G. A. Bean grantee.

The same agency has sold No. 1020 Westlake avenue, a lot 50x150 feet, improved with a modern nine-room residence, to J. L. Packard for John Dublin. The price was $8500.

The same agency reports the sale of eight acres of lemon grove at Glendale to J. L. Floyd for J. L. Packard for $8500. There is a good nine-room residence on this property. It has prospective value in the eyes of real estate men for subdivision into suburban lots. Part trade.

Still another sale made by James Menzies & Co. is that of two lots, 100x350 feet to a back street, on the corner of Fair Oaks avenue and Dakota street, Pasadena. The seller was W. C. James, the buyer Harry Siegel; price $1700.

E. Lee Allen made hay while the sun was shinnig at Redondo last week. He made six of the largest sales put through, the aggregate price being $102,000.

WILSHIRE BOULEVARD HEIGHTS

Bradshaw Bros. report the closing of several recent sales in the Wilshire Boulevard Heights. Among the buyers are Arthur F. L. Bell of San Francisco, who secured 115x150 on the southwest corner of Seventh and New Hampshire streets, for a future home, refusing an advance of $1000 over the price paid; W. F. Braitholle of Pasadena buying 50 feet on New Hampshire adjoining A. F. L. Bell, on the south; also 60 feet between Wilshire Boulevard and Seventh on New Hampshire street. Lena Schwarz bought 120x150 on the west side of New Hampshire, between Wilshire Boulevard and Seventh street for $4500, and is now having plans drawn for a $10,000 house. A. G. Spalding and C. M. Spier each secured through William M. Garland & Co., agents, two 60-foot lots on the west side of Vermont avenue, between Wilshire Boulevard and Seventh street. Other buyers securing choice lots on the west side of New Hampshire, between Seventh and Eighth streets, at original prices, were Charles A. Stavnow, John E. Barker, D. M. Linnard of Hotel Maryland, Flora A. Getchell, Harry R. Friedgen and Charles B. Dyson.

AT REDONDO.

Things have quieted down to a very normal condition at Redondo this week, and doings there in the future will be on a cold-blooded basis of real values and manifest merits.

The department store drivers at Chicago have decided by a referendum vote to continue the strike. The vote was practically unanimous.

"WASH" SALES ARE FELONIES.

State Mineralogist Aubury so Holds Law.

He Announces that He Will Investigate Frauds.

Bucket-Shop Laundries and Fakirs May Take Notice.

State Mineralogist Aubury construes the law enacted at his solicitation by the last Legislature to apply to the bucket-shop laundries, miscalled "exchanges," that are operating in Los Angeles for the purpose of buncoing the public into buying stock at the promoter's price. This is an application of the provision prohibiting the misrepresentation of the sales of any mining property or of stock for the purpose of promoting sales. It is easy to see that if a promoter can get the official list of the so-called exchange to advertise quotations of shares of his worthless holdings, as being sold daily, at a certain price, victims will more readily buy.

A letter calling attention to the law has been sent out by Mr. Aubury. It has been received by the various concerns in San Francisco, and while it was stated yesterday at so-called local mining exchanges that the letter has not yet come, it will reach them. Those who are doing legitimate business will have nothing to fear; let others take heed.

Mr. Aubury visited Los Angeles a short time ago and inquired into the affairs of some companies with highly colored prospectuses, the beauty of which the courts may not appreciate when they get the facts before them. The location of properties is sometimes too indefinite and a claim of miles from Beatty, advertised as in the famous Bullfrog district," may cause the authorities to consider the matter as needing some instruction in elementary geography of the kind given at the Folsom rock-pile. The public may also get curious to know something about these mysterious sales of stock that are heard of so often now.

Mr. Aubury in an interview gives it as his opinion that there are comparatively few genuine sales of stock among those reported on certain cheap exchanges. Some are marked as having been reported at "informal sessions" but as taking place at the regular meetings. They are supposed to be office sales. These frenzied finance methods do not please the authorities and prosecutions are to be expected.

The State Mineralogist requests all persons who may have occasion to learn through experience of any fraudulent deals to give the information to him as otherwise convictions may be impossible, despite the fact that there is no doubt as to guilt in the mind of anyone at all conversant with the facts.

The Times has already pointed out the ways in which some mining stocks are manipulated in this city. Legitimate business in stocks here would be helped by having the city cleansed of the "wash" frauds that the law applies to.

MINES AND MINING.

SALT LAKE MEN IN SAN BERDOO.

PROPERTY IN THE PROVIDENCE MOUNTAINS PURCHASED.

The Noble Mine Has Another Boost—New Mexico Mines Looming up—Texas' Mining Industry Killed by "Hayseed" Laws. Other Industry Statistics.

Messrs. Garrison and others have sold to the Gold Belt Exploration Company of Salt Lake City, Utah, their mining claims in the Providence Mountains. The company expects to install machinery and develop the property, the report being that the ledge will "prove up" permanent. The ore assays a high average. Near the group a tunnel company is driving several hundred feet to crosscut a ledge from which samples have been taken which showed up exceedingly rich in a mill test.

The Searchlight paper says that the Noble mine—the property that "made a cigar—has struck another ledge at a depth of 350 feet. The ore runs $20 in gold as well as its values. It is of the same character as that which was struck at a depth of 200 feet in the mine and which assayed at $180 a ton. No assays have been received yet, but it is said that the ore will run close to $100. So far the ore has been cut and left standing and over a foot is exposed.

Messrs. Williams of San Diego and associates have purchased the Big Six group of claims at Searchlight from Messrs. McIlvain and Light Wheatley. The property is the western extension of the Santa Fé, Southern Nevada and Searchlight. The six claims are the Big Edge, Gold Fringe, Blue Bird, Big Top Not and White Oaks. The price was not made public.

NEW MEXICO SMELTER.

According to the newspaper reports from New Mexico that Territory's mining interests appear to be looming up, a number of smelters are under construction or about to be built in that country. The latest proposed smelter is at Dona Ana, a camp about sixty miles north of El Paso, Tex., in Otero county, on the line of the El Paso and Northeastern Railroad. St. Joseph (Mo.) capitalists are behind the project and the county of sixty has just visited Organ district. Jarilla is a gold camp that has been worked more or less since the railroad was built about two years ago. Before that time there was almost nothing done owing to the expense and to scarcity of water.

"Within the last two years New Mexico has been somewhat behind in the matter of mineral resources as compared with neighboring States and Territories. Much activity has been apparent during the last eighteen months.

STRIKE IN TEXAS.

"Texas is a State that has never caught the mining fever, and whose laws and lawmakers are considered the most inimical to mining of any State in the Union. It is said to have "a fabulous number of gold ore"—to use a phrase now so familiar to those who read the wondrous tales of wealth in the Arizona and Nevada deserts almost every day.

The great discovery in the Lone Star State is reported to be in Kinney county, and lies about forty miles north of the Rio Grande and some 250 miles east of El Paso. According to the rumors printed in Texas papers the ledge is several feet wide and is traceable for several miles. According to the same stories, which are in no way verified as yet, the ore assays $1000 gold and $100 in copper values. Application to purchase the land has been made to the State.

Texas is the one State in the Union that owns its own public lands, the act of annexation having so provided. It is the only State where the Federal government has no jurisdiction over mines or lands. "Hayseed" legislation has been the curse of the State in more ways than one, and in no line has this been more felt than in mining. The sparsely settled western half has been for years endeavoring to get recognition from the east in vain. Laws framed for the cotton belt and to suit the fancies of the "long-haired Populist from the forks of the creek" have remained in force and have succeeded in almost completely estopping all mining operations. Miners shun the State and hurry on to Mexico or to Arizona.

Some years ago the Legislature at Austin was induced to establish a geological survey which accomplished some excellent work and received the commendation of all mining men. At the last session the Legislature, however, repented of this action and refused to renew the appropriation, thus killing the work when it was about half done.

Be the latest report true, false or exaggerated, it is likely Texas, under the present laws, will be sadly handicapped in any attempt to become a mining State.

[NEWS REPORTS FROM TIMES CORRESPONDENTS.]

RULING AGAINST LIQUOR PETITION.

San Bernardino County Tribunal Finds Several Flaws in the Would-be Liquor Dealer's Suit, but Gives Him an Opportunity to Amend His Complaint.

SAN BERNARDINO, July 17.—F. H. Flint's mandamus suit against the Supervisors to compel the board to grant him a liquor license for Daggett precinct, was knocked out in the Superior Court this morning before the petitioner had time to fairly catch his breath.

Flint had set up the claim that the Supervisors had no right to give the voters of the precinct administrative powers, and that anyway the election of November last, at which the temperance people carried through an ordinance prohibiting the sale of liquor in the precinct, wasn't an expression of opinion on the part of a majority of the voters.

The court denied the petition of Flint, on the grounds that his complaint was defective in that it did not set forth that it is to the best interest of Daggett that a saloon license be issued for that precinct, did not state that the petitioner had never been convicted of a crime and did not set forth that the people of the town want the license granted.

BARSTOW VICTIM'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Beatrice Wall, who was killed Saturday night by a Santa Fé freight at Barstow, took place here this morning, being attended by a large number of people from the desert town. The woman was crossing the freight yards at the time when a freight car was bunted down the track, knocking her under the wheels and throwing the husband to one side of the track, he escaping with painful bruises. Though cut in two, the woman was conscious for nearly an hour, and to within ten minutes of her death talked with those about her. Though her lower limbs were completely off she imagined that they were but broken.

GETS CUSTODY OF CHILD.

Mrs. Georgia Lester has been granted custody of her minor daughter during the summer. She and her husband, wealthy Chino ranch people, recently were involved in a divorce action, both wanting separations. Lester charged his wife with desertion and she charged him with cruelty in trying to make her cook for a big gang of hired men and allowing her no chance of divertisement. The court refused both complaint and cross-complaint, but made an order requiring Lester to furnish separate maintenance for his wife, and support his daughter in a private school.

SON'S UNLUCKY SLIP.

Mrs. M. A. Davis of Rialto suffered a painful injury Saturday. Her son, W. R. Davis, was tearing down an old barn, and slipped from the roof. He would have fallen to the ground, but managed to clutch at a beam, and hung suspended in the air. In his hand he held a board, which he released as he shot down the steep roof, and this struck Mrs. Davis, who was standing near the structure, a nail in it piercing her hand. Every precaution is being taking against blood poisoning.

INFANT PETS RATTLER.

The infant of E. L. Hessler of Rialto was found playing with a full-grown rattler Saturday. The snake had crawled from beneath a rock, near which the child was seated, and the infant had reached forth its small hands and taken the reptile into its lap. Hessler was horrified when he discovered the child and snake thus, and hurriedly dispatched the reptile. He accounts for the snake not having bitten the child by stating that it had just shed its skin and was probably in a torpid state.

SAN BERNARDINO BRIEFS.

Grant Morton, the parachute jumper, who was badly injured while trying to attempt an ascent at Urbita Springs recently, has so far recovered as to plan another leap. He claims to have made ninety-two successful ascents during the year, and received his first fall at Los Angeles, while showing at the Chutes.

Mike Rennahan pleaded not guilty before Justice of the Peace C. L. Thomas, this morning, to a charge of over driving a livery horse belonging to J. I. Baxter, and his hearing was set for Friday, July 28. The charge, which is against two other youths, also will be heard next Friday.

A Mexican named Chavez, who was one of the Santa Fé picnickers to Redondo, while aboard the train returning here, attempted to break into the baggage car, and on being frustrated by the man in charge, the Mexican drew a revolver and fired several shots into the car. He was arrested, but owing to the failure of the trainman to swear to a complaint, he was released.

REDLANDS.

INDIAN BOY LOSES FOOT.

REDLANDS, July 17.—Juan Fredericus, an Indian lad of 16 or 17 years, whose home is in San Bernardino, had an accident this afternoon that will cripple him for life.

The boy has been for two years an employé of the Taylor Pressed Brick Company of this city. This afternoon he was at work on the presser in the brick yard when he slipped and his foot caught in the machinery. His plight was not discovered until his outcry attracted the attention of some one working at a little distance from him. The motor was thrown out immediately, but not in season to save the foot, which was, literally, almost torn off. A surgeon was summoned and the limb was removed just below the knee.

HIGHLAND.

FRUIT MEN MAY RETURN.

HIGHLAND, July 17.—The Highland Orange Growers' Association is reported to be making preparations to return to the San Bernardino County Fruit Exchange. The directors of the association met on Tuesday and adopted a resolution favoring such a course and calling for a special meeting of stockholders to pass upon the question. This association is one of the strongest in Highland and formerly belonged to the county exchange, but withdrew last year.

The new fire department is now fully equipped and ready to protect the town, which has heretofore been unable to save a number of valuable buildings from destruction by fire. Fire Chief George Barnes will be assisted by the following crew: Ople L. Warner, assistant chief; Ernest Dolson, Monte Yerkes, Sidney Bruce, Ernest Westhaver, Will Reed, John Ellsworth, Frank Welton, Harry Welton, Frank Cole, Irvin Barnes, M. M. Randall, Ed. Akerman, C. M. Hill, S. W. Norwood and William Mothershaw.

The amount received by Thomas Hooker for the crop of oranges on his five-acre ranch on Atlantic avenue was $1740 net. The crop consisted of 3052 field boxes and the price paid is considered among the highest of any in this district.

JOY IN STORE FOR MOTHER.

SON GIVEN UP AS DEAD IS BACK IN COLTON.

And Today There's to be a Happy Reunion in Long Beach—Young Shaw, Who Left as a Child, Returns a World-traveled Man, to See Home.

COLTON, July 17.—Seeking his mother, whom he has not seen for fifteen years and who believes him to be dead, Ralph Shaw, a young man not far past twenty years of age, was in Colton today.

Ten years ago Mrs. Shaw, his mother, lived in Colton with her daughters. The son had gone away from home several years before with a relative, and for many years she has been able to learn nothing of his whereabouts, and as an explanation has become convinced that he had died.

Now Shaw, having traveled in parts of the world, returns to the place where last he knew his mother, to find her. He said that he wrote a number of letters to his brother, Charles Shaw, but received no answer. An old friend of the family explained by stating that the brother had been for several years dead.

In Long Beach, where she now makes her home, Mrs. M. D. Shaw, a charming, motherly woman, is still unconscious that her long-lost boy is so near, and that tomorrow there will be a happy reunion, unless something unusual shall interfere.

SAY WALNUT CROP IS SHORT.

GROWERS SO ESTIMATE IT ABOUT SANTA ANA.

Buyers Report that the Condition is General Throughout Southern California—Second Growth of Small Nuts a Peculiar Feature—Blight Appears Only in Mild Form.

SANTA ANA, July 17.—Walnut growers estimate a shortage in this year's crop as compared with that of last year of from 20 to 35 per cent. This applies not only to the Santa Ana, Orange and Tustin districts, but also to the big groves in the northern part of the county. Walnut buyers say that the short crop condition is a general one throughout Southern California, and that in Ventura and Santa Barbara counties the yield will be only a fraction of the normal amount. Conditions about Rivera are almost the same as about here.

A peculiar feature this year is the presence of a second crop of small nuts. These came from a second flowering of the trees and may fail to mature into marketable nuts on account of their lateness.

The unusually small crop is generally supposed to be conditioned by the fact that the trees failed to leaf out this year until several weeks later than usual. This retarded blossoming and will result in a reduced fruit crop.

The blight has been present only in a mild form this year and the loss of nuts from this source will be less than in recent seasons.

MAKING DIRT FLY.

A crew of Pacific Electric graders with one hundred horses and mules arrived here today from the Newport line and is camped on West Fifth street ready to commence work upon the section of the Santa Ana-Los Angeles road lying between this place and Garden Grove. Preparations are also being made to start the construction of the bridges over the Santa Ana River and Coyote Creek and the trestle work beyond Los Alamitos. At present a camp of graders with 125 mules is located at Waterville, seven miles west of Anaheim, working upon the nine miles of road between Garden Grove and Waterville. Another crew with sixty animals is finishing work just beyond this and a third gang is near Artesia finishing gaps in the grading at that point. The addition today of the crew at this end of the line makes four separate gangs now busy with the grading.

Great difficulty has been experienced near Artesia in making the grade through the damp lands. To maintain the surveyed level it has been necessary for a considerable distance to throw up earth from three to seven feet above the level of the surrounding country. But the ground is so damp that it has been possible to do only a part of the grading at a time, leaving the work to be completed after the ground had dried out. It is in the completion of these unfinished gaps that the crew now working at Artesia is engaged. From Garden Grove this way, the land is sandy and progress will be more rapid.

MANY FISH OFF NEWPORT.

Four Santa Ana fishers at Newport Beach yesterday landed 1440 pounds of fish in less than three hours, casting their lines grom a gasoline launch, a short distance out to sea. The party included Bert Klunk, Rosa Waffle, John Tubbs and Henry Rutherford, all with more or less experience as fishermen. Barracuda, yellowtail, rock cod and other coast varieties made up the big haul.

FIRE ALARM MISCHIEF.

The officers are on the trail of youthful mischief-makers, who amuse themselves by giving the fire department needless runs by ringing in false alarms of fire. From box 46, on the corner of Fourth street and Grand avenue, an alarm was rung in at 10:15 o'clock last night, but investigation proved that the box had been broken into by boys, and the alarm turned in without cause.

The box is the farthest east of any upon the system. When the department arrived, after a long run, there was no one in sight and the sleepy residents of the district were turning out of their beds to discover the cause of the turmoil.

Similar false alarms have been turned in before and a rigorous attempt will be made to put an end to the small-boy mischief.

THE VITET PRIZE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

PARIS, July 3.—For the first time the Vitet prize, most coveted of all literary awards, made by the Académie Francaise, has just been given to a woman, Mme. Henri Lapanze, who writes under the name of "Daniel Lesuer." Her latest novel, "La Force du Passé," which has had a success even greater than that of her previous works, doubtless contributed to winning for her this honor. But what makes the Vitet prize particularly valuable is that it is not awarded for any single work, but for the whole of one' literary production to date, which must consequently be maintained at a high level of excellence. Only the most eminent French authors have received the prize since its foundation twenty-nine years ago. Among the former beneficiaries may be mentioned Paul Bourget, Pierre Loti, Guy De Maupassant, André Theuriet, Francois Coppée, Anatole France, Jules Lemaitre. On one occasion the prize was divided between but only for "Daniel Lesueur" have but only four "Daniel Lesueur" have men been set completely aside that a woman might win it.

Daniel Lesueur has for several years past been recognized as holding the foremost rank in French letters. She first became known as the translator of Byron's poems into French, and soon began writing fiction. Her French is remarkably pure, free from all the taints of carelessness which mar the wrok of many contemporaneous French authors. Her stories are more-over clean and optimistic in tone, so as to appeal particularly to Americans. She possesses in common with most women the art of telling stories well. But whereas the characters usually developed by women in their stories are fantastical and lend themselves to improbable situations, Daniel Lesueur has the instinct of the few truly great women writers for comprehension of character and analysis of sentiment. She believes not simply in constructing plots, but in allowing events to follow their logical sequence. Her strongest trait, as revealed in her writings, is confidence in mankind as a whole, and where she must deal with unpleasant people, she opposes to them others loyal and healthy in mind, who can live and love and suffer without being embittered or weakened.

Though still a young woman, Daniel Lesueur has written no less than twenty novels, among the most popular being "A Tragic Life," "Invincible Charm," "A Woman's Honor," "The Marquis de Valcor," and "Mme. De Freneuse."

Daniel Lesueur was among the pioneers of the Feminist movement in France, not encouraging women's rights in the vulgar acceptation of the term, but insisting upon the recognition of woman's intellectual ability. Her husband, Henri Lapauze, is a noted literary and art critic, and the two enjoy the distinction of being the only married couple of whom each is a Knight of the Legion of Honor. With Rosa Bonheur and Mrs. Potter Palmer, Mme. Lapauze is, indeed, one of the few women ever decorated with the highest order at the disposal of the French government.

To provide additional working capital, the directors of the American Woolen Company have decided to issue and offer to the holders of preferred and common stock at $100 a share, $1,000,000 of 7 per cent. cumulative stock now in the American Woolen Company treasury.

The people of Los Angeles can now buy bank stock at only $5 per share. No one will be allowed to purchase more than $500 of stock. Capital is to be increased to $500,000, making bank of a thousand small stockholders, thereby becoming the people's bank of Los Angeles. The Consolidated Bank of Los Angeles has decided to place its stock with the people, believing that in securing a thousand stockholders it will secure a thousand depositors at the same time. LIVING TOO HASTILY

AMERICAN WOMEN BREAK DOWN

Irregularities and Female Derangements Result—Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Owing to our mode and manner of living, and the nervous haste of every woman to accomplish just so much each day, it is said that there is not one woman in twenty-five but what suffers with some derangement of the female organism, and this is the secret of so many unhappy homes.

No woman can be amiable, light-hearted and happy, a joy to her husband and children, and perform the duties incumbent upon her, when she is suffering with backache, headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, bearing-down pains, displacement of the womb, spinal weakness or ovarian troubles.

Irritability and snappy retorts take the place of pleasantness, and all sunshine is driven out of the home, and lives are wrecked by woman's great enemy—womb trouble.

Read this letter:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I was troubled for eight years with irregularities which broke down my health and brought on extreme nervousness and despondency. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proved to be the only medicine which helped me. Day by day I improved in health while taking it until I was entirely cured. I can attend to my social and household duties and thoroughly enjoy life once more, as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman, without an ache or a pain."—Mrs. Chester Curry, 42 Saratoga Street, East Boston, Mass.

At the first indication of ill health, painful or irregular menstruation, pain in the side, headache, backache, bearing-down pains, nervousness or "the blues," secure at once a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begin its use.

CONSULT ME

FREQUENTLY THERE IS A MISapprehension as to the cost of the services of a competent specialist. Some sufferers are inclined to think that because of the complete cures I make my fees are exorbitant. They are not. They are simply FAIR, and are usually worth five times what I ask. Before you try "cheap" treatment it will be to your interest to consult me. That will cost you nothing. If you follow this advice you will SAVE money. If you try "cheap" treatment you will WASTE money, for you will—in all human probability—have to come to me in the end.

DR. O. C. JOSLEN,
The Leading Specialist.

Men's Diseases Only

I Have the Largest Practice Because I Invariably Fulfill My Promises.

"WEAKNESS"

My cures of this disorder are permanent and lasting. No tonics that stimulate temporarily, but thoroughly scientific treatment for the removal of conditions responsible for the functional derangement. "Weakness" is merely a symptom of inflammation or congestion in the prostate gland, and under my own original local treatment this gland is promptly restored to its normal state and complete functional activity is the lasting result. Consultation free at office or by mail.

NO BURGLARS THIS TIME.

LORDSBURG, July 17.—Burglaries here have become of such frequent occurrence that the people resort to all kinds of hiding places in which to conceal their wealth, at the same time the local hardware merchant has done a land-office business during the past two months in supplying the demand for locks, bolts and revolvers.

This morning W. G. Doughty, a local merchant, reported to the police that his house had been entered by burglars while he was at church yesterday, the thief taking $19 in cash and checks for $35. The makers of the checks were notified, as well as the banks, and all the stores.

Excitement in town was intense, the people declared these burglaries must cease and the thieves caught.

Later in the day Mr. Doughty found the money and the checks where he had hidden them. He had forgotten their hiding place.

Big Fellow is Landed by Indiana Man Holding Medal for Taking Twenty-four Tarpons in the Gulf of Mexico in a Single Day—Plays it Forty-three Minutes.

AVALON, July 17.—The jewfish record was broken again this morning and now stands at 426 pounds. L. G. Murphy of Converse, Ind., one of the most enthusiastic anglers who have visited the island, and who has recently come here from Tarpon, Tex., wearing a medal for having accomplished the greatest feat in fishing ever performed on the Gulf, in the taking of twenty-four tarpons in one day, is now the proud holder of the world's record for the largest fish ever taken with rod and reel.

With Mr. Murphy were Ulric J. Marchand, Gilmour Sharp and George Michaelis, and when Mr. Marchand pulled in a monstrous big bass which afterward was found to weigh 300 pounds, the party thought themselves in great luck, but concluded to make another try, which resulted in the biggest catch yet. The record was held by T. Perkins of Los Angeles, who on the 3d inst. took a fish weighing 428 pounds. Mr. Murphy was but forty-three minutes in landing the monster.

SEARCHING THE DEPTHS.

A few days ago Mrs. W. P. Dunham, while on a picnic at Emerald Bay, had the misfortune to lose a costly brooch in the water as the boat was starting for home. As the brooch had a value far beyond its worth as an heirloom in the family, Herbert Young, the diver, was engaged to go up and try to recover it. Young went up yesterday with the Ramona and explored a large area of the bottom of the bay, going down to a depth of eighty-five feet, but did not succeed in finding the jewel. He will continue his efforts tomorrow, the depth of the water making it a very difficult search.

INSULAR NEWS NOTES.

Camp Merriam, at White's Landing, the temporary home of the Pasadena Y.M.C.A. boys, was invested this noon by thirty-four hungry lads and after a good feed they turned in to arrange things in the most comfortable shape for their two weeks' stay. They have two Japanese cooks and nearly all the comforts of home. Prof. Braden is in charge.

Two excursion parties, chaperoned by Albert K. Jones, for the Banning company, came over today. One of these, from Birmingham, Ala., under the management of Mrs. Meadows, consisting of forty persons, was composed almost entirely of women. The other party comprised thirty-six persons, a "Kinports" party, from New York, under the management of C. O. Watkins.

The water polo games will be revived next Sunday, when, under the management of George Cowan, the Avalon team will meet a team from one of the mainland resorts.

C. D. Ledger and wife, one time residents of the island but now of San Diego, came up yesterday in their yacht, "Butcher Boy," for a few days' visit.

LET CONTRACTS IN WHITTIER.

AWARDS ARE MADE FOR THE CITY WATERWORKS.

San Francisco Firm Gets the Job of Installing the Machinery Complete for a Little Over Forty Thousand Dollars—Proposal for Pipe is Also Accepted.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WHITTIER, July 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The chief contracts for the new city waterworks were let by the city trustees tonight. The awards are in pursuance of the expressed will of the electors of the town who at a special election not long ago authorized an issue of $110,000 worth of bonds for a water supply system.

Many proposals were received this evening. For the machinery complete there were seven bids and for all or a part of it there were thirty-two. The award went to the Pacific Coast Manufacturing Company of San Francisco for $42,912.

For the pipe there were received about a dozen bids. Those of the Crane Manufacturing Company and of the National Supply Company were not far apart. The Crane Company got the contract for a little over $45,000. It includes the furnishing and laying of 43,000 feet of four-inch pipe and 2700 feet of six-inch pipe.

The board awarded the contract for city printing to the News. The prices are 50 cents per inch for first insertion and 35 cents per inch for subsequent insertions.

TOO MUCH WORK.

Caleb E. Cook of the Whittier Hardware Company was found in his room yesterday in an unconscious and completely prostrated condition, but by prompt medical help was revived enough to be taken to his brother's home in La Habra. It is stated that overwork and the omission of a much-needed vacation caused the prostration, which it was at first feared might end fatally.

HOME WEDDING.

Saturday evening the home of Walter C. Lydston was the scene of a pretty wedding that gentleman being the groom and Miss Nellie Schooley of Long Beach, becoming his bride. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert Bateman in the presence of the most intimate friends of the happy couple, the bride wearing a pretty frock of white and carrying carnations.

LONG BEACH REACH BEATS SAN PEDRO.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONG BEACH, July 17.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Terminal Island and East San Pedro's appeal to Long Beach "to hurry up and get busy before San Pedro kidnaps us," had its effect today on the citizens and City Trustees. It has been a day of much strenuous effort on the part of anxious and timid cousins on the west side of the bay and of their city cousins anxious and willing to help. San Pedro has cast envious and admiring eyes upon the comeliness of her cousins over the bay and coyly sent emissaries across the water to ask for a wedding. But Terminal and East San Pedro did not like the proposal and said nay. Then San Pedro sent word that on Tuesday they proposed to do a little abduction act by means of the City Trustees calling an election to vote on annexation. Alarmed, the frightened damsels flew to Long Beach and besought protection.

Aside from pity for the oppressed, the chances of a $500,000 addition to its taxable valuation of the city here was a plum not to be ignored and the prayer from the vicinity of Dead Man's Island and the bay was heeded and a petition was at once circulated and found willing signers. When the City Trustees met this evening the petition, containing 330 names, or more than 25 per cent. of the voters of Long Beach, was presented asking that a special election be called August 16 for the purpose of voting on the question of annexing all that territory from the west city limits to the limits of Dead Man's Island and extending three miles to sea, also including all that part of the inner harbor and bay outside of San Pedro's jurisdiction. The Council granted the petition and adopted a resolution calling an election and the hearts of the distressed calmed for the present.

The territory sought to be annexed begins at the northwest corner of the city limits, runs westerly along Anaheim road to the limits of Wilmington, thence southerly 1061 feet, thence northeast 4200 feet, thence southwesterly to the city limits of San Pedro, southerly to Dead Man's Island, easterly to the southwest city limits of Long Beach, three miles out at sea and northerly to the place of beginning.

SANTA MONICA.

PROPERTY CHANGING HANDS.

SANTA MONICA, July 17.—Just what the underlying cause may be is not apparent, but that there has developed a real brisk movement in Santa Monica within the past few days is not to be denied. People who have lived here for a long time decry the thought of a boom. They say the town has never had one and add that it doesn't want one. Nevertheless, within the past few weeks a good percentage of Santa Monica property has changed hands at advancing prices, and during the past four days 400 feet of Third-street business frontage has been sold at prices that a year ago would have been considered excessive. The extensions and additions of the electric railway system have had much to do with giving impetus to the forward movement, but the floating rumor that will not down—relative to the reported negotiations by Huntington for the purchase of the Los Angeles-Pacific—had no doubt been a contributory element toward the activity.

Among sales just completed is that of the W. H. Chambers two story brick building on Third street to Colorado parties. This has a fifty-foot frontage. The Volkman front of seventy-three feet on the same street has been bought by non-residents. Mrs. Cleveland has purchased the Vinyard property on Oregon avenue, and W. L. Muller has bought the Braden residence on Ocean avenue. In none of these sales is the price made public, but all are reported as bona fide sales.

AROUND TOWN.

Considerable interest is developing in the foot race planned around the cañon loop for August 5. Amateurs are already in training and the list of entries promises to be large.

Miss Effie Mosse, city librarian, has returned from her visit to Portland and the exposition.

Miss Nelva Brewster has returned to her Pasadena home after a visit by the seaside.

Thomas and Miss Stella Dexter, who have been visiting on the beach, have returned to their home in San Bernardino.

Miss Della Wolfarth, having been visiting for several weeks with relatives by the sea, has returned to her home in Covina.

VENICE.

PLAY DAY, BUT BUSY.

VENICE, July 17.—Although this was play day at the Assembly, there was a large crowd on the beach all day. The builders are hurrying to close up all uncompleted contracts. No buildings are being started just now, as the desire is to finish the ones under way and make them ready for occupancy. The bathhouse and plunge will soon be ready for dedication and the miniature railway is about ready for operation. Track laying was commenced on the Windward-avenue pier today and it will be but a short time until the broad-gauge cars will be arriving via the Inglewood division of the old Santa Fé and dumping their burdens of Chatsworth rock to form the breakwater. The pier that is to hold the stones in place is ready, and boating and yachting interests are only awaiting the coming of the breakwater to spring into prominence as one of the attractions of the beach.

Prof. J. O. Wise of Chicago, entertained a large crowd for an hour at the Auditorium tonight with a chalk talk. He draws with both hands at once and his creations are artistic, humorous and entertaining. He was accompanied by Miss Arley Mott, pianist.

At tomorrow morning's session Rev. William Rader of San Francisco will deliver a lecture on "The Reign of the Common People." This will be preceded by a lecture at Fellowship Hall at 9:30 by Rev. Mr. Mills. This is the first of a series of talks to be given daily by Mills on "The Problems of Life." In the evening Miss Katherine Page will give a reading, followed by Mrs. Charlotte Gilman's lecture on "Man."

Bidding was limited on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday, and transactions were confined chiefly to Associated Oil, which was in light request. The manipulators hammered down the stock about two points, 12,900 shares, changing hands at 57¾ to 59¼, closing at 57¾. Continental made a fractional recession, but Union gained ½.

Los Angeles Home Telephone bonds lost ¼, and United States Long Distance Telephones gained ½.

Santa Monica Home Telephone lost a point, and United States Long Distance Telephone lost ½. But on the street 100 shares were sold at 62½ to 63, and it was reported that they were extremely hard to get. Bankers report a continued inquiry for long distance telephone stock.

Four Oil and Caribou Oil listed on the California Stock and Oil Exchange, San Francisco, declared extra dividends Saturday of 1 cent and 7 cents respectively.

EDISON AFTER THE CORONA.—It was stated yesterday in a generally reliable quarter that the Edison Electric people desire to purchase the plant of the Corona Gas & Electric Co., the story on the street is to the effect that some time ago the Gas and Electric Company borrowed $15,000 from the Los Angeles Trust Company on its bonds which the latter was expected to sell in the open market. The Los Angeles Trust Company is closely identified with the Edison Company and it is said, that not only has the trust company made no effort to sell the bonds of the Corona Company but has "knocked" them whenever there has been any inquiry concerning them. In the meantime the Edison people have approached the Corona Company with a proposition looking to a purchase of the plant.

A gentleman who is in close touch with the situation, remarked when the matter was mentioned to him: "I shouldn't wonder if there was something in it."

WHEAT AND CORN CROPS—The July report of the Statistician of the Department of Agriculture, issued a few days ago, is the department's first statement of he corn crop. It starts with a condition of 87.3 as against 86.4 last July, and the area 94,011,000 acres, has twice been exceeded, namely in the years 1902 and 1899. On this acreage the statistican of the New York Produce Exchange, Mr. Henry Heinzer, figures an indicated crop of corn of 2,451,110,000 bushels, which, comparing with last year's harvest is an increase of 183,600,000. The 1899 crop (as computed by the Census Bureau) showed 2,666,440,000 bushels.

The total wheat crop makes a rather less favorable showing, the Produce Exchange figures, including winter and spring wheat, falling under the June estimate by 22,000,000 bushels, but still standing 153,106,000 bushels ahead of last year's harvest returns. The indicated wheat crop has been but once exceeded, namely, by the 1901 yield of 748,460,215 bushels.

The produce market was short of butter yesterday and stocks were held firmly at the prices quoted. Very little Coast came in and was absorbed quickly; and valley creamery was inadequate to the demand, causing dealers to wire shippers to send in additional supplies.

Cantaloupes hardened under light receipts and a good buying interest. A car and a half arrived from Thermal and Indio, ponies jobbing at 1.75 to 2.00; standards 2.00 to 2.25. Watermelons were also in good request and moved freely at 1¼ to 1½ cents.

Heavy shipments of apricots arrived, and stocks were moving at 25 to 50 cents.

Peaches were jobbing at 50 to 75 cents.

Thompson's Seedless grapes were steady at 1.00.

Navel oranges and Valencias were in light supply and jobbing at 1.75 to 2.00, and 2.50 to 2.75 respectively.

SHARES AND MONEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—The narrow and professional character of today's market did not obscure the firmness of its undertone. The demand was unimportant, and centered on only a few stocks influenced by special causes, but the demand was still sufficient to absorb the scanty offerings for such stocks as enjoy anything like an ordinary degree of activity. In some of the more obscure stocks, the lethargy of the day had larger effect where any attempt was made to market stocks, which was sometimes resulting in some such cases. The moderate strength shown in a few cases, and which was the sustaining influence on the rest of the market, was due mostly to dividend rumors. Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Erie and Amalgamated Copper were all in the list. As far as the restraint upon the market was due to any apprehension of a closer money market, it was justified by immediate development, although the sub-treasury operations reflected the payments on account of government deposits recalled for Saturday last. The total of the installment called amounts to about $11,000,000 for all the national banks of the country. As a matter of fact, the government has expended since the first of July and of the new fiscal year in excess of its receipts, $12,438,158, thus more than offsetting the withdrawal from the market under the call for Saturday. Bankers also expect that the government bonds held to secure the deposits in banks and now released will promptly go into use for taking out additional circulation. Some of the proceeds of the new Japanese loan subscription also are likely to be restored to the market shortly. Applications were to be accompanied with 5 per cent., and the over subscriptions may be employed to the extent of another 5 per cent. to discount the second installment of the subscriptions due August 3. This would absorb $5,000,000 of the $10,000,000 of bonds. The excess would be returnable to the subscribers on the allotment, which was made in London today, and will be made in New York Wednesday. But it is felt that when the remaining installment is paid in October, it is likely to be remitted abroad shortly. Any prospect of a Russian indemnity loan being closed would probably disincline the Japanese government to make any more deposits in the banks of the western world for the benefit indirectly of a Russian loan flotation. Demand for time loans was good, but the supply ample. Railroad officials spoke of the increasing demand for all lines of commodities, owing to growing confidence in the grain crops, and today's weather reports were favorable. The day's occasional strong spots were not well held, and as the heat wave became aggravated, the market drifted into the doldrums and closed at small changes from last week's level. Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,415,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on call.

A WOMAN'S REVENGE.

"The fad of tracing one's ancestors back as far as possible has a firmer hold in the East than in the West," said Mortimer E. Walker of Boston. "One winter I spent some time in a certain southern city which is noted for its bluebloodedness and exclusive inhabitants. There was much jealousy in the highest social circles, as there were two factions which desired the honor of being the original grandees. Finally the leader of one faction gathered together a few friends and started a society known as the Daughters of Ferdinand de Soto.

"This was supposed to be the ultra fashionable society of the city, and one by one the aspiring matrons produced the indisputable proof that they were eligible for membership. Finally one of the younger set had the temerity to try and force an entrance into the charmed circle. She was blackballed almost unanimously.

"She determined to be revenged, and to that end did a little real investigating which was more thorough than any ancestor hunt which was ever made in that city. The result of her investigations she made public, and the result was the utter rout of the daughters. For the young woman proved beyond the question of a doubt that Ferdinand de Soto had died a bachelor." —[Milwaukee Sentinel.

SOME PARSIFAL STATISTICS.

One of the musicians in the orchestra that came back to New York with the Savage "Parsifal" company last week, made some very interesting statistics as to the amount of Wagner's opera that had been handed out to the country by this troupe. He calculated that in the 224 performances the company had given there were 672 acts, which contained 900,064 bars of music in which there were 4586 bars to every performance. The opera was sung in forty-six cities and twenty-five States, and the time occupied by performances of "Parsifal" was 189 days, or 8774 hours, or 52,640 minutes. It is probable, moreover, that this application will be as much as the country needs for some little time to come.—[New York Sun.

Ready With His Figures.

James J. Hill keeps the closest track of all details regarding the properties which he controls and this fact is known to his subordinates. While journeying on the Great Northern road some time ago, examining work that was being done on an extension, he asked the division superintendent how many ties had been cut. The superintendent did not know, but he felt that it would never do to let Mr. Hill become aware of the fact. He hesitated a moment and then boldly hazarded: "Up to this morning the count showed 78,000—78,420, the exact number, I believe." The crisis was passed, but the superintendent feared trouble was ahead. At the next station he left the car and sent this message to the division engineer who was to meet the train at a later stop: "If J. H. asks how many ties have been cut tell him 78,420." True to the suspicion of the superintendent, Mr. Hill later asked the engineer how many ties had been cut. "Seventy-eight thousand four hundred and twenty," was the ready response of the engineer, evidently a little to the surprise of Mr. Hill.—[New York Press.

Tombstone Accuses Doctor.

A Victim of Chloroform Poisoning and Shock.

The result of a doctor's negligence.

Why the inscription is there and what story there is back of it no one knows save the man who reared the monument and a few of his most intimate friends. The monument marks the grave of the wife of a prosperous York merch

A Michigan Statesman.

William Linus Stannard, who represents what is called "the iron principality" in the Michigan Assembly, is the only officeholder in that State who ran ahead of President Roosevelt. Running without opposition, he had a bigger majority than any other representative, and he is the richest man in the assembly. His district is referred to as the iron principality because of its size. Comprising the counties of Iron, Ontonagon, Baraga and Keweenaw, with the latter's island appendage of Isle Royale, it covers 3962 square miles. If Stannard lived in Isle Royale and went home from Lansing the nearest way—Chicago, Duluth, Port Arthur, Canada, and boat to the island—he could draw mileage to the tune of 2000 miles, but he pays his own way. Early in the session Stannard became the father of a fine boy. The house set forth the facts in a resolution adopted unanimously and then proceeded to insist that the baby be known as Theodore Warner Stannard, after a President, a Governor and a Representative.—[Chicago Chronicle.

BOYNTON OUT OF IT.

His Successors Chosen in Loan Associations of Which He Was President.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Fidelity Savings and Loan Association yesterday afternoon, L. J. Christopher was chosen president of the organization to succeed C. C. Boynton, removed.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Provident Mutual Building and Loan Association the same afternoon N. Bonfilio was elected president to succeed C. C. Boynton, removed.

The foregoing official announcements were made last night, respectively, by Messrs. Christopher and Bonfilio and they add another chapter to the squabble over the control of the two associations which began weeks ago with the removal of Secretary Wadleigh. By way of explanation, it was stated by the two boards of directors that these changes were made in the respective boards on account of a certain official letter written by Boynton, which was sent out to the stockholders over his official signature, which contained "inaccurate and misleading statements." It was further announced that the directors believe the changes will increase the public confidence in the associations.

The meeting of the stockholders, which had been called by the deposed president of the associations and which, it is said, was subsequently abandoned by him, will be held on Thursday, at which time the question as to who is to control will be definitely settled.

COMMITTEE WILL DECIDE.

Most recent information from Baltimore is that the selection of the next place of meeting for the national convention of Christian Endeavorers has narrowed to a choice between Los Angeles and Seattle. That this is true is apparent from the fact that a subcommittee has been appointed to visit the Coast next fall and look over the ground.

A Southern California delegate writes in the most gleeful mood of our prospects for winning the convention when the committee once comes to be shown. "We're it; we're it," he shouts.

Until everything is settled, however, pressure will be used from every source, for Seattle will make a hard fight on the score that some years ago, when the convention visited this Coast for the first time, it was held at San Francisco, and will use the argument that it would be unfair to again elect to hold it in California.

SMALL-CALIBER VICTORY.

Laundryman Declares that Union Boasting is Over Laundries that Have Always Been Totem.

"The union jawsmiths have been in great haste to herald a wonderful union victory in the laundry strike," said a well-known laundryman yesterday.

"They sent out the news that five laundries had signed the eight-hour agreement. It makes a laundryman laugh to read their rot, for three of the laundries are the Carlson hand laundry and the Modern hand laundry, each of which employs only eight or ten hands, and the Overall laundry, which employs but two or three. The other two, the Sanitary and the Magnet, are good-sized laundries, but they have always been in the union."

OPENING OF RESERVATION.

The opening to settlement of the 2,425,000 acres of land in the Uintah Indian reservation in Utah, will take place August 28 instead of September 1, as previously announced.

This is the advice received yesterday by the local offices of the Denver and Rio Grande. Individual registration for lands will begin August 1, at Grand Junction, Reno, Price and Provo, and will close on the 12th.

Drawings to determine the order in which the selection may be made will be held at Provo, August 7. The result of these drawings, numbering from 1 to 50, inclusive, must be presented at the land office at Vernal, Utah, August 28, and numbers 51 to 100 the day following, and so on. All applications must be made individually, save in the cases of honorably discharged soldiers or sailors.

The Denver and Rio Grande, which will furnish special service over its lines for the opening, has issued pamphlets describing the lands and their locations, and these pamphlets are being distributed by the agents of the company in this city.

To lock a man in a burning building and then tell him to come out and clear himself is just about as reasonable as to boycott Rainier beer without a hearing or a reason.—[Adv.

SAN DIEGO.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, July 17.—Dr. D. Griffiths, agrizologist of the United States Department of Agriculture, is in the city for the purpose of establishing a thornless cactus experimental station in San Diego. The idea is to introduce the thornless cactus in this county as a fodder for stock. He asks that he be given the use of five acres with free water for fifteen years, and says that the Agricultural Department will pay the other expenses in carrying on the experiments.

The Chamber of Commerce is taking up the matter and will probably have five acres set apart for that purpose in the city park. The offer of E. W. Scripps to donate $10,000 worth of cactus to the City Park will probably be accepted in conjunction with the experimental station.

EARLY RISERS ON THE RUN.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

TENT CITY (Coronado) July 17.—Recruits are being sought by the "Five-thirty" Club, which daily at sunrise takes a run, a swim and a walk. Membership is limited to Tent City folks under 100 years of age. Many old-timers are in the club. Among the recent recruits are Misses Kemp and Crawford of Pasadena. In fact, a plentiful sprinkling of ladies and children are found among the "Five-thirty" Club contingent. The only condition of membership is that the applicant shall participate in the regular run and swim for two mornings.

Bowling continues to hold a strong fascination and it is usually a case of wait for your turn at the alleys. The last week's contest in tenpins will end next Friday evening. The score of M. Ernsberger, 229, which is the second highest of the season, cannot count for him in the prize play because it was made at night. The high scores of yesterday afternoon were rolled by H. S. Carl and H. L. Parsons, both of whom made 201. After the tenpins game closes Friday, there will be four weeks of "four-back," after which there will probably be a period of "seven-back."

Dr. L. G. Jones now leads for the prize cup at the shooting gallery. He has a score of 64 out of a possible 65.
